EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

13TH YEAR. NO. 214. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1898. TWO CENTS

AN ACCIDENT OR TORPEDO?

Universal Question In Havan as to the Maine Explosion.

MONENTONS-INVOLVES WAR

The Battleship Was Anchored Over a Submarine Mine.

A FANATIC MIGHT HAVE DONE IT.

Nobody Thinks the Authorities Were Parties to the Crime, if Crime It Was. Nothing Certain, Except an Explosion That Lifted the Vessel, Immediately Followed by the Explosion of the Magazine on Board, Then Smoke, Fire, Blood, Screams and Drowning—Surviving Officers and Men Knew Nothing of the Cause, Except That Precautions and Discipline Precluded an Accident. Captain Sigsbee Ordered Gun Cotton Flooded, Preventing Further Disaster. Many Lives Lost—Others Wounded.

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—The warship Maine is a tangled wreck, just showing above the waters of Havana bay. Ships in the harbor and hospitals ashore are crowded with wounded American seamen, and fragments of the dead are washing about the docks. The officers of the destroyed warship walk about gloomily, and the whole city is asking: "Was it an accident?"

The disaster caused the loss of 253 lives out of a total completement of 354. Only two officers, Lieutenant Jenkins and Assistant Engineer Merritt, are among the lost.

Nobody dares to say the Maine was blown up purposely, but the city is rife with rumor. Everybody realizes that if the explosion is shown to be due to a bomb, torpedo or mine it means war. The Maine was given an anchorage over a submarine mine, at least so the undertone of military and naval gossip goes. This statement was made when the anchorage of the American battleship was changed and was generrlly credited.

It was quite natural for the Spaniards to adopt such a course and mean nothing hostile about it, unless the progress of events developed the Maine from a friendly visitor into an active foe. This course would have protected Havana if hostilities began suddenly and the Yankee opened fire. If the clouds between the nations cleared the Maine might steam away, and it would never be known that she had rested over a marked volcano.

Nobody thinks the authorities were parties to the crime, if crime there was. There are many among the Spanish officers and privates who hate America to the point of frenzy. Such a one would have had the knowledge and opportunity to explode the mine, or it might be that some imperfection of electrical arrangements might have done it accidentally.

Nothing is certain except that there was an explosion that lifted the Maine, immediately echoed by the expiosion of the magazine on board, and then smoke, fire, blood, screams and drowning.

The surviving officers and men cannot tell any more that those who saw the catastrophe from the outside, except that their knowledge of the precautions and discipline on board makes them surer that there was no accidental ignition of explosives on the ship.

One of the officers of the Maine stated that at 8 o'clock that night all the magazines on board the battleship were closed and the keys had been turned over to Captain Sigsbee, her commander.

The explosion occurred at 9:45 p. m. On board the Ward line steamer City of Washington they say there was a single shot, then the vessel heaved, searchlights were thrown on the Maine and then there was a flash, a terrible explosion and the vessel leaped forward and plunged downward. Cries for help followed, the bay was alive with swimmers and the sky rained bits of pipe, iron and other wreckage.

The explosion put out the street lights near the wharf and blew down telephone and telegraph wires in that vicinity.

Admiral Manterola and General Solano put off to the Maine soon after the explosion and offered their services to Captain Sigsbee.

The first explosion is said to have been caused by over 600 pounds of gun cotton and a second explosion is alleged to have been caused by shells and cartridges.

Lieutenant Commander Wainwright of the Maine was half undressed at 8:45 p. m. and was smoking in his cabin, next to that of Captain Sigsbee, it is said, when the explosion occurred and put ont the electric lights. Lieutenant Commander Wainwright then lit a match and went to Captain Sigsbee's room. The captain, it appears, had been thrown from his bed, but was uninjured. They both went on deck and ordered some men to flood 2,500 pounds of gun cotton which was on board. The order was carried out, but the men never returned. Havana, however, was saved from a still more terrible explosion.

Four boats were lowered, all manned by officers, and one of them was lost.

The lifesaving then commenced. Boats from the Washington and Spanish cruiser Alphonso XIII helped the Maine's boats save those of the crew not dead. The survivors were carried aboard the Washington and the Spanish cruiser and later taken to the military hospitals.

Not an officer, it is reported, lost his head or man failed to obey orders.

Captain Sigsbee remained about the Maine giving orders, while the vessel settled.

The explosion frightened the sharks away or many of the swimmers would likely have been mutilated.

A couple of men swam all the way to the Machina wharf. They reported that they had been blown overboard by the explosion. Thirty-six had been taken on board the City of Washington, 25 on the Alphonso XIII, 2 on the Colon and some others had swam ashore. Thirty-six of the wounded are being cared for at the military hospital of San Ambrosia and five are at the Alphonso XIII hospital.

Though the wounds of nearly all are quite serious, and ten will probably lose limbs, the doctors think only four of the injured men will die.

In all 101 survive. Twenty-four of these are officers. Of the 59 sailors only 18 are uninjured. When the wounded had been taken care of Captain Sigsbee went on board the Spanish cruiser Alphonso XIII to thank her people for what they had done. Then he went to the City of Washington, where he met Consul General Lee.

It was a melancholy group. Captain Sigsbee shook hands with the consul general. Neither of them dared speak for several minutes.

"God knows how it happened," said the captain at last. The others fell away from Lee and Sigsbee, and nobody knows what they said during their long, whispered conference.

Ostensibly, at least, the Spanish authorities are vigorously investigating the disaster. Of course, the government officers are a unit in declaring it was an accidental explosion aboard ship.

SPAIN NOW THE STRONGEST

Naval Officers Consult and It Is Demonstrated That the Balance of Naval Power Was Thrown to Spain by the Destruction of the Maine.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretary Long and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt called a consultation of all of the chiefs of the navy department and several of the officers of high rank not directly attached, like Commodore Schley, president of the lighthouse board, who has a brilliant reputation as a gallant officer and is possessed of great discretion.

The purpose of these consultations was to secure the best expert testimony as to the probable cause of the disaster, while at the same time to ascertain the extent the naval situation has been effected by the loss of the Maine. A good deal of disquiet was exhibited when it was shown that the loss of this fine battleship had done a good deal to destroy the balance of power theoretically between the navies of Spain and that of the United States, now left only six serviceable ironclads as against seven in the Spanish fleet.

Every confidence is felt at the department in the commander of the Maine, Captain Sigsbee, and, until it is really established otherwise, there is every disposition to charge the accident, if accident it was that destroyed the Maine, to some cause beyond the usual range of human discretion.

A SHIPBUILDER'S OPINION.

Gives Theories, Yet Sigsbee's Attitude Indicates an Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Irving M. Scott, vice president and general manager of the Union iron works of this city, which built the battleship Oregon, upon learning of the loss of the Maine, said: "There are several conditions which may have occurred, any of which might account for the destruction of the vessel. For instance, fire in the coal bunkers where they abutted against the magazine might have heated the partitions sufficiently to explode the powder in the magazine. That the explosion was not in the boilerroom is evident, for the ship was at rest and all her steaming capacity was therefore under full control.

"It might have occurred in the forward torpedo tug compartment. That would readily account for the sinking of the vessel. A torpedo fastened underneath her bottom might have caused the same results, and while it is natural, under the existing condition of affairs between this country and Spain, that some enthusiastic Spaniard, out of spite, may have occasioned it or that some equally enthusiastic rebel, with an idea of aggravating the relations between Spain and America, might have done it, yet the very meger reports so far received and the specific request of her commander that judgment be suspended indicate that the calamity was due to some utter unforseen accident on board the ship herself."

SORROW IN HAVANA.

The Spaniards Show a Proper Spirit of Respect Over the Disaster.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The following cablegram has been received by the state department from Consul General Lee, dated Havana:

"Profound sorrow expressed by government and municipal authorities, consuls of foreign nations, organized bodies of all sorts and citizens generally.

"Flags at halfmast on governor general's palace, on shipping in harbor and in city.

"Business suspended, theaters closed.

"Dead number about 260.

"Officers' quarters being in rear and seamen's forward where explosion took place accounts for greater proportional loss of sailors.

"Funeral today at 3 p. m.

"Officers Merritt and Jenkins still missing.

"Suppose you ask that naval court of inquiry be held to ascertain cause of explosion.

"Hope our people will repress excitement and calmly await decision."

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—Captain Sigsbee, on being interviewed by a correspondent with reference to the cause of the explosion, said:

"I cannot determine the cause, but competent investigators will decide whether the explosion was produced from an interior or exterior cause. I cannot say anything until after such an investigation has been made. I will not and cannot conscientiously anticipate the decision nor do I wish to make any unjust estimate of the reason for the disaster."

SHERIFF SHOT HIS MAN.

Another Striker Says He Saw Martin Fire and a Man Fall.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 17.—When court opeded in the trial of the deputies for shooting the marching miners, Frank Meteshick told of the march to Lattimer. He said he saw Sheriff Martin aim his revolver at a man a few feet n front of him and fire. The man fell. The next moment there was another shot and then a volley. Witness pointed out a number of deputies he saw at Lattimer with guns in their hands.

Under cross-examination witness said he did not know the man who was shot, but thought he could remember his face. A search was then made for the man witness saw fall. Mike Mullado, who is said to have been the man, was produced, but witness failed to recognize him as the man.

Martin Solforonock reviewed the march and said the sheriff pulled two men from the miners' ranks at Lattimer and shot one. Witness was shot in the left shoulder while running away.

John Fari said he saw Steve Winde and Mike Cozlak fall when the shooting commenced. Witness ran away. Subsequently when he returned and was looking, a deputy named Frank Clark kicked witness and turned him over to the deputies.

Joel Smith, brother of the proprietor of the Valley hotel at Hazleton, corroborated Strauss' story relative to Deputy John Turner's remark. He heard Turner say "I shot nine and killed five, and I guess I did my duty."

The last witness was Frank Fordish, the man who was shot seven times and is alive to tell about it. He took off his shirt to show the five wounds in his back. One had passed through his arm, another through his shoulder and the others were embedded in his body. The cross-examination by Mr. Palmer brought out nothing new and was very brief. The prosecuting committee stated that an appeal for money to carry on the trial will be made today. Much money is needed.

HINTED AT COMING TROUBLE.

General Pellieux Created a Sensation In Testifying at the Zola Trial.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—The palace of justice on the ninth day of the trial of M. Emile Zola and Perreux was crowded as usual.

The presiding judge rejected M. Clemenceau's request that he appoint a magistrate to question Madame De Boulancey regarding the letters she has from Major Esterhazy.

General Pellieux, who conducted the investigation into the charges brought against Major Esterhazy, created a sensation by protesting against the acceptance of the evidence of "amateur experts who have not seen the original borderau," adding that he also desired to raise his voice "in the most emphatic manner against slanders which are calculated to destroy confidence in the heads of the army at a time when danger is perhaps nearer than people believe."

This statement of the general had a marked effect in court.

Followed His Sister In Death.

BLANCHESTER, O., Feb. 17.—Lafayette Baldwin, aged 70, the wealthiest citizen of this place, died at the hour set for the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Crandall.

The Weather.

Generally fair; warmer this evening.

SUSPICIOUS, YET CALM.

Explosion Investigation Being Awaited by Officials.

SUNKEN HULL TO BE EXAMINED.

By This Means It Will Be Known Whether a Spanish Torpedo Destroyed the Battleship Maine—A Number of Theories Advanced.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—After a period of intense excitement at the navy department and elsewhere growing out of the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, the situation, after the exchange of a number of cablegrams between Washington and Havana, can be summed up in the words of Secretary Long, when asked whether he had reason to suspect that the disaster was the work of an enemy, replied:

"I do not. In that I am influenced by the fact that Captain Sigsbee has not yet reported to the navy department on the cause. He is evidently waiting to write a full report. So long as he does not express himself I certainly cannot. I should think from the indications, however, that there was an accident—that the magazine exploded.

The appalling nature of the disaster and the gravity of the situation that would arise should investigation give a basis for the undercurrent of suspicion of treachery and foul play that ran through all minds, had a sobering effect on public men of all shades of public opinion. The fact stands forth and is little less than remarkable that not a single resolution was introduced or a single speech made in either house of congress, save one of condolence with the families of the killed, offered by Mr. Boutelle, and adopted by the house of representatives. Public men expressed their opinions with reserve when approached for interviews, but everywhere there was a demand for an investigation and full details in the light of which the horror may be justly viewed.

Secretary Long undoubtedly summarized the general opinion of the majority of the naval experts in finding it impossible just now to state the cause of the destruction of the Maine. There are a great number of theories, but most of them are of a character that makes it easy to prove or upset them by a single investigation by a diver. Secretary Long has taken immediate steps to make this investigation. He telegraphed to Admiral Sicard at Key West to appoint a board of naval officers to proceed at once to Havana, employ divers and generally to make such inquiry as the regulations of the navy demand shall be made in the case of the loss of a ship.

It is expected that this work will take some time, and, while there are officers who say that in their opinion it will not be possible, owing to the probably disrupted condition of the hull of the ship to make out the cause of the explosion, the opinion of the majority is that the question will be easily settled by the simple observation of the condition of the ship's hull plates in the neighborhood of the hole which sunk her, whether or not they are bulged out, as would be the case if the explosion came from the inside, or whether they were driven in, as would result from the attack of a torpedo or the explosion of a mine beneath the ship.

The large majority of naval officers are inclined to the belief that the explosion resulted from spontaneous combustion of a coal bunker; the overheating of the iron partitions between the boilers and the magazine, or from the explosion of a boiler, though the last theory finds little support. The lists of survivors that came to the navy department in answer to telegrams was inaccurate and made out the loss of life eight more than the summary originally given by Captain Sigsbee in an earlier telegram, so Secretary Long telegraphed for another corrected list, and also one that should show who were and who were not wounded of the survivors.

It was found necessary to do this owing to the great number of pitiful appeals for information as to the safety of some unfortunate on the Maine that came from all parts of the country.

The naval constructors, in the light of the dispatches thus far received, say that it is by no means certain that the Maine cannot be raised again and carry the flag. They say that while she is a big ship, others as large have been raised, and at Havana the new floating drydock would receive her if she could once be gotten above the water.

Captain Sigsbee evidently is taking an interest in the future of the ship, for he sent a telegram to Commander Forsythe at Key West that was promptly transmitted to Secretary Long suggesting that a lighthouse vessel or some such small craft be stationed in Havana harbor to watch over the wreck. The latter contains valuable ordnance and other property that doubtless can be secured by divers.

It is said at the navy department that this disaster is the greatest of the kind in naval history since the sinking of the big British warship Victoria by collision with the Camperdown, in the Mediterranean, off Malta, June, 1893. By that accident the British admiral commanding, 22 officers and 336 men, lost their lives.

The Spanish legation was early advised of the horror by Captain General Blanco, who expressed his profound regret and added that the occurrence was a chance accident, the undoubted cause being an explosion of the boiler of the dynamo. This was the only specific cause assigned from an official source during the day.

M. Du Bosc, the Spanish charge, called at the state department to express his profound regret, and the entire Spanish staff left their cards at the navy department as a mark of personal condolence. At all of the foreign establishments there was the deepest interest and solicitude over the affair, and during the day Ambassador Cambon of France, Sir Julian Pauncefote of the British embassy and other foreign representatives called on the president or at the state department to express their regrets.

The disaster is remarkable in that only two officers lost their lives and these were of junior grades. They were Lieutentant Friend W. Jenkins of Allegheny City and Assistant Engineer Darwin R. Merritt of Iowa. The former was unmarried and leaves a mother and sister. The latter, it is thought also was unmarried, but the department was unadvised concerning his family.

Out of 354, the total number of the crew of the Maine, 96 were saved.

The president has ordered that today and until further notice the flag at the navyyards and on all naval vessels, at posts, army headquarters and on all public building shall be halfmasted.

The following dispatch from Captain Sigsbee, at Havana, addressed to Secretary Long, was received:

"All men whose names have not been sent as saved probably are lost. Have given up Jenkins and Merritt as lost. Bodies are still floating ashore this afternoon. I keep nine officers, one private and Gunners Mate Bullock here with me."

A dispatch from Captain Philip of the Texas, now at Galveston, states that the drafts of 21 apprentices which they carried from New York for the Maine, are still on board the Texas.

White House receptions for last night and tonight were suspended owing to the disaster.

Senator Morgan, in an interview, said he would not venture an opinion, in face of doubt as to the cause of the explosion. He favored building two ships in place of the Maine. Said he:

"Action of that kind by us would indicate to the world that whenever or wherever one of our tenacles was cut off, two would at once grow in its place. It seems almost out of the question that it was the result of an accident."

Senator Perkins of California, who has been a navigator all his life and knows thoroughly every detail in the construction and handling of great ships, said:

"I cannot conceive that such an explosion as that which is reported to have wrecked the Maine could have resulted from an accident. The chances, it seems to me, are 999 to 1,000 that the calamity did not result from accident."

The senator described how hard it was for an accident to occur.

Senator Mills, of the committee on foreign relations, expressed the opinion that the occurrence was the work of a torpedo. "I would not say," he said, "that the Spanish were responsible for it."

Representative Newlands of Nevada, member of the committee on foreign affairs, said it would be very hard to convince the American people that the plosion was an accident.

Mr. Cummings of New York, a member of the naval committee, unhesitatingly gave it as his opinion that the ship had been blown up by a floating torpedo.

DESTROYED BY A TORPEDO.

Opinion Expressed by Rear Admiral Belknap on the Explosion.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Rear Admiral George Belknap, U. S. N., retired, said that he was inclined to think that the Maine was blown up by a torpedo.

"I do not see," he said, "how an explosion of the forward magazine could have occurred. The keys of the magazines are always kept in the custody of the captain. All the ammunition is carefully cased, mostly in the form of projectiles, and their explosion by themselves is next to impossible. If, as the dispatches state, the whole bow of the ship was blown off, it is apparent that the explosion could not have been caused by the boilers or the coal getting heated. I do not see how it could have occurred from the paintroom, as every precaution is taken to prevent the collection of explosive gases in the paintroom, and if such an explosion occurred, it would have been more likely to have caused a fire than destroy the ship."

Rear Admiral Belknap said it was a very significant thing that the Maine should have blown up in that particular harbor at this particular time. In the absence of information as to the cause of the explosion, he thought that was the most significant indication in the whole matter.

Goshorn Found Not Guilty.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 17.—Arguments in the case of the state against ex-County Clerk J. W. Goshorn, charged with stealing certain papers from the county clerk's office, were completed and the case submitted to the jury. After being out only ten minutes the jury retured a verdict of not guilty.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

13TH YEAR. NO. 214. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1898. TWO CENTS

AN ACCIDENT OR TORPEDO?

Universal Question In Havan as to the Maine Explosion.

MONENTONS-INVOLVES WAR

The Battleship Was Anchored Over a Submarine Mine.

A FANATIC MIGHT HAVE DONE IT.

Nobody Thinks the Authorities Were Parties to the Crime, if Crime It Was. Nothing Certain, Except an Explosion That Lifted the Vessel, Immediately Followed by the Explosion of the Magazine on Board, Then Smoke, Fire, Blood, Screams and Drowning—Surviving Officers and Men Knew Nothing of the Cause, Except That Precautions and Discipline Precluded an Accident. Captain Sigsbee Ordered Gun Cotton Flooded, Preventing Further Disaster. Many Lives Lost—Others Wounded.

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—The warship Maine is a tangled wreck, just showing above the waters of Havana bay. Ships in the harbor and hospitals ashore are crowded with wounded American seamen, and fragments of the dead are washing about the docks. The officers of the destroyed warship walk about gloomily, and the whole city is asking: "Was it an accident?"

The disaster caused the loss of 253 lives out of a total completement of 354. Only two officers, Lieutenant Jenkins and Assistant Engineer Merritt, are among the lost.

Nobody dares to say the Maine was blown up purposely, but the city is rife with rumor. Everybody realizes that if the explosion is shown to be due to a bomb, torpedo or mine it means war. The Maine was given an anchorage over a submarine mine, at least so the undertone of military and naval gossip goes. This statement was made when the anchorage of the American battleship was changed and was generrlly credited.

It was quite natural for the Spaniards to adopt such a course and mean nothing hostile about it, unless the progress of events developed the Maine from a friendly visitor into an active foe. This course would have protected Havana if hostilities began suddenly and the Yankee opened fire. If the clouds between the nations cleared the Maine might steam away, and it would never be known that she had rested over a marked volcano.

Nobody thinks the authorities were parties to the crime, if crime there was. There are many among the Spanish officers and privates who hate America to the point of frenzy. Such a one would have had the knowledge and opportunity to explode the mine, or it might be that some imperfection of electrical arrangements might have done it accidentally.

Nothing is certain except that there was an explosion that lifted the Maine, immediately echoed by the expiosion of the magazine on board, and then smoke, fire, blood, screams and drowning.

The surviving officers and men cannot tell any more that those who saw the catastrophe from the outside, except that their knowledge of the precautions and discipline on board makes them surer that there was no accidental ignition of explosives on the ship.

One of the officers of the Maine stated that at 8 o'clock that night all the magazines on board the battleship were closed and the keys had been turned over to Captain Sigsbee, her commander.

The explosion occurred at 9:45 p. m.

On board the Ward line steamer City of Washington they say there was a single shot, then the vessel heaved, searchlights were thrown on the Maine and then there was a flash, a terrible explosion and the vessel leaped forward and plunged downward. Cries for help followed, the bay was alive with swimmers and the sky rained bits of pipe, iron and other wreckage.

The explosion put out the street lights near the wharf and blew down telephone and telegraph wires in that vicinity.

Admiral Manterola and General Solano put off to the Maine soon after the explosion and offered their services to Captain Sigsbee.

The first explosion is said to have been caused by over 600 pounds of gun cotton and a second explosion is alleged to have been caused by shells and cartridges.

Lieutenant Commander Wainwright of the Maine was half undressed at 8:45 p. m. and was smoking in his cabin, next to that of Captain Sigsbee, it is said, when the explosion occurred and put out the electric lights. Lieutenant Commander Wainwright then lit a match and went to Captain Sigsbee's room. The captain, it appears, had been thrown from his bed, but was uninjured. They both went on deck and ordered some men to flood 2,500 pounds of gun cotton which was on board. The order was carried out, but the men never returned. Havana, however, was saved from a still more terrible explosion.

Four boats were lowered, all manned by officers, and one of them was lost.

The lifesaving then commenced. Boats from the Washington and Spanish cruiser Alphonso XIII helped the Maine's boats save those of the crew not dead. The survivors were carried aboard the Washington and the Spanish cruiser and later taken to the military hospitals.

Not an officer, it is reported, lost his head or man failed to obey orders.

Captain Sigsbee remained about the Maine giving orders, while the vessel settled.

The explosion frightened the sharks away or many of the swimmers would likely have been mutilated.

A couple of men swam all the way to the Machina wharf. They reported that they had been blown overboard by the explosion. Thirty-six had been taken on board the City of Washington, 25 on the Alphonso XIII, 2 on the Colon and some others had swam ashore. Thirty-six of the wounded are being cared for at the military hospital of San Ambrosia and five are at the Alphonso XIII hospital.

Though the wounds of nearly all are quite serious, and ten will probably lose limbs, the doctors think only four of the injured men will die.

In all 101 survive. Twenty-four of these are officers. Of the 59 sailors only 18 are uninjured. When the wounded had been taken care of Captain Sigsbee went on board the Spanish cruiser Alphonso XIII to thank her people for what they had done. Then he went to the City of Washington, where he met Consul General Lee.

It was a melancholy group. Captain Sigsbee shook hands with the consul general. Neither of them dared speak for several minutes.

"God knows how it happened," said the captain at last. The others fell away from Lee and Sigsbee, and nobody knows what they said during their long, whispered conference.

Ostensibly, at least, the Spanish authorities are vigorously investigating the disaster. Of course, the government officers are a unit in declaring it was an accidental explosion aboard ship.

SPAIN NOW THE STRONGEST

Naval Officers Consult and It Is Demonstrated That the Balance of Naval Power Was Thrown to Spain by the Destruction of the Maine.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretary Long and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt called a consultation of all of the chiefs of the navy department and several of the officers of high rank not directly attached, like Commodore Schley, president of the lighthouse board, who has a brilliant reputation as a gallant officer and is possessed of great discretion.

The purpose of these consultations was to secure the best expert testimony as to the probable cause of the disaster, while at the same time to ascertain the extent the naval situation has been effected by the loss of the Maine. A good deal of disquiet was exhibited when it was shown that the loss of this fine battleship had done a good deal to destroy the balance of power theoretically between the navies of Spain and that of the United States, now left only six serviceable ironclads as against seven in the Spanish fleet.

Every confidence is felt at the department in the commander of the Maine, Captain Sigsbee, and, until it is really established otherwise, there is every disposition to charge the accident, if accident it was that destroyed the Maine, to some cause beyond the usual range of human discretion.

A SHIPBUILDER'S OPINION.

Gives Theories, Yet Sigsbee's Attitude Indicates an Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Irving M. Scott, vice president and general manager of the Union iron works of this city, which built the battleship Oregon, upon learning of the loss of the Maine, said: "There are several conditions which may have occurred, any of which might account for the destruction of the vessel. For instance, fire in the coal bunkers where they abutted against the magazine might have heated the partitions sufficiently to explode the powder in the magazine. That the explosion was not in the boilerroom is evident, for the ship was at rest and all her steaming capacity was therefore under full control.

"It might have occurred in the forward torpedo tug compartment. That would readily account for the sinking of the vessel. A torpedo fastened underneath her bottom might have caused the same results, and while it is natural, under the existing condition of affairs between this country and Spain, that some enthusiastic Spaniard, out of spite, may have occasioned it or that some equally enthusiastic rebel, with an idea of aggravating the relations between Spain and America, might have done it, yet the very meger reports so far received and the specific request of her commander that judgment be suspended indicate that the calamity was due to some utter unforseen accident on board the ship herself."

SORROW IN HAVANA.

The Spaniards Show a Proper Spirit of Respect Over the Disaster.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The following cablegram has been received by the state department from Consul General Lee, dated Havana:

"Profound sorrow expressed by government and municipal authorities, consuls of foreign nations, organized bodies of all sorts and citizens generally.

"Flags at halfmast on governor general's palace, on shipping in harbor and in city.

"Business suspended, theaters closed.

"Dead number about 260.

"Officers' quarters being in rear and seamen's forward where explosion took place accounts for greater proportional loss of sailors.

"Funeral today at 3 p. m.

"Officers Merritt and Jenkins still missing.

"Suppose you ask that naval court of inquiry be held to ascertain cause of explosion.

"Hope our people will repress excitement and calmly await decision."

HAVANA, Feb. 17.—Captain Sigsbee, on being interviewed by a correspondent with reference to the cause of the explosion, said:

"I cannot determine the cause, but competent investigators will decide whether the explosion was produced from an interior or exterior cause. I cannot say anything until after such an investigation has been made. I will not and cannot conscientiously anticipate the decision nor do I wish to make any unjust estimate of the reason for the disaster."

SHERIFF SHOT HIS MAN.

Another Striker Says He Saw Martin Fire and a Man Fall.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 17.—When court opeded in the trial of the deputies for shooting the marching miners, Frank Meteshick told of the march to Lattimer. He said he saw Sheriff Martin aim his revolver at a man a few feet n front of him and fire. The man fell. The next moment there was another shot and then a volley. Witness pointed out a number of deputies he saw at Lattimer with guns in their hands.

Under cross-examination witness said he did not know the man who was shot, but thought he could remember his face. A search was then made for the man witness saw fall. Mike Mullado, who is said to have been the man, was produced, but witness failed to recognize him as the man.

Martin Solforonock reviewed the march and said the sheriff pulled two men from the miners' ranks at Lattimer and shot one. Witness was shot in the left shoulder while running away.

John Fari said he saw Steve Winde and Mike Cozlak fall when the shooting commenced. Witness ran away. Subsequently when he returned and was looking, a deputy named Frank Clark kicked witness and turned him over to the deputies.

Joel Smith, brother of the proprietor of the Valley hotel at Hazleton, corroborated Strauss' story relative to Deputy John Turner's remark. He heard Turner say "I shot nine and killed five, and I guess I did my duty."

The last witness was Frank Fordish, the man who was shot seven times and is alive to tell about it. He took off his shirt to show the five wounds in his back. One had passed through his arm, another through his shoulder and the others were embedded in his body. The cross-examination by Mr. Palmer brought out nothing new and was very brief. The prosecuting committee stated that an appeal for money to carry on the trial will be made today. Much money is needed.

HINTED AT COMING TROUBLE.

General Pellieux Created a Sensation In Testifying at the Zola Trial.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—The palace of justice on the ninth day of the trial of M. Emile Zola and Perreux was crowded as usual.

The presiding judge rejected M. Clemenceau's request that he appoint a magistrate to question Madame De Boulancey regarding the letters she has from Major Esterhazy.

General Pellieux, who conducted the investigation into the charges brought against Major Esterhazy, created a sensation by protesting against the acceptance of the evidence of "amateur experts who have not seen the original borderau," adding that he also desired to raise his voice "in the most emphatic manner against slanders which are calculated to destroy confidence in the heads of the army at a time when danger is perhaps nearer than people believe."

This statement of the general had a marked effect in court.

Followed His Sister In Death.

BLANCHESTER, O., Feb. 17.—Lafayette Baldwin, aged 70, the wealthiest citizen of this place, died at the hour set for the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Crandall.

The Weather.

Generally fair; warmer this evening.

SUSPICIOUS, YET CALM.

Explosion Investigation Being Awaited by Officials.

SUNKEN HULL TO BE EXAMINED.

By This Means It Will Be Known Whether a Spanish Torpedo Destroyed the Battleship Maine—A Number of Theories Advanced.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—After a period of intense excitement at the navy department and elsewhere growing out of the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, the situation, after the exchange of a number of cablegrams between Washington and Havana, can be summed up in the words of Secretary Long, when asked whether he had reason to suspect that the disaster was the work of an enemy, replied:

"I do not. In that I am influenced by the fact that Captain Sigsbee has not yet reported to the navy department on the cause. He is evidently waiting to write a full report. So long as he does not express himself I certainly cannot. I should think from the indications, however, that there was an accident—that the magazine exploded.

The appalling nature of the disaster and the gravity of the situation that would arise should investigation give a basis for the undercurrent of suspicion of treachery and foul play that ran through all minds, had a sobering effect on public men of all shades of public opinion. The fact stands forth and is little less than remarkable that not a single resolution was introduced or a single speech made in either house of congress, save one of condolence with the families of the killed, offered by Mr. Boutelle, and adopted by the house of representatives. Public men expressed their opinions with reserve when approached for interviews, but everywhere there was a demand for an investigation and full details in the light of which the horror may be justly viewed.

Secretary Long undoubtedly summarized the general opinion of the majority of the naval experts in finding it impossible just now to state the cause of the destruction of the Maine. There are a great number of theories, but most of them are of a character that makes it easy to prove or upset them by a single investigation by a diver. Secretary Long has taken immediate steps to make this investigation. He telegraphed to Admiral Sicard at Key West to appoint a board of naval officers to proceed at once to Havana, employ divers and generally to make such inquiry as the regulations of the navy demand shall be made in the case of the loss of a ship.

It is expected that this work will take some time, and, while there are officers who say that in their opinion it will not be possible, owing to the probably disrupted condition of the hull of the ship to make out the cause of the explosion, the opinion of the majority is that the question will be easily settled by the simple observation of the condition of the ship's hull plates in the neighborhood of the hole which sunk her, whether or not they are bulged out, as would be the case if the explosion came from the inside, or whether they were driven in, as would result from the attack of a torpedo or the explosion of a mine beneath the ship.

The large majority of naval officers are inclined to the belief that the explosion resulted from spontaneous combustion of a coal bunker; the overheating of the iron partitions between the boilers and the magazine, or from the explosion of a boiler, though the last theory finds little support. The lists of survivors that came to the navy department in answer to telegrams was inaccurate and made out the loss of life eight more than the summary originally given by Captain Sigsbee in an earlier telegram, so Secretary Long telegraphed for another corrected list, and also one that should show who were and who were not wounded of the survivors.

It was found necessary to do this owing to the great number of pitiful appeals for information as to the safety of some unfortunate on the Maine that came from all parts of the country.

The naval constructors, in the light of the dispatches thus far received, say that it is by no means certain that the Maine cannot be raised again and carry the flag. They say that while she is a big ship, others as large have been raised, and at Havana the new floating drydock would receive her if she could once be gotten above the water.

Captain Sigsbee evidently is taking an interest in the future of the ship, for he sent a telegram to Commander Forsythe at Key West that was promptly transmitted to Secretary Long suggesting that a lighthouse vessel or some such small craft be stationed in Havana harbor to watch over the wreck. The latter contains valuable ordnance and other property that doubtless can be secured by divers.

It is said at the navy department that this disaster is the greatest of the kind in naval history since the sinking of the big British warship Victoria by collision with the Camperdown, in the Mediterranean, off Malta, June, 1893. By that accident the British admiral commanding, 22 officers and 356 men, lost their lives.

The Spanish legation was early advised of the horror by Captain General Blanco, who expressed his profound regret and added that the occurrence was a chance accident, the undoubted cause being an explosion of the boiler of the dynamo. This was the only specific cause assigned from an official source during the day.

M. Du Bosc, the Spanish charge, called at the state department to express his profound regret, and the entire Spanish staff left their cards at the navy department as a mark of personal condolence. At all of the foreign establishments there was the deepest interest and solicitude over the affair, and during the day Ambassador Cambon of France, Sir Julian Pauncefote of the British embassy and other foreign representatives called on the president or at the state department to express their regrets.

The disaster is remarkable in that only two officers lost their lives and these were of junior grades. They were Lieutentant Friend W. Jenkins of Allegheny City and Assistant Engineer Darwin R. Merritt of Iowa. The former was unmarried and leaves a mother and sister. The latter, it is thought also was unmarried, but the department was unadvised concerning his family.

Out of 354, the total number of the crew of the Maine, 96 were saved.

The president has ordered that today and until further notice the flag at the navyyards and on all naval vessels, at posts, army headquarters and on all public building shall be halfmasted.

The following dispatch from Captain Sigsbee, at Havana, addressed to Secretary Long, was received:

"All men whose names have not been sent as saved probably are lost. Have given up Jenkins and Merritt as lost. Bodies are still floating ashore this afternoon. I keep nine officers, one private and Gunners Mate Bullock here with me."

A dispatch from Captain Philip of the Texas, now at Galveston, states that the drafts of 21 apprentices which they carried from New York for the Maine, are still on board the Texas.

White House receptions for last night and tonight were suspended owing to the disaster.

Senator Morgan, in an interview, said he would not venture an opinion, in face of doubt as to the cause of the explosion. He favored building two ships in place of the Maine. Said he:

"Action of that kind by us would indicate to the world that whenever or wherever one of our tenacles was cut off, two would at once grow in its place. It seems almost out of the question that it was the result of an accident."

Senator Perkins of California, who has been a navigator all his life and knows thoroughly every detail in the construction and handling of great ships, said:

"I cannot conceive that such an explosion as that which is reported to have wrecked the Maine could have resulted from an accident. The chances, it seems to me, are 999 to 1,000 that the calamity did not result from accident."

The senator described how hard it was for an accident to occur.

Senator Mills, of the committee on foreign relations, expressed the opinion that the occurrence was the work of a torpedo. "I would not say," he said, "that the Spanish were responsible for it."

Representative Newlands of Nevada, member of the committee on foreign affairs, said it would be very hard to convince the American people that the plosion was an accident.

Mr. Cummings of New York, a member of the naval committee, unhesitatingly gave it as his opinion that the ship had been blown up by a floating torpedo.

DESTROYED BY A TORPEDO.

Opinion Expressed by Rear Admiral Belknap on the Explosion.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Rear Admiral George Belknap, U. S. N., retired, said that he was inclined to think that the Maine was blown up by a torpedo.

"I do not see," he said, "how an explosion of the forward magazine could have occurred. The keys of the magazines are always kept in the custody of the captain. All the ammunition is carefully cased, mostly in the form of projectiles, and their explosion by themselves is next to impossible. If, as the dispatches state, the whole bow of the ship was blown off, it is apparent that the explosion could not have been caused by the boilers or the coal getting heated. I do not see how it could have occurred from the paintroom, as every precaution is taken to prevent the collection of explosive gases in the paintroom, and if such an explosion occurred, it would have been more likely to have caused a fire than destroy the ship."

Rear Admiral Belknap said it was a very significant thing that the Maine should have blown up in that particular harbor at this particular time. In the absence of information as to the cause of the explosion, he thought that was the most significant indication in the whole matter.

Goshorn Found Not Guilty.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 17.—Arguments in the case of the state against ex-County Clerk J. W. Goshorn, charged with stealing certain papers from the county clerk's office, were completed and the case submitted to the jury. After being out only ten minutes the jury retured a verdict of not guilty.

MORE HOUSES NEEDED

Not Enough to Supply the Growing Demand.

PEOPLE LIVE IN ONE ROOM

Because They Are Unable to Secure Better Places of Abode—Observations of a Real Estate Man Who Thinks the Subject Should Be Seriously Considered.

The men with money who will erect a number of dwelling houses within a reasonable distance of the center of the city will reap a rich reward, not alone in shining dollars, but in fervent blessings from those people who desire to live in Liverpool, but are just now unable to find a place to lay their heads.

"The matter has become one of public concern," said a prominent real estate man to the NEWS REVIEW. "It should receive attention from men who have money and are looking for good investment. My experience during the past few weeks has been nothing short of wonderful. Not a day has passed without a number of people calling at my office and inquiring for houses. They are willing to pay the rents asked, high though they are, but I am compelled to turn them away. I have no houses. Everything in town is rented. If a man announces that he is going to leave the city, or that he has secured another house, the word is passed aronnd as a great piece of news, and from the hour the discovery is made that he will move he is burdened with applications. I know these things to be true because I have run across a number of cases of that kind. Others have learned from experience, and now the wise man says nothing of his intentions.

"I firmly believe that if there were 50 vacant houses in town today every one of them would be rented at a good figure within a day after the fact was made known. A great many people have gone to Wellsville because they could get no houses here. The majority of them would return to Liverpool if they could find houses. Now they have to pay street car fare, and are compelled to get up much earlier every morning. There are other inconveniences which they do not relish. There has not been a week for months when people have not gone to live in Wellsville simply because they could find no houses here. It is cheaper to live there, but when car fare and the inconveniences are considered, the people would in reality make money if they could reside near their work. I think the subject has taken on sufficient seriousness to receive the most careful attention."

The gentleman spoke with knowledge and understanding, and those who have followed the matter during the past few months know that he told the truth. Every house in every street and alley in the town is occupied. In some places families of four and five persons are living in one room because they cannot find better quarters. People who have been accustomed to much better places of abode have been compelled to be content with a few rooms, and be glad they were not situated like their neighbors. Rents are also a consideration, and the scarcity of houses has forced rates to a point higher than they ever were before in this place. There is a veritable famine, and unless more houses for renting purposes are not soon built the result will be difficult to prophesy.

The condition is brought about by the reports that have been sent out over the country regarding the condition of affairs in this place. The pottery boom last fall set the ball to rolling, and it was given additional speed by the announcement that the Banfield mill and a lot of other industries would be established in this vicinity at once. People anxious to reside in a manufacturing district came here by the dozen. Some obtained employment, and some were not so fortunate, but all had to be provided with places of abode.

There is no doubt that the city is on the high road to prosperity. It is growing rapidly. Every month will add to its population. A great many houses will be built next spring, but the kind of house needed to meet the demand of the present is the comfortable cottage that will rent for a sum sufficient to allow the owner a reasonable return on the investment and not prove a hardship to the occupant who pays the rent. They will be built sooner or later, and the man who is first in the field is the one who will derive the most benefit.

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke, in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

Brght and spicy—the NEWS REVIEW!

FISH WITH POINTED EARS.

A Large School Found Off the North Shore of Lake Superior.

Up on the north shore of Lake Superior a few miles from Duluth is a little settlement of fishermen who have begun their winter's work earlier than usual. This is on account of the presence in the bay of a large school of peculiar fish such as have never been taken in Lake Superior before so far as known. The fish vary in length from two to seven feet and are delicious eating.

Instead of having scales, like ordinary fish, the newcomers resemble to a certain extent the catfish, a tough brown skin covering them from head to tail. On the head are small ears, pointed and movable at the will of the owner. The tail, instead of being forked like that of the common fish is long and flat like that of a beaver or muskrat, and with this the fish is capable of striking a severe blow. One of the fishermen got one of the largest yet caught on his hook the other day, and then followed a battle royal. The fish was a gamy fellow, acting much as would a big black bass. It was 9 o'clock in the morning when he was hooked and after 2 o'clock in the afternoon when he was finally landed. The fisherman was asleep in his little house over the hole in the ice, with the line tied around his arm, when the fish took the hook and pulled the sleeping man off his chair and down to the hole.

So great was the force exerted by the fish that the man's arm was drawn down close to the ice, across the hole, the heavy line cutting almost through the heavy jacket. Struggle as he would, the fisherman could not free himself, and soon he was in real danger. At last he called loudly for help. His cries were heard by a man in a near by shanty, who came to the rescue. The hole in the ice was enlarged, and after a five hour struggle the fish was landed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"MARTHA WASHINGTON."

Her Home Life and Habits Were as Regular as Clockwork.

A homelike picture of Mrs. Washington and her favorite granddaughter is given by Mrs. James Gibson, who frequently visited her when as president's wife she resided in Philadelphia, then the capital of the United States. Mrs. Gibson's language is quoted by Miss Wharton in her "Martha Washington."

"Mrs. Washington was in the habit of retiring at an early hour to her own room, unless detained by company, and there, no matter what the hour (Miss Custis), attended her.

"One evening, my father's carriage being late in coming for me, my dear young friend invited me to accompany her to grandmamma's room. There, after some little chat, Mrs. Washington apologized to me for pursuing her usual preparations for the night, and Nellie entered upon her accustomed duty by reading a chapter and a psalm from the old family Bible, after which all present knelt in evening prayer.

"Mrs. Washington's faithful maid then assisted her to disrobe and lay her head upon the pillow. Nellie then sang a verse of some sweetly soothing hymn and, leaning down, received the parting blessing for the night, with some emphatic remarks on her duties, improvements, etc. The effect of these judicious habits and teachings appeared in the granddaughter's character through life."—Boston Herald.

A Cord of Wood.

Few persons comprehend the productive capacity of a cord of wood. Chemical experiments are occasionally developing new uses for wood in matters remote from its ordinary adaptability, and the feature that is exciting a great deal of interest just now is the transformation of wood products into liquids. Although under the strongest kind of pressure wood yields scarcely any moisture, by means of heat wood will evolve gases and liquids of marked potency and utility. In converting wood into charcoal gases and smoke arise which can be condensed into pyroligneous acid. It is estimated that there is fully 65 per cent of this acid in a given quantity of wood, and from it are extracted wood alcohol, acetate of lime and wood tars. The alcohol thus obtained is said to be a very satisfactory substitute for grain alcohol for mechanical and manufacturing purposes, and it can be produced at less than one-third of the cost of the grain alcohol.

Investigations conducted with practical objects in view have disclosed these interesting facts: A cord of wood which weighs 4,000 pounds will yield about 2,050 pounds of pyroligneous acid and 700 pounds of charcoal; the acid will produce about 9 gallons of 82 per cent crude wood alcohol, about 25 gallons of tar and fully 200 pounds of acetate of lime. These facts indicate a future for wood outside of the realm of fuel and pulp.—New York Times.

Hubby's Good Qualities.

The curate was making a call on a humble member of his flock, when the good woman, in course of conversation, very much extolled the virtues of her absent husband and finished up by saying, "And he is such a good man too."

"In what way?" asked the curate.

"Why, sir," she said, "he always says his prayers every night of his life—drunk or sober—he never misses that."—London Telegraph.

RIPPER HANGING FIRE.

The Cincinnati Bill Not Likely to Go Through.

WEED BILLS ARE POSTPONED.

Several Anti-Adulteration Bills Introduced In the House—A Measure Presented In the Senate by Senator Plummer Changing the Dower Law.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17.—The Cincinnati ripper bill still hangs fire and there is but little prospect of its becoming a law.

The house indefinitely postponed the three bills providing for cutting noxious weeds along railroads, roads and on private land.

These bills were introduced in the house:

Mr. McCurdy, providing against adulteration of candy.

Mr. Adams (Coshocton), prohibiting adulteration of spiritous, alcoholic or malt liquors.

Mr. Haiden (Knox), providing that in damage cases against railroad companies it shall not be a defense to set up the negligence of a fellow employe.

Mr. Monter (Hamilton), providing that in all cases of contempt of court arising from a refusal of any person or persons to obey the provisions of any injunction issued by any court of record in this state, the party accused shall have the right of a trial by jury in a court other than that one from which the charges arose.

Senator Plummer introduced a bill to change the dower law in Ohio, that hereafter the husband or wife of a deceased person will receive one-third of all the real estate left in fee simple.

Youngstown Gets Garvey.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 17.—Red Garvey, who has been with the Holy Ghost team last season has arrived here and will be signed by Manager Geer. Garvey will remain here until the season opens. The contracts have not been received from Harry Jordan, Iry Brodie and Joe Stein, who were with Youngstown last season, and it is understood they are holding out for an increase in salary over the amount offered.

Lady Cashier Shows Pluck.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 17.—Edith Morgan, cashier of the Poultry and Pet Stock association now open here, while walking home was attacked by a footpad and knocked down, the fellow trying to secure the funds of the association, which she was carrying home. She fought her assailant with such vigor that he ran away, but on reaching a house nearby she fell exhausted.

Surprise at Yura Trial.

WARREN, Feb. 17.—Unexpected evidence was sprung in the Yura case of the state against Louis Yura, charged with killing Isaac Hill of Farmington. James and Daniel Gorman swore that at 4 o'clock the morning after the crime, which occurred about midnight, they saw Yura and the other prisoner, Chas. Fenton, in Warren, coming from the north.

Gift of $20,000 For a Home.

WOOSTER, Feb. 17.—D. C. Amstutz, a wealthy member of the Mennonite denomination, has donated land worth $20,000, near Orrville, on which to establish a home for the aged and indigent of the church. The church has accepted the donation, and early in the spring will begin the work of erecting the necessary buildings.

CONFERENCE WITH OPERATORS.

This Proposed by the Central Pennsylvania Miners at Their Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 17.—Resolutions have been adopted by the miners' convention instructing the officers to bring about a joint conference of the operators and miners of the eastern field with a view to an adjustment of wages and hours of labor, failing in which a convention of miners shall be called on or before March 22, for the purpose of forming a scale of prices and hours of labor, to go into effect on April 1, 1898. The company store system was condemned and Judge Frazier's opinion on the screen question denounced as unjust and untenable.

A resolution on the right of peaceable assemblage, says this right is gradually being taken from us, as witnessed by the wholesale issue of injunctions in labor disputes and the malicious wholesale murder of our brothers at Hazleton. That we denounce this unjustifiable massacre as a blot upon our civilization, a butchery, more cold-blooded in its conception and execution than the most blood-thirsty cruelties perpetrated in Cuba or Armenia, and we demand that the fair name of the state shall be cleared of this foul stigma, as far as possible, by the conviction of Sheriff Martin and his Hessian associates in crime.

The legislature was asked to abolish the law regulating the appointment of mine foremen so as to allow operators to appoint the foremen. Support was pledged to the West Virginia and Hocking miners in Ohio, who are trying to enforce the provisions of the Chicago conference.

A state organization will be effected today and officers elected.

AGAINST ANNEXATION.

Senator Morrill Made a Speech Opposing the Pending Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Senator Morrill (Vt.) occupied the entire time of the executive session of the senate with a speech in opposing the ratification of the Hawaiian annexation treaty.

The speech was intended to show that the acquisition of the Hawaiian Islands would be against both good policy and the traditions of this country.

He said that commercially Hawaii's importance had been vastly overrated, and contended that annexation would result in the inevitable destruction of the best sugar industry in the United States because of the inability of American labor to compete with the coolie labor employed on the Hawaiian sugar plantations.

From a military point of view he argued that the control of Hawaii would be a source of weakness.

SPAIN PROTESTS SORROW.

An Admiral Calls on Woodford and Expresses Sympathy.

MADRID, Feb. 17.—The following semi-official note has been issued:

"The news of the disaster of the Maine has caused a painful impression in Madrid. It was at first feared that there had been some act of imprudence to which the catastrophe was attributable. Afterward as details arrived the fears dispelled took the form of feelings of sympathy and sorrow for the misfortune which has occurred.

"The captain general, the commandant of the arsenal, the sailors of the cruiser Alfonso XII, the crews of the merchant vessels and all the available forces hastened to succor the injured."

The government has expressed to Minister Woodford the regret it feels at the catastrophe, more especially as it occurred in waters within Spanish jurisdiction.

An admiral in full uniform, in the name of the minister of marine and the entire Spanish cabinet, called on General Woodford and informed him that the government had telegraphed to the authorities in Cuba to do their utmost to relieve the distress of the injured and to furnish the officers and crew of the Maine with everything which they may need.

MORE MONEY FOR DEFENSE.

Senators Oppose Cutting Down Coast Fortification Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A discussion upon coast defenses was the interesting feature of the senate. Many senators took the ground that the appropriations should be for the full amount of the estimates by the war department instead of some $4,000,000 less. Senators Perkins and Hale said that it was the policy of the appropriations committee to make an annual expenditure of $10,000,000 a year for fortifications.

Senators Stewart, Hawley, Chandler and Lodge spoke in favor of increases. Senator Teller also advocated liberal expenditures, and during his remarks made significant allusions to Cuba and Hawaii.

More Cases of Measles.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Feb. 17.—An epidemic of measles has broken out in Bellefontaine and physicians report nearly 100 cases. The school attendance is greatly decreased by the malady.

General Vaccination Ordered.

RICHMOND, Ky., Feb. 17.—Health Officer A. Wilks Smith has ordered a general vaccination there on account of the smallpox epidemic at Middlesboro.

THE MARKETS.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 16.

WHEAT—No. 1 red, 94@95c; No. 2 red, 92@93c.

CORN—No. 2 yellow ear, 36½@37c; No. 2 yellow shelled, 34@35c; high mixed shelled, 33@34c.

OATS—No. 1 white, 34@34½c; No. 2 white, 33@34c; extra No. 3 white, 32@33c; light mixed, 30@31c.

HAY—No. 1 timothy, $9.75@10.00; No. 2, $8.00@8.50; No. 1 clover, mixed, $7.00@7.25; packing, $5.50@6.00; No. 1 feeding prairie, $6.50@6.75; wagon hay, $10.00@10.50 for timothy.

POULTRY—Live—Large spring chickens, 55@65c per pair; small, 45@50c; large old chickens, 65@70c per pair; small, 50@60c; ducks, 50@75c per pair; turkeys, 10@11c per pound; geese, 90c@$1.15 per pair. Dressed—Spring chickens, 11@12c per pound; old chickens, 10@11c; ducks, 10@12c; turkeys, 15@16c; geese, 8@9c.

BUTTER—Elgin prints, 23c; extra creamery, 21@22c; Ohio fancy creamery, 17@18c; country roll, 13@14c; low grade and cooking, 8@12c.

CHEESE—Yew York, full cream, new make, 10@10½c; Ohios, full cream, September, 9½@10c; Wisconsin Swiss, in tubs, 13½@14c; limberger, new, 12@13c; Ohio Swiss, in tubs, 12½@13c; Swiss, in bricks, 5-pound average, 12@12½c.

EGGS—Strictly fresh Pennsylvania and Ohio, in cases, large lots, 14@14½c; in a jobbing way, 14½@15c.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 16.

CATTLE—Supply light; market steady. We quote prices: Prime, $4.90@5.00; choice, $4.75@4.85; good, $4.60@4.70; tidy, $4.45@4.60; fair, $4.00@4.30; common, $3.50@4.00; heifers, $3.25@4.35; bulls, stags and cows, $2.00@4.00; bologna cows, $8.00@15.00; good fresh cows and springers, $35.00@50.00; common to fair, $15.00@30.00.

HOGS—Receipts light; demand good; market active and fully 10c higher. We quote: Prime mediums, $4.35@4.40; best heavy Yorkers, $4.30@4.35; light Yorkers, $4.15@4.25; pigs, $3.90@4.10; heavy hogs, $4.20@4.30; good roughs, $3.50@3.90; common to fair, $2.50@3.25.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts light; market steady. Choice sheep, $4.80@4.90; good, $4.60@4.75; fair, $4.15@4.50; common, $3.40@3.90. Lambs—Choice, $5.75@5.90; common to good, $4.75@5.70; veal calves, $6.00@6.50; heavy and thin calves, $3.00@4.50.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.

HOGS—Market active at $3.40@4.15.

CATTLE—Market steady at $2.25@4.65.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Market for sheep steady at $2.75@4.65. Lambs—Market dull at $4.00@5.75.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.

WHEAT—Spot market firm; No. 2 red, $1.06@1.06⅜.

CORN—Spot market firm; No. 2, 38⅜c.

OATS—Spot market quiet; No. 2, 31½@32c.

CATTLE—European cables quote American steers at 10¾@11¼c per pound dressed weight; refrigerator beef at 9@9½c per pound.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Market active and ¼@¼c higher. Sheep, $5.00@7.00; lambs, $5.50@6.30.

HOGS—Market higer at $4.30@4.55.

The man may be able to whip the lion single-handed, but he is not taking chances, and is not going to disdain the assistance of helpers with hot irons. The same is true of a wise man who is having a tussle with ill-health. It is barely possible that he may have the natural inherent resisting power that will enable him to conquer disease without the assistance of medicine, but he is not willing to take the chances and will not disdain the help of the right remedy.

When a man feels out-of-sorts, when his head is achey, dull and heavy, his body lazy, his nerves jerky, his sleep broken, his appetite finicky, his skin sallow, his breath foul and his mouth bad-tasting, he is having a struggle with ill-health. If he is wise he will take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives edge to the appetite and makes the digestion perfect. It invigorates the liver. It makes rich, red, pure blood. It puts vim into every organ and fiber of the body. It drives out all impurities and disease germs. It imparts the glow of health to the skin and the vigor of youth to the muscles. It tones the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It builds firm flesh, but does not raise the weight above Nature's normal. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. All medicine stores sell it. An honest dealer will not suggest a worthless substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid thousand-page volume, with over three hundred engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound 31 stamps.

THE WORK GOES ON.

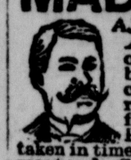

East Liverpool is Interested—It Has Much to do With the Welfare of Our People.

Never out of work.
That's the case with the kidneys.
Twenty-four hours to the day is the time they put in.
They're equal to it when they're well.
But they get sick.
Stooping positions of the body,
Straining, a fall or over-exertion
Often make the kidneys sick.
But the work must go on.
They need a helper.
They ask you for it through the back.
When the back aches it's the kidneys
Calling for assistance.
Neglect their petition and trouble follows.
Serious trouble, urinary trouble, diabetes, Bright's disease.
Doan's Kidney Pills are kidney helpers.
Perfect mechanics in their line.
Help the kidneys and cure their ills.
Hard at it here in East Liverpool,
Relieving tired kidneys, curing sick ones.
The good work goes on.
Here's some evidence of it.

Mrs. Wm. Dunn, of 192 Sixth street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did for me what none of the doctors could do. Doctors told me I had gravel and a little relief was all I could expect. I suffered terribly—not only lately, but for two or three years, alternately better and worse, with severe pains across the small of my back and up my sides, particularly my right side. The pains were so severe that I was often obliged to stay in bed, not being able to get up. My limbs used to swell up so I could hardly walk, and periodically would be taken with such severe pains through the groins that I could hardly stand it. The doctors advised hot applications and gave me bottle after bottle of medicine, but I did not receive any real benefit until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Having seen them so highly recommended by others, I took them and am gratified to say that they helped me almost at once, and I have every confidence they will ultimately cure me."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents, or sent by mail by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

MADE ME A MAN

AJAX TABLETS POSITIVELY CURE ALL Nervous Diseases—Failing Memory, Impotency, Sleeplessness, etc., caused by Abuse or other Excesses and Indiscretions. They quickly and surely restore Lost Vitality in old or young, and fit a man for study, business or marriage. Prevent Insanity and Consumption if taken in time. Their use shows immediate improvement and effects a CURE where all other fail. Insist upon having the genuine Ajax Tablets. They have cured thousands and will cure you. We give a positive written guarantee to effect a cure in each case or refund the money. Price 50 CTS. per package; or six pkges (full treatment) for $2.50. By mail, in plain wrapper, upon receipt of price Circular free. AJAX REMEDY CO., 79 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

For sale by John I. Hodson, druggist and the W. & W Pharmacy.

Rupees Transformed Into Nails.

Here is a case which we are assured actually occurred recently in a district in the northwest provinces that shall be nameless. A certain government servant by defrauding his government and the widow and orphan managed to amass 12,000 rupees. This he packed in two boxes and consigned by railway to his home, marked as nails. The railway babu got wind of the affair, opened the boxes and took out the rupees, putting in nails according to the label. The packages duly arrived at their destination.—Allahabad Pioneer.

Latest Spring Hat.

The very latest style of spring hat is to be known as the Dingley. It is made in America, but it is trimmed with a foreign label.—Boston Herald.

MORE HOUSES NEEDED

Not Enough to Supply the Growing Demand.

PEOPLE LIVE IN ONE ROOM

Because They Are Unable to Secure Better Places of Abode—Observations of a Real Estate Man Who Thinks the Subject Should Be Seriously Considered.

The men with money who will erect a number of dwelling houses within a reasonable distance of the center of the city will reap a rich reward, not alone in shining dollars, but in fervent blessings from those people who desire to live in Liverpool, but are just now unable to find a place to lay their heads.

"The matter has become one of public concern," said a prominent real estate man to the NEWS REVIEW. "It should receive attention from men who have money and are looking for good investment. My experience during the past few weeks has been nothing short of wonderful. Not a day has passed without a number of people calling at my office and inquiring for houses. They are willing to pay the rents asked, high though they are, but I am compelled to turn them away. I have no houses. Everything in town is rented. If a man announces that he is going to leave the city, or that he has secured another house, the word is passed around as a great piece of news, and from the hour the discovery is made that he will move he is burdened with applications. I know these things to be true because I have run across a number of cases of that kind. Others have learned from experience, and now the wise man says nothing of his intentions.

"I firmly believe that if there were 50 vacant houses in town today every one of them would be rented at a good figure within a day after the fact was made known. A great many people have gone to Wellsville because they could get no houses here. The majority of them would return to Liverpool if they could find houses. Now they have to pay street car fare, and are compelled to get up much earlier every morning. There are other inconveniences which they do not relish. There has not been a week for months when people have not gone to live in Wellsville simply because they could find no houses here. It is cheaper to live there, but when car fare and the inconveniences are considered, the people would in reality make money if they could reside near their work. I think the subject has taken on sufficient seriousness to receive the most careful attention."

The gentleman spoke with knowledge and understanding, and those who have followed the matter during the past few months know that he told the truth. Every house in every street and alley in the town is occupied. In some places families of four and five persons are living in one room because they cannot find better quarters. People who have been accustomed to much better places of abode have been compelled to be content with a few rooms, and be glad they were not situated like their neighbors. Rents are also a consideration, and the scarcity of houses has forced rates to a point higher than they ever were before in this place. There is a veritable famine, and unless more houses for renting purposes are not soon built the result will be difficult to prophesy.

The condition is brought about by the reports that have been sent out over the country regarding the condition of affairs in this place. The pottery boom last fall set the ball to rolling, and it was given additional speed by the announcement that the Banfield mill and a lot of other industries would be established in this vicinity at once. People anxious to reside in a manufacturing district came here by the dozen. Some obtained employment, and some were not so fortunate, but all had to be provided with places of abode.

There is no doubt that the city is on the high road to prosperity. It is growing rapidly. Every month will add to its population. A great many houses will be built next spring, but the kind of house needed to meet the demand of the present is the comfortable cottage that will rent for a sum sufficient to allow the owner a reasonable return on the investment and not prove a hardship to the occupant who pays the rent. They will be built sooner or later, and the man who is first in the field is the one who will derive the most benefit.

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke, in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

Brght and spicy—the NEWS REVIEW!

FISH WITH POINTED EARS.

A Large School Found Off the North Shore of Lake Superior.

Up on the north shore of Lake Superior a few miles from Duluth is a little settlement of fishermen who have begun their winter's work earlier than usual. This is on account of the presence in the bay of a large school of peculiar fish such as have never been taken in Lake Superior before so far as known. The fish vary in length from two to seven feet and are delicious eating.

Instead of having scales, like ordinary fish, the newcomers resemble to a certain extent the catfish, a tough brown skin covering them from head to tail. On the head are small ears, pointed and movable at the will of the owner. The tail, instead of being forked like that of the common fish is long and flat like that of a beaver or muskrat, and with this the fish is capable of striking a severe blow. One of the fishermen got one of the largest yet caught on his hook the other day, and then followed a battle royal. The fish was a gamy fellow, acting much as would a big black bass. It was 9 o'clock in the morning when he was hooked and after 2 o'clock in the afternoon when he was finally landed. The fisherman was asleep in his little house over the hole in the ice, with the line tied around his arm, when the fish took the hook and pulled the sleeping man off his chair and down to the hole.

So great was the force exerted by the fish that the man's arm was drawn down close to the ice, across the hole, the heavy line cutting almost through the heavy jacket. Struggle as he would, the fisherman could not free himself, and soon he was in real danger. At last he called loudly for help. His cries were heard by a man in a near by shanty, who came to the rescue. The hole in the ice was enlarged, and after a five hour struggle the fish was landed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"MARTHA WASHINGTON."

Her Home Life and Habits Were as Regular as Clockwork.

A homelike picture of Mrs. Washington and her favorite granddaughter is given by Mrs. James Gibson, who frequently visited her when as president's wife she resided in Philadelphia, then the capital of the United States. Mrs. Gibson's language is quoted by Miss Wharton in her "Martha Washington."

"Mrs. Washington was in the habit of retiring at an early hour to her own room, unless detained by company, and there, no matter what the hour (Miss Custis), attended her.

"One evening, my father's carriage being late in coming for me, my dear young friend invited me to accompany her to grandmamma's room. There, after some little chat, Mrs. Washington apologized to me for pursuing her usual preparations for the night, and Nellie entered upon her accustomed duty by reading a chapter and a psalm from the old family Bible, after which all present knelt in evening prayer.

"Mrs. Washington's faithful maid then assisted her to disrobe and lay her head upon the pillow. Nellie then sang a verse of some sweetly soothing hymn and, leaning down, received the parting blessing for the night, with some emphatic remarks on her duties, improvements, etc. The effect of these judicious habits and teachings appeared in the granddaughter's character through life."—Boston Herald.

A Cord of Wood.

Few persons comprehend the productive capacity of a cord of wood. Chemical experiments are occasionally developing new uses for wood in matters remote from its ordinary adaptability, and the feature that is exciting a great deal of interest just now is the transformation of wood products into liquids. Although under the strongest kind of pressure wood yields scarcely any moisture, by means of heat wood will evolve gases and liquids of marked potency and utility. In converting wood into charcoal gases and smoke arise which can be condensed into pyroligneous acid. It is estimated that there is fully 65 per cent of this acid in a given quantity of wood, and from it are extracted wood alcohol, acetate of lime and wood tars. The alcohol thus obtained is said to be a very satisfactory substitute for grain alcohol for mechanical and manufacturing purposes, and it can be produced at less than one-third of the cost of the grain alcohol.

Investigations conducted with practical objects in view have disclosed these interesting facts: A cord of wood which weighs 4,000 pounds will yield about 2,050 pounds of pyroligneous acid and 700 pounds of charcoal; the acid will produce about 9 gallons of 82 per cent crude wood alcohol, about 25 gallons of tar and fully 200 pounds of acetate of lime. These facts indicate a future for wood outside of the realm of fuel and pulp.—New York Times.

Hubby's Good Qualities.

The curate was making a call on a humble member of his flock, when the good woman, in course of conversation, very much extolled the virtues of her absent husband and finished up by saying, "And he is such a good man too."

"In what way?" asked the curate.

"Why, sir," she said, "he always says his prayers every night of his life—drunk or sober—he never misses that."—London Telegraph.

RIPPER HANGING FIRE.

The Cincinnati Bill Not Likely to Go Through.

WEED BILLS ARE POSTPONED.

Several Anti-Adulteration Bills Introduced In the House—A Measure Presented In the Senate by Senator Plummer Changing the Dower Law.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17.—The Cincinnati ripper bill still hangs fire and there is but little prospect of its becoming a law.

The house indefinitely postponed the three bills providing for cutting noxious weeds along railroads, roads and on private land.

These bills were introduced in the house:

Mr. McCurdy, providing against adulteration of candy.

Mr. Adams (Coshocton), prohibiting adulteration of spiritous, alcoholic or malt liquors.

Mr. Haiden (Knox), providing that in damage cases against railroad companies it shall not be a defense to set up the negligence of a fellow employe.

Mr. Monter (Hamilton), providing that in all cases of contempt of court arising from a refusal of any person or persons to obey the provisions of any injunction issued by any court of record in this state, the party accused shall have the right of a trial by jury in a court other than that one from which the charges arose.

Senator Plummer introduced a bill to change the dower law in Ohio, that hereafter the husband or wife of a deceased person will receive one-third of all the real estate left in fee simple.

Youngstown Gets Garvey.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 17.—Red Garvey, who has been with the Holy Ghost team last season has arrived here and will be signed by Manager Geer. Garvey will remain here until the season opens. The contracts have not been received from Harry Jordan, Iry Brodie and Joe Stein, who were with Youngstown last season, and it is understood they are holding out for an increase in salary over the amount offered.

Lady Cashier Shows Pluck.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 17.—Edith Morgan, cashier of the Poultry and Pet Stock association now open here, while walking home was attacked by a footpad and knocked down, the fellow trying to secure the funds of the association, which she was carrying home. She fought her assailant with such vigor that he ran away, but on reaching a house nearby she fell exhausted.

Surprise at Yura Trial.

WARREN, Feb. 17.—Unexpected evidence was sprung in the Yura case of the state against Louis Yura, charged with killing Isaac Hill of Farmington. James and Daniel Gorman swore that at 4 o'clock the morning after the crime, which occurred about midnight, they saw Yura and the other prisoner, Chas. Fenton, in Warren, coming from the north.

Gift of $20,000 For a Home.

WOOSTER, Feb. 17.—D. C. Amstutz, a wealthy member of the Mennonite denomination, has donated land worth $20,000, near Orrville, on which to establish a home for the aged and indigent of the church. The church has accepted the donation, and early in the spring will begin the work of erecting the necessary buildings.

CONFERENCE WITH OPERATORS.

This Proposed by the Central Pennsylvania Miners at Their Convention.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 17.—Resolutions have been adopted by the miners' convention instructing the officers to bring about a joint conference of the operators and miners of the eastern field with a view to an adjustment of wages and hours of labor, failing in which a convention of miners shall be called on or before March 22, for the purpose of forming a scale of prices and hours of labor, to go into effect on April 1, 1898. The company store system was condemned and Judge Frazier's opinion on the screen question denounced as unjust and untenable.

A resolution on the right of peaceable assemblage, says this right is gradually being taken from us, as witnessed by the wholesale issue of injunctions in labor disputes and the malicious wholesale murder of our brothers at Hazleton. That we denounce this unjustifiable massacre as a blot upon our civilization, a butchery, more cold-blooded in its conception and execution than the most blood-thirsty cruelties perpetrated in Cuba or Armenia, and we demand that the fair name of the state shall be cleared of this foul stigma, as far as possible, by the conviction of Sheriff Martin and his Hessian associates in crime.

The legislature was asked to abolish the law regulating the appointment of mine foremen so as to allow operators to appoint the foremen. Support was pledged to the West Virginia and Hocking miners in Ohio, who are trying to enforce the provisions of the Chicago conference.

A state organization will be effected today and officers elected.

AGAINST ANNEXATION.

Senator Morrill Made a Speech Opposing the Pending Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Senator Morrill (Vt.) occupied the entire time of the executive session of the senate with a speech in opposing the ratification of the Hawaiian annexation treaty.

The speech was intended to show that the acquisition of the Hawaiian Islands would be against both good policy and the traditions of this country.

He said that commercially Hawaii's importance had been vastly overrated, and contended that annexation would result in the inevitable destruction of the best sugar industry in the United States because of the inability of American labor to compete with the coolie labor employed on the Hawaiian sugar plantations.

From a military point of view he argued that the control of Hawaii would be a source of weakness.

SPAIN PROTESTS SORROW.

An Admiral Calls on Woodford and Expresses Sympathy.

MADRID, Feb. 17.—The following semi-official note has been issued:

"The news of the disaster of the Maine has caused a painful impression in Madrid. It was at first feared that there had been some act of imprudence to which the catastrophe was attributable. Afterward as details arrived the fears dispelled took the form of feelings of sympathy and sorrow for the misfortune which has occurred.

"The captain general, the commandant of the arsenal, the sailors of the cruiser Alfonso XII, the crews of the merchant vessels and all the available forces hastened to succor the injured."

The government has expressed to Minister Woodford the regret it feels at the catastrophe, more especially as it occurred in waters within Spanish jurisdiction.

An admiral in full uniform, in the name of the minister of marine and the entire Spanish cabinet, called on General Woodford and informed him that the government had telegraphed to the authorities in Cuba to do their utmost to relieve the distress of the injured and to furnish the officers and crew of the Maine with everything which they may need.

MORE MONEY FOR DEFENSE.

Senators Oppose Cutting Down Coast Fortification Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A discussion upon coast defenses was the interesting feature of the senate. Many senators took the ground that the appropriations should be for the full amount of the estimates by the war department instead of some $4,000,000 less. Senators Perkins and Hale said that it was the policy of the appropriations committee to make an annual expenditure of $10,000,000 a year for fortifications.

Senators Stewart, Hawley, Chandler and Lodge spoke in favor of increases. Senator Teller also advocated liberal expenditures, and during his remarks made significant allusions to Cuba and Hawaii.

More Cases of Measles.

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Feb. 17.—An epidemic of measles has broken out in Bellefontaine and physicians report nearly 100 cases. The school attendance is greatly decreased by the malady.

General Vaccination Ordered.

RICHMOND, Ky., Feb. 17.—Health Officer A. Wilks Smith has ordered a general vaccination there on account of the smallpox epidemic at Middlesboro.

THE MARKETS.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 16.

WHEAT—No. 1 red, 94@95c; No. 2 red, 92@93c.

CORN—No. 2 yellow ear, 36½@37c; No. 2 yellow shelled, 34@35c; high mixed shelled, 33@34c.

OATS—No. 1 white, 34@34½c; No. 2 white, 33@34c; extra No. 3 white, 32@33c; light mixed, 30@31c.

HAY—No. 1 timothy, $9.75@10.00; No. 2, $8.00@8.50; No. 1 clover, mixed, $7.00@7.25; packing, $5.50@6.00; No. 1 feeding prairie, $6.50@6.75; wagon hay, $10.00@10.50 for timothy.

POULTRY—Live—Large spring chickens, 55@65c per pair; small, 45@50c; large old chickens, 65@70c per pair; small, 50@60c; ducks, 50@75c per pair; turkeys, 10@11c per pound; geese, 90c@$1.15 per pair. Dressed—Spring chickens, 11@12c per pound; old chickens, 10@11c; ducks, 10@12c; turkeys, 15@16c; geese, 8@9c.

BUTTER—Elgin prints, 23c; extra creamery, 21@22c; Ohio fancy creamery, 17@18c; country roll, 13@14c; low grade and cooking, 8@12c.

CHEESE—Yew York, full cream, new make, 10@10½c; Ohios, full cream, September, 9½@10c; Wisconsin Swiss, in tubs, 13½@14c; limberger, new, 12@13c; Ohio Swiss, in tubs, 12½@13c; Swiss, in bricks, 5-pound average, 12@12½c.

EGGS—Strictly fresh Pennsylvania and Ohio, in cases, large lots, 14@14½c; in a jobbing way, 14½@15c.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 16.

CATTLE—Supply light; market steady. We quote prices: Prime, $4.90@5.00; choice, $4.75@4.85; good, $4.60@4.70; tidy, $4.45@4.60; fair, $4.00@4.30; common, $3.50@4.00; heifers, $3.25@4.35; bulls, stags and cows, $2.00@4.00; bologna cows, $8.00@15.00; good fresh cows and springers, $35.00@50.00; common to fair, $15.00@30.00.

HOGS—Receipts light; demand good; market active and fully 10c higher. We quote: Prime mediums, $4.35@4.40; best heavy Yorkers, $4.30@4.35; light Yorkers, $4.15@4.25; pigs, $3.90@4.10; heavy hogs, $4.20@4.30; good roughs, $3.50@3.90; common to fair, $2.50@3.25.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts light; market steady. Choice sheep, $4.80@4.90; good, $4.60@4.75; fair, $4.15@4.50; common, $3.40@3.90. Lambs—Choice, $5.75@5.90; common to good, $4.75@5.70; veal calves, $6.00@6.50; heavy and thin calves, $3.00@4.50.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.

HOGS—Market active at $3.40@4.15.

CATTLE—Market steady at $2.25@4.65.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Market for sheep steady at $2.75@4.65. Lambs—Market dull at $4.00@5.75.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.

WHEAT—Spot market firm; No. 2 red, $1.06@1.06⅜.

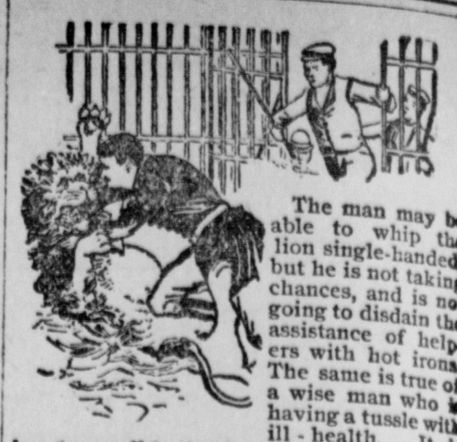

CORN—Spot market firm; No. 2, 38⅜c.

OATS—Spot market quiet; No. 2, 31½@32c.

CATTLE—European cables quote American steers at 10¾@11¼c per pound dressed weight; refrigerator beef at 9@9½c per pound.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Market active and ⅛@¼c higher. Sheep, $5.00@7.00; lambs, $5.50@6.30.

HOGS—Market higer at $4.30@4.55.

The man may be able to whip the lion single-handed, but he is not taking chances, and is not going to disdain the assistance of helpers with hot irons. The same is true of a wise man who is having a tussle with ill-health. It is barely possible that he may have the natural inherent resisting power that will enable him to conquer disease without the assistance of medicine, but he is not willing to take the chances and will not disdain the help of the right remedy.

When a man feels out-of-sorts, when his head is achey, dull and heavy, his body lazy, his nerves jerky, his sleep broken, his appetite finicky, his skin sallow, his breath foul and his mouth bad-tasting, he is having a struggle with ill-health. If he is wise he will take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It gives edge to the appetite and makes the digestion perfect. It invigorates the liver. It makes rich, red, pure blood. It puts vim into every organ and fiber of the body. It drives out all impurities and disease germs. It imparts the glow of health to the skin and the vigor of youth to the muscles. It tones the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It builds firm flesh, but does not raise the weight above Nature's normal. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. All medicine stores sell it. An honest dealer will not suggest a worthless substitute for the sake of a little extra profit.

The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid thousand-page volume, with over three hundred engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound 31 stamps.

THE WORK GOES ON.

East Liverpool Is Interested—It Has Much to do With the Welfare of Our People.

Never out of work.
That's the case with the kidneys.
Twenty-four hours to the day is the time they put in.
They're equal to it when they're well.
But they get sick.
Stooping positions of the body,
Straining, a fall or over-exertion
Often make the kidneys sick.
But the work must go on.
They need a helper.
They ask you for it through the back.
When the back aches it's the kidneys
Calling for assistance.
Neglect their petition and trouble follows.
Serious trouble, urinary trouble, diabetes, Bright's disease.
Doan's Kidney Pills are kidney helpers.
Perfect mechanics in their line.
Help the kidneys and cure their ills.
Hard at it here in East Liverpool,
Relieving tired kidneys, curing sick ones.
The good work goes on.
Here's some evidence of it.

Mrs. Wm. Dunn, of 192 Sixth street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did for me what none of the doctors could do. Doctors told me I had gravel and a little relief was all I could expect. I suffered terribly—not only lately, but for two or three years, alternately better and worse, with severe pains across the small of my back and up my sides, particularly my right side. The pains were so severe that I was often obliged to stay in bed, not being able to get up. My limbs used to swell up so I could hardly walk, and periodically would be taken with such severe pains through the groins that I could hardly stand it. The doctors advised hot applications and gave me bottle after bottle of medicine, but I did not receive any real benefit until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Having seen them so highly recommended by others, I took them and am gratified to say that they helped me almost at once, and I have every confidence they will ultimately cure me."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents, or sent by mail by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

MADE ME A MAN

AJAX TABLETS POSITIVELY CURE ALL Nervous Diseases—Failing Memory, Impotency, Sleeplessness, etc., caused by Abuse or other Excesses and Indiscretions. They quickly and surely restore Lost Vitality in old or young, and fit a man for study, business or marriage. Prevent Insanity and Consumption if taken in time. Their use shows immediate improvement and effects a CURE where all other fail. Insist upon having the genuine Ajax Tablets. They have cured thousands and will cure you. We give a positive written guarantee to effect a cure in each case or refund the money. Price 50 CTS. per package; or six pkges (full treatment) for $2.50. By mail, in plain wrapper, upon receipt of price. Circular free. AJAX REMEDY CO., 79 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

For sale by John I. Hodson, druggist and the W. & W. Pharmacy.

Rupees Transformed Into Nails.

Here is a case which we are assured actually occurred recently in a district in the northwest provinces that shall be nameless. A certain government servant by defrauding his government and the widow and orphan managed to amass 12,000 rupees. This he packed in two boxes and consigned by railway to his home, marked as nails. The railway babu got wind of the affair, opened the boxes and took out the rupees, putting in nails according to the label. The packages duly arrived at their destination.—Allahabad Pioneer.

Latest Spring Hat.

The very latest style of spring hat is to be known as the Dingley. It is made in America, but it is trimmed with a foreign label.—Boston Herald.

THE FEDERATION WON

Trades Council Recognized Its Branch

OF THE PORCELAIN WORKERS

The Other Was Organized Under the Knights of Labor—Settled a Controversy of Long Standing—Other Important Business Transacted.

Trades council met last evening and held an interesting session, some important business being transacted.

The minutes were read and approved and the following delegates were seated: Robert Meakin, James Weston, Thomas Farrall, Charles Adams and Fletcher Massey, dishmakers' union, 19; William Craven and Richard Davis, dippers, 18; Victor Swanson, tailors, 254; A. J. Watson, porcelain workers, 6978.

Resolutions were presented by the committee appointed to investigate the trouble in the porcelain workers' union, and voices the sentiment of Trades council. The resolutions arraigned the Knights of Labor union, and recommended that Trades council recognize none but the unions organized under the American Federation of Labor. They were adopted unanimously, and the secretary was instructed to notify all local unions of the action taken.

The eight-hour bill indorsed by the Federation of Labor convention at Nashville last December was presented to the meeting and approved. The bill provides that all men employed on public work shall work but eight hours each day.

Another bill making it a misdemeanor to transport for commercial purposes prison made goods was also endorsed. The secretary was instructed to ask Hon. R. W. Tayler and the senators from this state to support the measures when they come before congress.

The trustees made their final report, showing the treasury to be in splendid condition. It was accepted, and the committee having charge of the meeting to be held this evening to be addressed by W. D. Mahon, reported the arrangements completed and the prospects were bright for a monster meeting.

The label committee made a partial report in regard to the printing of labels, and were continued.

ONLY A MOUSE,

But It Caused a Great Row at Central Building.

"Help!"

It was a shriek, shrill and clear. It came from some part of the Central school building, and, riding on a current of air produced by the ventilating system which only with great difficulty ventilates, went sounding down the corridors and up the stairways, a long, agonizing cry of fear.

Those who heard it paused for a moment in wonder, but as it was not repeated they ascribed it to any of the causes which might make one of the thousand occupants of the big building cry out in apprehension, and continued their work. Then they forgot it, but in one room it was almost as much of a reality as if it had assumed tangible form.

Seated on a chair was the teacher, her hair disheveled and her eyes bulging out. Both hands clutched tight her dress at what would have been a foot from the floor had not her feet at that moment been extended horizontally. She was a picture of fear, and had been for several minutes when one of the wondering spectators, a little fellow in the front row, lisped forth:

"It didn't go that way teacher, it went into the cloak room."

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke, in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

"Last of His Race."

If you fail to see Creston Clark tomorrow night, Friday, Feb. 18, you will deeply regret doing so, as he is simply magnificent in "The Last of His Race," while his support is superb. This distinguished artist has been playing to crowded houses all over the country. Prices, $1.00, 75, 50, 35 and 25.

A Reception.

The members of Ohio Valley ruling, Mystic Circle, will enjoy a reception at the rooms of the organization in the Thompson building, this evening. Arrangements have been made that will insure a pleasant evening.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

An Incautious Epicure.

"I suppose," said the young woman, "that when a miner makes a big discovery it is to his interest to avoid spreading the news, so as to keep as much as possible for himself."

"Some of them try it," answered the returned gold seeker. "But as a rule it doesn't work. When a man has suddenly reached enormous wealth, he is almost certain to betray the fact in some way."

"Have you known of such case on the Klondike?"

"Only one. Ordinarily the men don't try to deceive anybody. One chap made a big discovery and tried to keep it quiet, but it wasn't more than a day or two before everybody knew he had struck it rich."

"Something in his manner betrayed it?"

"No."

"He was seen spending more money than usual?"

"No. He never spent any money in public. He was a great one for keeping it to himself."

"Perhaps he talked in his sleep?"

"Wouldn't have been anybody to hear him if he had."

"You surely were not mean enough to shadow him?"

"Didn't have to. He practically announced that he had suddenly become a millionaire himself. There wasn't any possibility of mistake."

"How did he do it?"

"Came around one day with the smell of onions on his breath."—Washington Star.

The Antarctic Region.

It is a curious fact that while enormous sums of money and property of great value have been appropriated and used in exploring the more northerly portions of this globe little or no attention has been given to the extreme southern part. Of late, however, the eyes of explorers have been turned antarcticward, and expeditions are being sent out to determine various debatable questions that have arisen concerning this country. No human foot, as far as known, has ever approached nearer to the south pole than 720 miles. The ice is said to far exceed that found at the north pole, and greater difficulties are apprehended than arctic explorers have ever encountered. Vegetation ceases at about 58 degrees, no man has yet been met with south of 56 degrees, and the country is destitute of land animals south of 68 degrees. Mountains with towering peaks have been discovered, and volcanoes are thought to be numerous. Whether the intense heat of the latter may exert any influence upon the climate in their vicinity is a question of interest to the scientific world.—New York Ledger.

Handwriting of Dumas.

Both the Dumas' hands were those of busy men, but the elder Dumas could go on forever; he never stopped to punctuate. One of his literary canons was that a clear style punctuates itself. There is a good deal in this. The son never missed a comma, semicolon, colon or full stop. He had not the father's facility, which resembled a tropical vegetation at the end of the rainy season.

The younger Dumas beat his brains terribly and forced them to bring forth plays. Nothing can be more refined than his handwriting. The original manuscripts of his plays are scarcely legible, the corrections and erasures being so numerous. But he did not let the copyist or indeed any stranger see them, but rewrote and added pungent and preguant sentences as he did so. The first thoughts of some authors are the best; they were the worst of Dumas fils unless when he was answering a letter—answering, mind! It was then a case of steel responding to flint. Sparks flew. If there was an explosive about, it went off.—London Truth.

Queer Signature to a Check.

"That man forgot to sign his name," remarked a well known insurance agent as he reached the end of a letter from one of his correspondents.

"I presume you run across many cases of forgetfulness and abstraction while reading your correspondence?" I suggested as he resumed looking over his mail.

"Well, yes, they are more frequent than I wish they were. One of the most singular instances was a case where a man in affixing his signature to a check used a portion of my name and a part of his own. And he was the president of one of our leading colleges too."—Portland (Me.) Argus.

For Sleeplessness.

The following is recommended as a cure for sleeplessness: "Wet a half towel, apply it to the back of the neck, pressing it upward toward the base of the brain, and fasten the dry half of the towel over so as to prevent the too rapid exhalation. The effect is prompt and charming, cooling the brain and inducing calmer, sweeter sleep than any narcotic. Warm water may be used, though most persons prefer cold. To those who suffer from overexcitement of the brain, whether the result of brain work or pressing anxiety, this simple remedy has proved an especial boon."—New Olreans Times-Democrat.

Fruit cannot stand freezing, because it ruptures the cells of the fruit, and decay takes place.

THE BOSTON STORE.

ANNUAL

SILK SALE

BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 19,

We show and sell silks every business day of the year, but once a year it has been the policy of this store to have an EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF SILKS, the special features of the sale being large assortments and small prices. Special prepartations have been made for this annual event this year, as you will discover on inspecting the rich display of silks that will greet you in our show room Saturday morning.

COME AND SEE THE DISPLAY

if you don't buy a dollars worth it will post you on what is to be worn the coming season, for remember, this is not a sale of old out of date silks, but a sale of the latest and choicest the market affords, strictly up to date in every particular. Space forbids extended details here, besides the goods have to be seen and the price of different grades taken into consideration in order to form a true estimate of the values offered. When once you see the goods the selling process will be easy. The prices on the different tables will run something like this:

19c, 39c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, and $1.50, a Yard

and if you are not offered more for your money in this line than you ever have been before our [advice to you is, don't buy. That's business.

Checks, Plaids and Stripes

Have the call in Fancy Silks for waists, with Plain and Changeable Tafettas, a close second. We cannot close without calling your attention to our

Black Silks and Satins.

If you have a Black Silk Dress to buy, a Separate Skirt Pattern, or a Waist Pattern, we can show you some great values at 69c, 79c, $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard. It will pay you to buy silks now.

SALE BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING

and continues for TEN DAYS. Attend, whether you buy or not.

The Boston Store.

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market Streets.

THE FEDERATION WON

Trades Council Recognized Its Branch

OF THE PORCELAIN WORKERS

The Other Was Organized Under the Knights of Labor—Settled a Controversy of Long Standing—Other Important Business Transacted.

Trades council met last evening and held an interesting session, some important business being transacted.

The minutes were read and approved and the following delegates were seated: Robert Meakin, James Weston, Thomas Farrall, Charles Adams and Fletcher Massey, dishmakers' union, 19; William Craven and Richard Davis, dippers, 18; Victor Swanson, tailors, 254; A. J. Watson, porcelain workers, 6978.

Resolutions were presented by the committee appointed to investigate the trouble in the porcelain workers' union, and voices the sentiment of Trades council. The resolutions arraigned the Knights of Labor union, and recommended that Trades council recognize none but the unions organized under the American Federation of Labor. They were adopted unanimously, and the secretary was instructed to notify all local unions of the action taken.

The eight-hour bill indorsed by the Federation of Labor convention at Nashville last December was presented to the meeting and approved. The bill provides that all men employed on public work shall work but eight hours each day.

Another bill making it a misdemeanor to transport for commercial purposes prison made goods was also endorsed. The secretary was instructed to ask Hon. R. W. Tayler and the senators from this state to support the measures when they come before congress.

The trustees made their final report, showing the treasury to be in splendid condition. It was accepted, and the committee having charge of the meeting to be held this evening to be addressed by W. D. Mahon, reported the arrangements completed and the prospects were bright for a monster meeting.

The label committee made a partial report in regard to the printing of labels, and were continued.

ONLY A MOUSE,

But It Caused a Great Row at Central Building.

"Help!"

It was a shriek, shrill and clear. It came from some part of the Central school building, and, riding on a current of air produced by the ventilating system which only with great difficulty ventilates, went sounding down the corridors and up the stairways, a long, agonizing cry of fear.

Those who heard it paused for a moment in wonder, but as it was not repeated they ascribed it to any of the causes which might make one of the thousand occupants of the big building cry out in apprehension, and continued their work. Then they forgot it, but in one room it was almost as much of a reality as if it had assumed tangible form.

Seated on a chair was the teacher, her hair disheveled and her eyes bulging out. Both hands clutched tight her dress at what would have been a foot from the floor had not her feet at that moment been extended horizontally. She was a picture of fear, and had been for several minutes when one of the wondering spectators, a little fellow in the front row, lisped forth:

"It didn't go that way teacher, it went into the cloak room."

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke, in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

"Last of His Race."

If you fail to see Creston Clark tomorrow night, Friday, Feb. 18, you will deeply regret doing so, as he is simply magnificent in "The Last of His Race," while his support is superb. This distinguished artist has been playing to crowded houses all over the country. Prices, $1.00, 75, 50, 35 and 25.

A Reception.

The members of Ohio Valley ruling, Mystic Circle, will enjoy a reception at the rooms of the organization in the Thompson building, this evening. Arrangements have been made that will insure a pleasant evening.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

An Incautious Epicure.

"I suppose," said the young woman, "that when a miner makes a big discovery it is to his interest to avoid spreading the news, so as to keep as much as possible for himself."

"Some of them try it," answered the returned gold seeker. "But as a rule it doesn't work. When a man has suddenly reached enormous wealth, he is almost certain to betray the fact in some way."

"Have you known of such case on the Klondike?"

"Only one. Ordinarily the men don't try to deceive anybody. One chap made a big discovery and tried to keep it quiet, but it wasn't more than a day or two before everybody knew he had struck it rich."

"Something in his manner betrayed it?"

"No."

"He was seen spending more money than usual?"

"No. He never spent any money in public. He was a great one for keeping it to himself."

"Perhaps he talked in his sleep?"

"Wouldn't have been anybody to hear him if he had."

"You surely were not mean enough to shadow him?"

"Didn't have to. He practically announced that he had suddenly become a millionaire himself. There wasn't any possibility of mistake."

"How did he do it?"

"Came around one day with the smell of onions on his breath."—Washington Star.

The Antarctic Region.

It is a curious fact that while enormous sums of money and property of great value have been appropriated and used in exploring the more northerly portions of this globe little or no attention has been given to the extreme southern part. Of late, however, the eyes of explorers have been turned antarcticward, and expeditions are being sent out to determine various debatable questions that have arisen concerning this country. No human foot, as far as known, has ever approached nearer to the south pole than 720 miles. The ice is said to far exceed that found at the north pole, and greater difficulties are apprehended than arctic explorers have ever encountered. Vegetation ceases at about 58 degrees, no man has yet been met with south of 56 degrees, and the country is destitute of land animals south of 68 degrees. Mountains with towering peaks have been discovered, and volcanoes are thought to be numerous. Whether the intense heat of the latter may exert any influence upon the climate in their vicinity is a question of interest to the scientific world.—New York Ledger.

Handwriting of Dumas.

Both the Dumas' hands were those of busy men, but the elder Dumas could go on forever; he never stopped to punctuate. One of his literary canons was that a clear style punctuates itself. There is a good deal in this. The son never missed a comma, semicolon, colon or full stop. He had not the father's facility, which resembled a tropical vegetation at the end of the rainy season.

The younger Dumas beat his brains terribly and forced them to bring forth plays. Nothing can be more refined than his handwriting. The original manuscripts of his plays are scarcely legible, the corrections and erasures being so numerous. But he did not let the copyist or indeed any stranger see them, but rewrote and added pungent and pregnant sentences as he did so. The first thoughts of some authors are the best; they were the worst of Dumas fils unless when he was answering a letter—answering, mind! It was then a case of steel responding to flint. Sparks flew. If there was an explosive about, it went off.—London Truth.

Queer Signature to a Check.

"That man forgot to sign his name," remarked a well known insurance agent as he reached the end of a letter from one of his correspondents.

"I presume you run across many cases of forgetfulness and abstraction while reading your correspondence?" I suggested as he resumed looking over his mail.

"Well, yes, they are more frequent than I wish they were. One of the most singular instances was a case where a man in affixing his signature to a check used a portion of my name and a part of his own. And he was the president of one of our leading colleges too."—Portland (Me.) Argus.

For Sleeplessness.

The following is recommended as a cure for sleeplessness: "Wet a half towel, apply it to the back of the neck, pressing it upward toward the base of the brain, and fasten the dry half of the towel over so as to prevent the too rapid exhalation. The effect is prompt and charming, cooling the brain and inducing calmer, sweeter sleep than any narcotic. Warm water may be used, though most persons prefer cold. To those who suffer from overexcitement of the brain, whether the result of brain work or pressing anxiety, this simple remedy has proved an especial boon."—New Olreans Times-Democrat.

Fruit cannot stand freezing, because it ruptures the cells of the fruit, and decay takes place.

THE BOSTON STORE.

ANNUAL SILK SALE

BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 19,

We show and sell silks every business day of the year, but once a year it has been the policy of this store to have an EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF SILKS, the special features of the sale being large assortments and small prices. Special prepartations have been made for this annual event this year, as you will discover on inspecting the rich display of silks that will greet you in our show room Saturday morning.

COME AND SEE THE DISPLAY

if you don't buy a dollars worth it will post you on what is to be worn the coming season, for remember, this is not a sale of old out of date silks, but a sale of the latest and choicest the market affords, strictly up to date in every particular. Space forbids extended details here, besides the goods have to be seen and the price of different grades taken into consideration in order to form a true estimate of the values offered. When once you see the goods the selling process will be easy. The prices on the different tables will run something like this:

19c, 39c, 50c, 75c,
$1.00, $1.25, and $1.50, a Yard

and if you are not offered more for your money in this line than you ever have been before our [advice to you is, don't buy. That's business.

Checks, Plaids and Stripes

Have the call in Fancy Silks for waists, with Plain and Changeable Tafettas, a close second. We cannot close without calling your attention to our

Black Silks and Satins.

If you have a Black Silk Dress to buy, a Separate Skirt Pattern, or a Waist Pattern, we can show you some great values at 69c, 79c, $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard. It will pay you to buy silks now.

SALE BEGINS SATURDAY MORNING

and continues for TEN DAYS. Attend, whether you buy or not.

The Boston Store.

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market Streets.

The News Review.

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY.

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY BY

THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY.

HARRY PALMER, Manager and Proprietor.

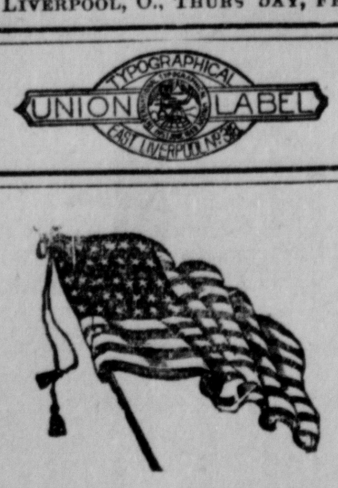

[Entered as second class matter at the East Liverpool, O., postoffice.]

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One Year in Advance.....$5 00
Three Months.....1 25
By the Week.....10

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEB 17

IF it can be shown that the explosion on the Maine was not the result of accident, then is some one guilty of murder.

SECRETARY GAGE has made some unusual recommendations since he became a part of the president's cabinet, but nothing he has done is so void of good sense as his suggestion to create a civil service pension list.

WHILE the people of the United States have wisely refrained from an openly expressed opinion concerning the explosion on the battleship Maine, there is no question as to the trend of sentiment. Spain may not be responsible, but until something definite comes from Havana this country will continue to do a lot of thinking.

JOHN R. MCLEAN can continue his Democratic organization in Ohio, and William J. Bryan can use all means at his command to keep his western friends in line by writing letters, but Boss Croker, with the long green and a well paid gang, is quietly planning in New York the big part that will be played in the contest at the Democratic convention.

THERE is no question about the feeling toward this country in Spain. While the government attempts to keep it from creeping into anything official, the army, the navy and the civil service hate the United States with a cordial hatred, and the fire is kept burning brightly by the newspapers, not an occasion being passed when it is possible to blow up the embers.

THE people of Ohio have a right to expect some work from the legislature, but it seems that body has forgotten its duty. In the senate and in the house there has appeared a sentiment which does not allow the members to waste too much of their time on work when there is some other thing to attract attention. It really seems as though some other counties had made mistakes as serious as that made by Columbiana.

THERE is no reason to believe that General Lee will resign at once, nor should faith be placed in the story that Secretary Sherman is about to give up his position. Those gentlemen were selected by President McKinley for the work they are now doing, and until that work is completed they will stay where they are. In short it would be dangerous to accept their resignations, even if they were so disposed just now.

STAR CHAMBER SESSIONS.

The legislature is doing some things which does not meet the approval of the people of Ohio, and among them none is causing more adverse criticism than the secrecy with which certain of the matters under consideration are surrounded. Particularly is this true of the investigation of the convict labor system. It is a matter in which union workmen throughout the state are interested. They have been working for years to bring about reform in that direction, and to them can the investigation be traced. They want to know what the committee is doing and what the probable result will be. The action of the gentlemen comprising the committee is unwise to say the least.

And Still They Come.

Two more movings were handled at the freight depot yesterday. The first to arrive were the effects of W. F. Conklin, of Beaver Falls, followed by a Mr. Wilson coming from a town east of Pittsburg.

So far this week four movings have been handled at the depot.

WELLSVILLE.

CANNING FACTORY NOW

Beidler Men Are Conferring With the Board.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY

The Number of People to Be Employed. Looking After a Site Along the Proposed Switch—All the Good News of Wellsville.

George A. Callaman and G. L. Krammer, of Beidler, O., are in town today conferring with the board of trade relative to the building of a mammoth canning factory in this place.

The gentlemen placed the matter before the board of trade, and a committee of prominent men at once forsook their various occupations and gave the time to the visitors. The gentlemen explained that they wanted to build a plant that would give employment to 250 persons and have a large output of canned goods. They are practical men, and know the business well. Nothing was said regarding a bonus, but that is expected to come later.

The party looked over the vacant ground along the line of the proposed switch, and discussed the advisability of erecting the plant in that part of town.

If the factory is built in Wellsville it will be a help for a great many farmers as it will give them a market for much of the small vegetables and fruits now sent out of the country. It is understood that the visitors are much impressed with Wellsville, and would like to locate here.

The Foot Ball Team.

The Wellsville foot ball club will meet this evening to perfect arrangements for next season's work.

It is proposed to have the team well organized and ready for the season's opening by thorough practice.

It is also expected that a first-class baseball team will be put in the field. Already a number of good players have been secured, and there are others on the list. Wellsville expects to be equal to any in the line of athletics during the year.

Personal.

Miss Etta Reiber is ill.

C. V. Shaub is at Irondale today.

Mrs. Frank Wells, who has been ill, is somewhat improved.

Isaac Thomas, of Cleveland, is in town.

Mrs. Andrew Wilkinson, of Broadway, was able to be out today for the first time in some weeks. She has been suffering from an injury to her ankle.

Miss Grace Parke went to Pittsburg this morning.

Mrs. A. C. Fogo went to Toronto this morning to visit her sisters, Mrs. Will Carson and Mrs. Frank Kelly.

Mrs. Mary Zook went to Millport on the morning train.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mannist are visiting friends in Steubenville today.

The News of Wellsville.

The office of the new pottery is today being removed from the former quarters on Third street to the National Bank building with entrance on Main street.

The men's league of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight.

Miss Emma Bunting, who has been suffering with grip, was able to go as far as Pittsburg to have her eyes treated by an oculist, after which she will again return to her studies at Birmingham, Pa.

Miss Mary Cope entertained about twenty members of the Fancy Work club at her home on Main street yesterday. The refreshments were voted "just too sweet for anything," and a pleasant afternoon was spent. The club will be entertained by Mrs. T. B. Jack, Front street, next Wednesday.

With a canning factory in sight and rumors of a brewery and an axe factory, Wellsville seems preparing to enter upon an era of prosperity. It is probable that all doubt concerning these rumors will be set at rest as soon as the board of trade has had time to adjust matters. An important meeting will be held tonight.

The remains of Mrs. John Skelly were brought from East Liverpool, where deceased had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Kinney, of West Market street. Mrs. Skelly was well known to many of our people. Her husband died about six years ago, since which time her two daughters, Miss Lizzie and Mrs. Harry Moore, have died, leaving only one son. The remains were taken to the church of the Immaculate Conception, where services were held, after which they were interred in St. Elizabeth cemetery.

On the River.

The cold weather is causing the river to fall, and the marks at the wharf at noon registered 15.4 feet and falling slowly.

Another good rise is expected when the cold weather ends, but it will not benefit coal men much. A large amount of the coal in the pools was sent out on this rise.

The Queen City passed down last night with an excellent trip, both of passengers and freight. Considerable of the latter was taken on board at this place.

The Virginia is making fast time coming up, and will arrive on time tomorrow.

The Urania was up today, and the Ben Hur is down tonight.

Doing His Work Well.

No arrests were made during the night, and the only person who had any thing to do about city hall this morning was Janitor Sharp.

Sharp said that he did not know when he would be released, and added that he did not want to go until he had the outside of the windows cleaned. He has given the entire building a thorough renovating, and it now presents an appearance such as has not been seen for many months.

Broke His Leg.

Will Jewell, who lives with his mother at 138 May street, broke his left ankle while wrestling during dinner hour at Sebrings' East End pottery.

The patrol was called at 12:30, and the lad was taken to his home where the injury was dressed.

Preliminary Inspection.

A preliminary inspection of Company E will be held next Monday night, and on the following Monday the company will be inspected by Major Weybrecht, who will be accompanied by Colonel Gyger, Lieutenant Hare and a number of other officers.

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

On the Evening Train.

Mr. Mahon, who will address union men of the city at Young Men's Christian association hall this evening, will not reach here until the 8 o'clock train, but will be taken at once to the hall.

Working at Vanport.

The Cleveland & Pittsburg construction force have been transferred from the West End to Vanport where they are building a siding. The work in this city will be resumed in a few weeks.

Left a Few Orders.

George F. Smith, a crockery buyer from Montgomery, Ala., was in the city yesterday. He left for the east last night. During his stay here several large orders were given out.

Going to Cuba.

It was learned this morning that several well known men of this city will leave within a short time for Key West. They will, it is thought, continue their journey to Cuba.

To Attend a Dance.

A large number of young people from the city will this evening attend the dance given in Wellsville by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Employed In Beaver.

Randolph Williams, the colored man who is wanted in this city for cutting Charles Miller, is at present employed in a barber shop in Beaver.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

Sore Throat or Tonsilitis.

This disease is found most frequently in young persons.

The symptoms are a chilly feeling with more or less aching pains in the back and limbs.

The fever rises very rapidly, especially the evening of the first day. The patient complains of soreness of the throat and difficulty in swallowing.

On examination, the tonsils are seen to be swollen and usually covered with little white points or spots about as large as a pin head. At times the tonsils are only very red and free from spots. The duration of the disease is from three to ten days.

TREATMENT: Give patient a brisk cathartic, keeping the bowels free all the time. Apply applications of some kind to the throat and give Tonsiline in doses of from a teaspoonful for an adult, down to five or ten drops for small children, as directed in table of doses. Using Tonsiline as a gargle—Tonsiline one part, water three parts—every half hour will hasten recovery. Children sometimes complain of severe earache, which can best be eased by dropping warm sweet oil into the ear every hour or two until relieved. Tonsiline is sold by all dealers. Two sizes. 25 and 50 cents.

1898 PATTERNS WALL PAPER. 1898 PATTERNS

HAVING placed the largest order for wall paper of any dealer in the city, and direct to the factories, I am able to sell you wall paper at jobbers' prices.

PRICES—I am going to sell you paper at less price than you can buy elsewhere, and show you the best line to select from.

AGENTS—I will discount any agents' line of wall paper that has been shown to you (outside of our city merchants) 20 per cent, no matter who the agent is, or what grade of paper he may show you.

NOTICE—If any one wishes to look at my line and cannot call at the store, drop me a postal card, or call us by telephone, and I will take my samples to your homes or offices, and show you my line.

HANGING PAPER—Having made arrangements, I am ready to hang all paper bought at my store at 10c a bolt, and guarantee satisfaction.

COME IN AND SEE OUR WALL PAPER.

W. A. HILL,

228, Diamond, East Liverpool, O.

Have You Inspected It?

Inspected What?

Why the Magnificent JOB and BOOK WORK turned out at the....

News Review Job Office

FINE Presses, Skilled Workmen, Superb Material. Thousands of dollars worth of latest Designs and Styles of Type, Border and Novelties. All work absolutely guaranteed.

Test the News Review Job Department.

EVERY WOMAN

Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harmless and the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get

Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills

They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never disappoint. Sent anywhere, $1.00. Address PEAL MEDICINE CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Clarence G. Anderson, East Liverpool.

A Korean Dictionary.

The Rev. Dr. J. S. Gale, who is a doctor of medicine and a skillful surgeon as well as a Presbyterian missionary, has recently completed a dictionary of the Korean language, which is the most important work in philology since Dr. Hepburn finished his dictionary of the language of Japan. It is a volume of some 1,200 pages and represents the labor of 10 or 12 years which Dr. Gale has spent in Korea. This dictionary makes it possible for foreigners to learn the Korean language. It is the key that opens the "hermit kingdom" to commerce and industry as well as modern ideas. It is almost impossible to translate one language into another without a dictionary, particularly the symbol languages of the orient, where the words are not made up of letters and a single sign has the meaning of an entire sentence.—Chicago Record.

Settles Nervous Bankruptcy

Investigation shows that men who succeed are men of brains—strong nerves—great will power. Ordinary food cannot supply the vital forces which people with active brains and body require. Bicola Pills feed the nerves—make the mind bright, muscles strong—make flesh and blood and give perfect health to Men and Women. THE TURNERS OF PHILADELPHIA make Bicola Pills.

J. E. Buckey, Chief Clerk National Hotel, Washington, D. C., testifies that he was all run down—was a shadow of his former self—Bicola Pills gave him wonderful relief—he gained over twenty pounds after using them. East Liverpool Agents, W. O. Hamilton, A. H. Bulger and John I. Hodson.

Turners' Little Liver Turners—A very small pill. Turns your liver. Cure sick headache, billiousness, indigestion.

The News Review.

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY.

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY BY

THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY.

HARRY PALMER, Manager and Proprietor.

[Entered as second class matter at the East Liverpool, O., postoffice.]

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One Year in Advance	$5 00
Three Months	1 25
By the Week	10

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, FEB 17

IF it can be shown that the explosion on the Maine was not the result of accident, then is some one guilty of murder.

SECRETARY GAGE has made some unusual recommendations since he became a part of the president's cabinet, but nothing he has done is so void of good sense as his suggestion to create a civil service pension list.

WHILE the people of the United States have wisely refrained from an openly expressed opinion concerning the explosion on the battleship Maine, there is no question as to the trend of sentiment. Spain may not be responsible, but until something definite comes from Havana this country will continue to do a lot of thinking.

JOHN R. MCLEAN can continue his Democratic organization in Ohio, and William J. Bryan can use all means at his command to keep his western friends in line by writing letters, but Boss Croker, with the long green and a well paid gang, is quietly planning in New York the big part that will be played in the contest at the Democratic convention.

THERE is no question about the feeling toward this country in Spain. While the government attempts to keep it from creeping into anything official, the army, the navy and the civil service hate the United States with a cordial hatred, and the fire is kept burning brightly by the newspapers, not an occasion being passed when it is possible to blow up the embers.

THE people of Ohio have a right to expect some work from the legislature, but it seems that body has forgotten its duty. In the senate and in the house there has appeared a sentiment which does not allow the members to waste too much of their time on work when there is some other thing to attract attention. It really seems as though some other counties had made mistakes as serious as that made by Columbiana.

THERE is no reason to believe that General Lee will resign at once, nor should faith be placed in the story that Secretary Sherman is about to give up his position. Those gentlemen were selected by President McKinley for the work they are now doing, and until that work is completed they will stay where they are. In short it would be dangerous to accept their resignations, even if they were so disposed just now.

STAR CHAMBER SESSIONS.

The legislature is doing some things which does not meet the approval of the people of Ohio, and among them none is causing more adverse criticism than the secrecy with which certain of the matters under consideration are surrounded. Particularly is this true of the investigation of the convict labor system. It is a matter in which union workmen throughout the state are interested. They have been working for years to bring about reform in that direction, and to them can the investigation be traced. They want to know what the committee is doing and what the probable result will be. The action of the gentlemen comprising the committee is unwise to say the least.

And Still They Come.

Two more movings were handled at the freight depot yesterday. The first to arrive were the effects of W. F. Conklin, of Beaver Falls, followed by a Mr. Wilson coming from a town east of Pittsburg.

So far this week four movings have been handled at the depot.

WELLSVILLE.

CANNING FACTORY NOW

Beidler Men Are Conferring With the Board.

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY

The Number of People to Be Employed. Looking After a Site Along the Proposed Switch—All the Good News of Wellsville.

George A. Callaman and G. L. Krammer, of Beidler, O., are in town today conferring with the board of trade relative to the building of a mammoth canning factory in this place.

The gentlemen placed the matter before the board of trade, and a committee of prominent men at once forsook their various occupations and gave the time to the visitors. The gentlemen explained that they wanted to build a plant that would give employment to 250 persons and have a large output of canned goods. They are practical men, and know the business well. Nothing was said regarding a bonus, but that is expected to come later.

The party looked over the vacant ground along the line of the proposed switch, and discussed the advisability of erecting the plant in that part of town.

If the factory is built in Wellsville it will be a help for a great many farmers as it will give them a market for much of the small vegetables and fruits now sent out of the country. It is understood that the visitors are much impressed with Wellsville, and would like to locate here.

The Foot Ball Team.

The Wellsville foot ball club will meet this evening to perfect arrangements for next season's work.

It is proposed to have the team well organized and ready for the season's opening by thorough practice.

It is also expected that a first-class baseball team will be put in the field. Already a number of good players have been secured, and there are others on the list. Wellsville expects to be equal to any in the line of athletics during the year.

Personal.

Miss Etta Reiber is ill.

C. V. Shaub is at Irondale today.

Mrs. Frank Wells, who has been ill, is somewhat improved.

Isaac Thomas, of Cleveland, is in town.

Mrs. Andrew Wilkinson, of Broadway, was able to be out today for the first time in some weeks. She has been suffering from an injury to her ankle.

Miss Grace Parke went to Pittsburg this morning.

Mrs. A. C. Fogo went to Toronto this morning to visit her sisters, Mrs. Will Carson and Mrs. Frank Kelly.

Mrs. Mary Zook went to Millport on the morning train.

Mr. and Mrs. David Mannist are visiting friends in Steubenville today.

The News of Wellsville.

The office of the new pottery is today being removed from the former quarters on Third street to the National Bank building with entrance on Main street.

The men's league of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight.

Miss Emma Bunting, who has been suffering with grip, was able to go as far as Pittsburg to have her eyes treated by an oculist, after which she will again return to her studies at Birmingham, Pa.

Miss Mary Cope entertained about twenty members of the Fancy Work club at her home on Main street yesterday. The refreshments were voted "just too sweet for anything," and a pleasant afternoon was spent. The club will be entertained by Mrs. T. B. Jack, Front street, next Wednesday.

With a canning factory in sight and rumors of a brewery and an axe factory, Wellsville seems preparing to enter upon an era of prosperity. It is probable that all doubt concerning these rumors will be set at rest as soon as the board of trade has had time to adjust matters. An important meeting will be held tonight.

The remains of Mrs. John Skelly were brought from East Liverpool, where deceased had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Kinney, of West Market street. Mrs. Skelly was well known to many of our people. Her husband died about six years ago, since which time her two daughters, Miss Lizzie and Mrs. Harry Moore, have died, leaving only one son. The remains were taken to the church of the Immaculate Conception, where services were held, after which they were interred in St. Elizabeth cemetery.

On the River.

The cold weather is causing the river to fall, and the marks at the wharf at noon registered 15.4 feet and falling slowly.

Another good rise is expected when the cold weather ends, but it will not benefit coal men much. A large amount of the coal in the pools was sent out on this rise.

The Queen City passed down last night with an excellent trip, both of passengers and freight. Considerable of the latter was taken on board at this place.

The Virginia is making fast time coming up, and will arrive on time tomorrow.

The Urania was up today, and the Ben Hur is down tonight.

Doing His Work Well.

No arrests were made during the night, and the only person who had anything to do about city hall this morning was Janitor Sharp.

Sharp said that he did not know when he would be released, and added that he did not want to go until he had the outside of the windows cleaned. He has given the entire building a thorough renovating, and it now presents an appearance such as has not been seen for many months.

Broke His Leg.

Will Jewell, who lives with his mother at 138 May street, broke his left ankle while wrestling during dinner hour at Sebrings' East End pottery.

The patrol was called at 12:30, and the lad was taken to his home where the injury was dressed.

Preliminary Inspection.

A preliminary inspection of Company E will be held next Monday night, and on the following Monday the company will be inspected by Major Weybrecht, who will be accompanied by Colonel Gyger, Lieutenant Hare and a number of other officers.

The great treat of the season will be Creston Clarke in "Last of His Race," at the Grand, Friday night. Don't miss it. Creston Clarke is a wonderful actor.

On the Evening Train.

Mr. Mahon, who will address union men of the city at Young Men's Christian association hall this evening, will not reach here until the 8 o'clock train, but will be taken at once to the hall.

Working at Vanport.

The Cleveland & Pittsburg construction force have been transferred from the West End to Vanport where they are building a siding. The work in this city will be resumed in a few weeks.

Left a Few Orders.

George F. Smith, a crockery buyer from Montgomery, Ala., was in the city yesterday. He left for the east last night. During his stay here several large orders were given out.

Going to Cuba.

It was learned this morning that several well known men of this city will leave within a short time for Key West. They will, it is thought, continue their journey to Cuba.

To Attend a Dance.

A large number of young people from the city will this evening attend the dance given in Wellsville by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

Employed In Beaver.

Randolph Williams, the colored man who is wanted in this city for cutting Charles Miller, is at present employed in a barber shop in Beaver.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

Sore Throat or Tonsilitis.

This disease is found most frequently in young persons.

The symptoms are a chilly feeling with more or less aching pains in the back and limbs.

The fever rises very rapidly, especially the evening of the first day. The patient complains of soreness of the throat and difficulty in swallowing.

On examination, the tonsils are seen to be swollen and usually covered with little white points or spots about as large as a pin head. At times the tonsils are only very red and free from spots. The duration of the disease is from three to ten days.

TREATMENT: Give patient a brisk cathartic, keeping the bowels free all the time. Apply applications of some kind to the throat and give Tonsiline in doses of from a teaspoonful for an adult, down to five or ten drops for small children, as directed in table of doses. Using Tonsiline as a gargle—Tonsiline one part, water three parts—every half hour will hasten recovery. Children sometimes complain of severe earache, which can best be eased by dropping warm sweet oil into the ear every hour or two until relieved. Tonsiline is sold by all dealers. Two sizes, 25 and 50 cents.

1898 PATTERNS WALL PAPER. 1898 PATTERNS

HAVING placed the largest order for wall paper of any dealer in the city, and direct to the factories, I am able to sell you wall paper at jobbers' prices.

PRICES—I am going to sell you paper at less price than you can buy elsewhere, and show you the best line to select from.

AGENTS—I will discount any agents' line of wall paper that has been shown to you (outside of our city merchants) 20 per cent, no matter who the agent is, or what grade of paper he may show you.

NOTICE—If any one wishes to look at my line and cannot call at the store, drop me a postal card, or call us by telephone, and I will take my samples to your homes or offices, and show you my line.

HANGING PAPER—Having made arrangements, I am ready to hang all paper bought at my store at 10c a bolt, and guarantee satisfaction.

COME IN AND SEE OUR WALL PAPER.

W. A. HILL,

228, Diamond, East Liverpool, O.

Have You Inspected It?

Inspected What?

Why the Magnificent JOB and BOOK WORK turned out at the....

News Review Job Office

FINE Presses, Skilled Workmen, Superb Material. Thousands of dollars worth of latest Designs and Styles of Type, Border and Novelties. All work absolutely guaranteed.

Test the News Review Job Department.

EVERY WOMAN

Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harmless and the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get

Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills

They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never disappoint. Sent anywhere, $1.00. Address PEAL MEDICINE CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Clarence G. Anderson, East Liverpool.

A Korean Dictionary.

The Rev. Dr. J. S. Gale, who is a doctor of medicine and a skillful surgeon as well as a Presbyterian missionary, has recently completed a dictionary of the Korean language, which is the most important work in philology since Dr. Hepburn finished his dictionary of the language of Japan. It is a volume of some 1,200 pages and represents the labor of 10 or 12 years which Dr. Gale has spent in Korea. This dictionary makes it possible for foreigners to learn the Korean language. It is the key that opens the "hermit kingdom" to commerce and industry as well as modern ideas. It is almost impossible to translate one language into another without a dictionary, particularly the symbol languages of the orient, where the words are not made up of letters and a single sign has the meaning of an entire sentence.—Chicago Record.

Settles Nervous Bankruptcy

Investigation shows that men who succeed are men of brains—strong nerves—great will power. Ordinary food cannot supply the vital forces which people with active brains and body require. Bicola Pills feed the nerves—make the mind bright, muscles strong—make flesh and blood and give perfect health to Men and Women. THE TURNERS OF PHILADELPHIA make Bicola Pills.

J. E. Buckey, Chief Clerk National Hotel, Washington, D. C., testifies that he was all run down—was a shadow of his former self—Bicola Pills gave him wonderful relief—he gained over twenty pounds after using them. East Liverpool Agents, W. O. Hamilton, A. H. Bulger and John I. Hodson.

Turners' Little Liver Turners—A very small pill. Turns your liver. Cure sick headache, billiousness, indigestion.

DIVERS AT THE MAINE

Found a Percussion Hole In a Plate

EIGHT INCHES IN DIAMETER

All Proof of Torpedo Work Will Be Removed--Admiral Monterolo Summoned Captain Sigsbee to Make Deposition. Spanish Control the Cable.

KEY WEST, Feb. 17.—[Special]—The most startling information concerning the wreck of the battleship Maine reached here this morning. There is no longer doubt as to how the vessel came to her end.

Mr. Weatherford, the regular correspondent of the Associated Press, has arrived here from the scene of the wreck. He says that divers working about the bottom have discovered an eight inch percussion hole in her plate. All proofs of the work done by a torpedo will be removed at once and carefully guarded.

Admiral Manterolo has summoned Captain Sigsbee to make deposition as to the exact nature of the discovery. The Spanish authorities control the Havana end of the cable.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services Over the Remains of the Late Mrs. Boyce.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Jane Harker Boyce were conducted at the late home, Second and Jackson streets, this afternoon.

A quartette composed of T. B. Everson, B. M. Everson, Rev. S. F. Marks and M. E. Golding sang beautifully, and Reverend Reinartz read a passage of scripture. Dr. John Lloyd Lee prayed fervently, and was followed by another selection from the quartet.

Rev. J. M. Huston and Dr. J. C. Taggart spoke feelingly of the long Christian service of the deceased and gave to the sorrowing friends kind words of sympathy. The benediction was pronounced by Doctor Lee. The attendance was very large, and the room in which the remains lay was a bower of beautiful flowers.

The pall bearers were W. W. Harker, H. N. Harker, David Harker, Benjamin Harker, H. L. Simms, Charles Boyce, N. G. Macrum and T. B. Everson. Interent was in Riverview.

The friends from out of the city who were in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyce, New Kensington; T. B. Everson, John Everson, Barclay Everson, W. E. Macrum, Pittsburg; Rev. S. F. Marks, Tidioute, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Rand, Wellsville.

SHORT OF FUNDS.

The City Only Has a Little Money on Hand.

The city has less money to its credit at the present time than it has had for several months.

The payment of last month's bills by council made a considerable drain upon the finances, and this morning when figuring up the balances, City Treasurer Herbert discovered that there was but little over $6000 to our credit in the banks. There is no danger of the city becoming bankrupt, however, as the February installment of taxes, amounting to at least $20,000 will be due from Auditor Harvey on the 21st, and will once more place the city in good financial condition.

When the bonds are sold for the improvements that were made last fall it will also add materially to the balances.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

Aggie Harvey is Walking.

Among the list of contestants in a 72 hour female pedestrian race in Pittsburg appears the name of Aggie Harvey, who participated in the six day walking match at the Fifth street rink, in this city, the close of which was made famous by the murder of Agnes Jane Robison by her husband.

Aggie Harvey, or Mrs. Weigand, as she was better known here, was one of the principal witnesses in the case, and will long be remembered by residents of this community.

The Result of Bad Roads.

A resident stood on a prominent corner in the city this morning, and watched the wagons of farmers as they passed. Every wheel was covered with frozen soil, and the great depth of the fringe showed that before the cold weather came those wagons had passed along roads that are a disgrace to any civilized community.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

THE MAYOR'S DUTIES.

Citizen Takes Issue With President of Council Peach.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I very much admire the course lately advocated by President of Council Peach, in demanding that racing shall cease in the city limits and that the laws and ordinances shall be enforced. But I take issue with the president of council when he attempts to shield Mayor Gilbert, asserting that the mayor is not to blame and that the fault lies with the policemen. The mayor is to blame, and very much to blame. Why? For the very simple reason that he is the chief magistrate of this city—the commander in chief of the force designated to patrol the same and protect the citizens thereof, and to enforce the laws and ordinances enacted by council. He is all powerful in such command, and he can compel the policemen to do their duty or dismiss them from the force which they have disgraced. For the mayor of any city to endeavor to cast blame on the force under his command is simply childish, when it is known that he can and should enforce his commands to the letter, and not be merely a figure head. The mayor is responsible for the good order of the city, and he is placed in his official position with this distinct understanding, and when he intimates that he cannot enforce the laws and ordinances enacted for the control of said city, then should he step down and out and let a better commander assume the position, a man who will not only issue orders, but enforce them. The marshal of the city is subordinate to the mayor, and he receives his orders from the latter official and in turn passes them down to the roundsmen. When the marshal of East Liverpool asserts that he does not know who the parties were who were racing on Sunday, only a few weeks ago, we would respectfully refer him to the president of council, Mr. George Peach, as the gentleman in question can give him absolutely reliable information. The great difficulty standing in the way of the proper enforcement of law in our city at the present time, rests in the fact that there is an election near at hand, and prospective candidates are fearful that they will hurt their chances for nomination or renomination. "'Tis true, 'tis pity; and pity 'tis, 'tis true."

"In other words, it is simply an outrage and a shame that the enforcement or non-enforcement of existing laws should depend on such surroundings. Reform is sadly needed, and the great mass of conservative citizens are determined reform shall control. VOTER."

Continuing Improvements.

The receiving platform of the freight depot will not be raised 18 inches as it was at first thought. That part of the floor occupied by the old office will be raised from six to eight inches. This will include 40 feet of floor. The other will not be raised until the new floor is laid. This last work will not be started until summer, when, it is said, the entire building will be given a thorough overhauling. The exact time the work will be started could not be learned.

No New Cases.

No new cases of typhoid fever have developed in Smith's Ferry for several days. The patients under treatment are all recovering.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

POSTPONED FOR A WEEK

Bridge Matter Was Not Considered In Cleveland.

MANY AFFIDAVITS PRESENTED

Judge Billingsley and Walter B. Hill, For Receiver Owen, Asked More Time, and It Was Given Them--Something Is Expected Next Week.

The bridge matter took another turn in Cleveland yesterday, and Tollkeeper Todd is still collecting money at the Ohio side.

Judge Billingsley and Walter B. Hill represented Receiver Owens, and Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, looked after John Shrader's side of the matter. The defense presented a lot of affidavits, and asked more time in which to prepare for the hearing, showing that the matter was very important. Judge Ricks acknowledged the justice of the plea, and postponed the hearing until next Wednesday.

It is rumored that there will be some interesting developments in the matter next week, but their nature is not given out.

THREE MEN KILLED.

An Accident Occurred Near Enon Last Night.

LISBON, Feb. 17.—[Special]—William Ryan, of Leetonia, and Robert Lawrence and John Hafley, of Salem, were run down and killed on the Fort Wayne near Enon last night.

One body was literally ground to pieces.

Called to His Reward.

Harrison Ebert died yesterday afternoon at his home in Jefferson street after an illness of several months.

Deceased was aged 80 years. His death was due to the infirmities of old age. He had been a resident of the city for 23 years and was well and favorably known. His wife and several children, all married but one, are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral services will be held from the home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment at Riverview.

Winnie's Good Clothes.

A morning paper says:

"Joe Campbell says Winnie Mercer, the leading juvenile man and premier twirler of of the Wagnerian troupe of Senators, arrived in Washington on Friday with a repertoire of toggery that would relegate Al Maul's anarchistic calliopean regalia to the misfit parlor."

Moved to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Fossen and children, of Kokomo, Ind., who have been in the city several days, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pilgrim, of Broadway, left this morning for Toronto. Mr. Van Fossen has taken a position in the Toronto pottery, and has moved his effects to that place.

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Enoch Elden was a Pittsburg visitor today.

—J. W. Albright is in Irondale today on business.

—James Cannon is in Pittsburg today on business.

—John W. Albright was in Irondale on business today.

—Miss Lena Collins, of Zanesville, is visiting friends in this city.

—Charles E. Flint, of Sistersville, was in the city today on business.

—Mrs. George Brunt has returned from a visit with Chicago friends.

—Miss Mary Wilson, of Columbiana, is the guest of friends in this city.

—Miss Sterling is visiting friends in Lisbon. She will remain there several days.

—Miss Georgia Kelly has returned to the city after an absence of several weeks.

—Miss Jeannette Ashbaugh, of Lincoln avenue, is visiting friends in Allegheny.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larkins, who have been spending several days in Akron, returned home this afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, of Salineville, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hill, of Seventh street, today.

—F. H. Franklin and O. M. Bradford, of Pittsburg, returned home today after spending a few days with relatives in this city.

A KLONDIKE RAILROAD

Scheme of Two St. Louisans to Build a Road of Wood.

A wooden railroad for Alaska is the dream of interested St. Louisans. It is proposed to construct in the ice and snow bound country of the north a railroad entirely of wood, the roadbed and tracks and the 8 by 9 rails being of the same material. Leslie Malon and J. N. Newsom of St. Louis are the inventors and promoters of this novel engineering feat.

The chief features of the project are the locomotive and rolling stock, which have been patented. The cars will be of very light weight, with a carrying capacity of ten tons each. The wheels of the cars have no flanges, a small rotary wheel with a rubber tube and ball bearings being employed, which renders them practically noiseless when in operation. The locomotives are constructed on a like basis.

The inventors propose to construct the road after a careful survey of the three or four routes already investigated by those financially interested in the scheme and hope to have it in full operation in the early summer.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

YOUNG BRIDAL COUPLE.

Sixteen-year-old Boy and His Wife Enter Missouri University.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary Snyder of Kansas City have recently been enrolled as students of Missouri university. They gave their respective ages as 16 years and are undoubtedly the youngest married couple ever enrolled at this institution.

Mr. Snyder is the son of a wealthy capitalist of Kansas City. There was some objection to the marriage offered by the parents of the couple, but a brother of the groom, who has been a student at Missouri university for several years, was instrumental in bringing about the marriage and made arrangements for his entrance to the school with his bride several weeks ago.

Letters recently received from the parents of the contracting parties show that they have been forgiven and will continue as students for the remainder of the year.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Court News.

LISBON, Feb. 17.—[Special.]—Sheriff Gill is in East Palestine summoning witnesses to testify before the grand jury.

Marriage licenses were issued to E. H. Everett and Pearl M. Neely, L. L. Weaver and Mary Yaggi.

The guardian of H. Ruff, of Homeworth, filed his return of private sale of personal property. Ruff is the man who figured as defendant in a sensational trial last term.

J. D. Johnson has sold to Mary E. Davis a tract of land east of lot 1,262 in Liverpool for $1500. F. H. Croxall to Kate Koch, part of lot 356, Fourth street. Consideration $1,800.

They Blew Her Up.

Did they or did they not? Was the explosion intentional or an accident? This is the question to be settled with the Spanish respecting our battleship "Maine." But there is no dispute about the explosion of "High Prices," and H. Cohen hurled the torpedo which knocked high prices higher than Gilderoy's famous kite. Don't you fail to read Cohen's ad in tomorrow's issue, and then call and see the handsome overcoats, suits and underwear, and note the wonderfully low prices. Inspect the handsome show windows. Bargains for everybody. *()

Married.

Jesse K. Mackall, of Hookstown, and Miss Ella Taylor, of this city, were married by Dr. J. C. Taggart at his residence last evening.

The Fruit Question In Germany.

Quoth Willie Hohenzollern
As he gave his horn a toot:
"I'll put a stiff embargo
On these loads of Yankee fruit.

"I'll take good care their vessels
Do not bring it within reach,
For if my serfs want peaches—
Well, say, ain't I a peach?

"And should they ask for apples—
They are always wanting more—
I'll easily satisfy 'em
With a taste of army corps.

"Or if for pears they murmur
With a mild, besecching air
I'll ask if me and Heinrich
Do not make a luscious pair!"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

$50 reward will be paid for a case of backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, loss of vitality incipient kidney, bladder and urinary disorders, that cannot be cured by Morrow's Kidneolds, the great scientific discovery for shattered nerves and thin impoverished blood. Prepared in yellow tablets; 50c a box at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by HERB MEDICINE CO., Manufacturers of the famous Lightning Hot Drops, SPRINGFIELD, OHIO. Write for testimonials.

V. H. MOWLS. LODGE RIDDLE

MOWLS & RIDDLE,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

HUSTON BLOCK, LISBON, OHIO

FOR SALE—FRESH MILCH COW. FOR particulars as to price, terms, etc., call on or address S. Beal, California Hollow.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK,

J. N. HANLEY.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.

FOR MAYOR,

E. A. STEVENSON,

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR MAYOR,

JOHN W. WYMAN.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK,

JOHN R. REARK.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE,

J. N. ROSE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR MAYOR

A. V. GILBERT,

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.

Prof. L. H. Harper's

"THIRTEENTH"

Free Song Recital.

NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE,
Thursday Evening, Feb. 17.

"Sweet Ruth" and "Gran'ma" will be sung on this occasion. A copy of "Sweet Ruth" will be given, free, as a souvenir, with each reserved seat.

Reserved Seats, - 10c.
All other seats, - Free.

SMITH & PHILLIPS

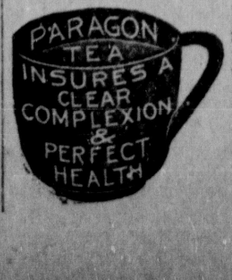

Hill's Real Estate List

10 lots 30x100 Bradshaw av. $400 each.
A house and lot. It cost $2650; will take $2200. Situated within ten minutes walk of the Diamond.
$850 buys a 4 room house with lot 30x30 near lower Fourth st. $300 down, balance easy.
$400, balance easy, buys a 6 room house, new, with large lot on the corner of Chestnut st. and Sheridan av.
$2500 will deed you an 8 room house modern improvements, situated on a lot 60x130; part of Riverview park, a pleasant place and a fine view of the Ohio.
Real Estate bought and sold in all parts of the city. Inquire of
ELIJAH W. HILL, J. P.
Cor. Broadway and Washington Sts.

Dr. J. N. VODREY
DENTIST,
Room 4, Porter Building,
DIAMOND.

Money to Loan
IN ANY SUM FROM
$100 TO $10,000,
on easy payment and low rate of interest. Full particulars at the
POTTERS' BUILDING & SAVINGS COMPANY
Corner Fifth and Washington Streets.

Is Your Head Clear? Do you feel a boundless energy in your blood? You can have these and renewed vitality by taking a dose of Paragon Tea before retiring. Constipation Cured. 25 cents for one months treatment. All druggists. Send 2 cent stamp for sample. S. S. FEIL & CO. Cleveland, O.

DIVERS AT THE MAINE

Found a Percussion Hole In a Plate

EIGHT INCHES IN DIAMETER

All Proof of Torpedo Work Will Be Removed--Admiral Monterolo Summoned Captain Sigsbee to Make Deposition. Spanish Control the Cable.

KEY WEST, Feb. 17.—[Special]—The most startling information concerning the wreck of the battleship Maine reached here this morning. There is no longer doubt as to how the vessel came to her end.

Mr. Weatherford, the regular correspondent of the Associated Press, has arrived here from the scene of the wreck. He says that divers working about the bottom have discovered an eight inch percussion hole in her plate. All proofs of the work done by a torpedo will be removed at once and carefully guarded.

Admiral Manterolo has summoned Captain Sigsbee to make deposition as to the exact nature of the discovery. The Spanish authorities control the Havana end of the cable.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral Services Over the Remains of the Late Mrs. Boyce.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Jane Harker Boyce were conducted at the late home, Second and Jackson streets, this afternoon.

A quartette composed of T. B. Everson, B. M. Everson, Rev. S. F. Marks and M. E. Golding sang beautifully, and Reverend Reinartz read a passage of scripture. Dr. John Lloyd Lee prayed fervently, and was followed by another selection from the quartet.

Rev. J. M. Huston and Dr. J. C. Taggart spoke feelingly of the long Christian service of the deceased and gave to the sorrowing friends kind words of sympathy. The benediction was pronounced by Doctor Lee. The attendance was very large, and the room in which the remains lay was a bower of beautiful flowers.

The pall bearers were W. W. Harker, H. N. Harker, David Harker, Benjamin Harker, H. L. Simms, Charles Boyce, N. G. Macrum and T. B. Everson. Interent was in Riverview.

The friends from out of the city who were in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyce, New Kensington; T. B. Everson, John Everson, Barclay Everson, W. E. Macrum, Pittsburg; Rev. S. F. Marks, Tidioute, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Rand, Wellsville.

SHORT OF FUNDS.

The City Only Has a Little Money on Hand.

The city has less money to its credit at the present time than it has had for several months.

The payment of last month's bills by council made a considerable drain upon the finances, and this morning when figuring up the balances, City Treasurer Herbert discovered that there was but little over $6000 to our credit in the banks. There is no danger of the city becoming bankrupt, however, as the February installment of taxes, amounting to at least $20,000 will be due from Auditor Harvey on the 21st, and will once more place the city in good financial condition.

When the bonds are sold for the improvements that were made last fall it will also add materially to the balances.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

Aggie Harvey is Walking.

Among the list of contestants in a 72 hour female pedestrian race in Pittsburg appears the name of Aggie Harvey, who participated in the six day walking match at the Fifth street rink, in this city, the close of which was made famous by the murder of Agnes Jane Robison by her husband.

Aggie Harvey, or Mrs. Weigand, as she was better known here, was one of the principal witnesses in the case, and will long be remembered by residents of this community.

The Result of Bad Roads.

A resident stood on a prominent corner in the city this morning, and watched the wagons of farmers as they passed. Every wheel was covered with frozen soil, and the great depth of the fringe showed that before the cold weather came those wagons had passed along roads that are a disgrace to any civilized community.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

THE MAYOR'S DUTIES.

Citizen Takes Issue With President of Council Peach.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I very much admire the course lately advocated by President of Council Peach, in demanding that racing shall cease in the city limits and that the laws and ordinances shall be enforced. But I take issue with the president of council when he attempts to shield Mayor Gilbert, asserting that the mayor is not to blame and that the fault lies with the policemen. The mayor is to blame, and very much to blame. Why? For the very simple reason that he is the chief magistrate of this city—the commander in chief of the force designated to patrol the same and protect the citizens thereof, and to enforce the laws and ordinances enacted by council. He is all powerful in such command, and he can compel the policemen to do their duty or dismiss them from the force which they have disgraced. For the mayor of any city to endeavor to cast blame on the force under his command is simply childish, when it is known that he can and should enforce his commands to the letter, and not be merely a figure head. The mayor is responsible for the good order of the city, and he is placed in his official position with this distinct understanding, and when he intimates that he cannot enforce the laws and ordinances enacted for the control of said city, then should he step down and out and let a better commander assume the position, a man who will not only issue orders, but enforce them. The marshal of the city is subordinate to the mayor, and he receives his orders from the latter official and in turn passes them down to the roundsmen. When the marshal of East Liverpool asserts that he does not know who the parties were who were racing on Sunday, only a few weeks ago, we would respectfully refer him to the president of council, Mr. George Peach, as the gentleman in question can give him absolutely reliable information. The great difficulty standing in the way of the proper enforcement of law in our city at the present time, rests in the fact that there is an election near at hand, and prospective candidates are fearful that they will hurt their chances for nomination or renomination. "'Tis true, 'tis pity; and pity 'tis, 'tis true."

"In other words, it is simply an outrage and a shame that the enforcement or non-enforcement of existing laws should depend on such surroundings. Reform is sadly needed, and the great mass of conservative citizens are determined reform shall control. VOTER."

Continuing Improvements.

The receiving platform of the freight depot will not be raised 18 inches as it was at first thought. That part of the floor occupied by the old office will be raised from six to eight inches. This will include 40 feet of floor. The other will not be raised until the new floor is laid. This last work will not be started until summer, when, it is said, the entire building will be given a thorough overhauling. The exact time the work will be started could not be learned.

No New Cases.

No new cases of typhoid fever have developed in Smith's Ferry for several days. The patients under treatment are all recovering.

"Last of His Race." Grand Opera House Friday night.

POSTPONED FOR A WEEK

Bridge Matter Was Not Considered In Cleveland.

MANY AFFIDAVITS PRESENTED

Judge Billingsley and Walter B. Hill, For Receiver Owen, Asked More Time, and It Was Given Them--Something Is Expected Next Week.

The bridge matter took another turn in Cleveland yesterday, and Tollkeeper Todd is still collecting money at the Ohio side.

Judge Billingsley and Walter B. Hill represented Receiver Owens, and Attorney Lones, of Wellsville, looked after John Shrader's side of the matter. The defense presented a lot of affidavits, and asked more time in which to prepare for the hearing, showing that the matter was very important. Judge Ricks acknowledged the justice of the plea, and postponed the hearing until next Wednesday.

It is rumored that there will be some interesting developments in the matter next week, but their nature is not given out.

THREE MEN KILLED.

An Accident Occurred Near Enon Last Night.

LISBON, Feb. 17.—[Special]—William Ryan, of Leetonia, and Robert Lawrence and John Hafley, of Salem, were run down and killed on the Fort Wayne near Enon last night.

One body was literally ground to pieces.

Called to His Reward.

Harrison Ebert died yesterday afternoon at his home in Jefferson street after an illness of several months.

Deceased was aged 80 years. His death was due to the infirmities of old age. He had been a resident of the city for 23 years and was well and favorably known. His wife and several children, all married but one, are left to mourn his loss.

The funeral services will be held from the home Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment at Riverview.

Winnie's Good Clothes.

A morning paper says:

"Joe Campbell says Winnie Mercer, the leading juvenile man and premier twirler of of the Wagnerian troupe of Senators, arrived in Washington on Friday with a repertoire of toggery that would relegate Al Maul's anarchistic calliopean regalia to the misfit parlor."

Moved to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Fossen and children, of Kokomo, Ind., who have been in the city several days, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pilgrim, of Broadway, left this morning for Toronto. Mr. Van Fossen has taken a position in the Toronto pottery, and has moved his effects to that place.

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Enoch Elden was a Pittsburg visitor today.

—J. W. Albright is in Irondale today on business.

—James Cannon is in Pittsburg today on business.

—John W. Albright was in Irondale on business today.

—Miss Lena Collins, of Zanesville, is visiting friends in this city.

—Charles E. Flint, of Sistersville, was in the city today on business.

—Mrs. George Brunt has returned from a visit with Chicago friends.

—Miss Mary Wilson, of Columbiana, is the guest of friends in this city.

—Miss Sterling is visiting friends in Lisbon. She will remain there several days.

—Miss Georgia Kelly has returned to the city after an absence of several weeks.

—Miss Jeannette Ashbaugh, of Lincoln avenue, is visiting friends in Allegheny.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larkins, who have been spending several days in Akron, returned home this afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, of Salineville, were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. E. W. Hill, of Seventh street, today.

—F. H. Franklin and O. M. Bradford, of Pittsburg, returned home today after spending a few days with relatives in this city.

A KLONDIKE RAILROAD

Scheme of Two St. Louisans to Build a Road of Wood.

A wooden railroad for Alaska is the dream of interested St. Louisans. It is proposed to construct in the ice and snow bound country of the north a railroad entirely of wood, the roadbed and tracks and the 8 by 9 rails being of the same material. Leslie Malon and J. N. Newsom of St. Louis are the inventors and promoters of this novel engineering feat.

The chief features of the project are the locomotive and rolling stock, which have been patented. The cars will be of very light weight, with a carrying capacity of ten tons each. The wheels of the cars have no flanges, a small rotary wheel with a rubber tube and ball bearings being employed, which renders them practically noiseless when in operation. The locomotives are constructed on a like basis.

The inventors propose to construct the road after a careful survey of the three or four routes already investigated by those financially interested in the scheme and hope to have it in full operation in the early summer.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

YOUNG BRIDAL COUPLE.

Sixteen-year-old Boy and His Wife Enter Missouri University.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary Snyder of Kansas City have recently been enrolled as students of Missouri university. They gave their respective ages as 16 years and are undoubtedly the youngest married couple ever enrolled at this institution.

Mr. Snyder is the son of a wealthy capitalist of Kansas City. There was some objection to the marriage offered by the parents of the couple, but a brother of the groom, who has been a student at Missouri university for several years, was instrumental in bringing about the marriage and made arrangements for his entrance to the school with his bride several weeks ago.

Letters recently received from the parents of the contracting parties show that they have been forgiven and will continue as students for the remainder of the year.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Court News.

LISBON, Feb. 17.—[Special.]—Sheriff Gill is in East Palestine summoning witnesses to testify before the grand jury.

Marriage licenses were issued to E. H. Everett and Pearl M. Neely, L. L. Weaver and Mary Yaggi.

The guardian of H. Ruff, of Homeworth, filed his return of private sale of personal property. Ruff is the man who figured as defendant in a sensational trial last term.

J. D. Johnson has sold to Mary E. Davis a tract of land east of lot 1,262 in Liverpool for $1500. F. H. Croxall to Kate Koch, part of lot 356, Fourth street. Consideration $1,800.

They Blew Her Up.

Did they or did they not? Was the explosion intentional or an accident? This is the question to be settled with the Spanish respecting our battleship "Maine." But there is no dispute about the explosion of "High Prices," and H. Cohen hurled the torpedo which knocked high prices higher than Gilderoy's famous kite. Don't you fail to read Cohen's ad in tomorrow's issue, and then call and see the handsome overcoats, suits and underwear, and note the wonderfully low prices. Inspect the handsome show windows. Bargains for everybody. *[illegible]

Married.

Jesse K. Mackall, of Hookstown, and Miss Ella Taylor, of this city, were married by Dr. J. C. Taggart at his residence last evening.

The Fruit Question In Germany.

Quoth Willie Hohenzollern
As he gave his horn a toot:
"I'll put a stiff embargo
On these loads of Yankee fruit.

"I'll take good care their vessels
Do not bring it within reach,
For if my serfs want peaches—
Well, say, ain't I a peach?

"And should they ask for apples—
They are always wanting more—
I'll easily satisfy 'em
With a taste of army corps.

"Or if for pears they murmur
With a mild, beseeching air
I'll ask if me and Heinrich
Do not make a luscious pair!"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

$50 reward will be paid for a case of backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, loss of vitality, incipient kidney, bladder and urinary disorders, that cannot be cured by Morrow's Kidneolds, the great scientific discovery for shattered nerves and thin impoverished blood. Prepared in yellow tablets; 50c a box at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by HERB MEDICINE CO., Manufacturers of the famous Lightning Hot Drops, SPRINGFIELD, OHIO. Write for testimonials.

V. H. MOWLS. LODGE RIDDLE

MOWLS & RIDDLE,
ATTORNEYS
AT LAW,

HUSTON BLOCK, LISBON, OHIO

FOR SALE—FRESH MILCH COW. FOR particulars as to price, terms, etc., call on or address S. Beal, California Hollow.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK,

J. N. HANLEY.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.

FOR MAYOR,

E. A. STEVENSON,

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR MAYOR,

JOHN W. WYMAN.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR TOWNSHIP CLERK,

JOHN R. REARK.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE,

J. N. ROSE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries.
Your vote and influence solicited.

FOR MAYOR

A. V. GILBERT,

Subject to the decision of the Republican primaries,

Prof. L. H. Harper's
"THIRTEENTH"
Free Song Recital.

NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE,
Thursday Evening, Feb. 17.

"Sweet Ruth" and "Gran'ma" will be sung on this occasion. A copy of "Sweet Ruth" will be given, free, as a souvenir, with each reserved seat.

Reserved Seats, - 10c.
All other seats, - Free.

SMITH & PHILLIPS

Hill's Real Estate List

10 lots 30x100 Bradshaw av. $400 each.
A house and lot. It cost $2650; will take $2200. Situated within ten minutes walk of the Diamond.
$850 buys a 4 room house with lot 30x30 near lower Fourth st. $300 down, balance easy.
$400, balance easy, buys a 6 room house, new, with large lot on the corner of Chestnut st. and Sheridan av.
$2500 will deed you an 8 room house modern improvements, situated on a lot 60x130; part of Riverview park, a pleasant place and a fine view of the Ohio.
Real Estate bought and sold in all parts of the city. Inquire of
ELIJAH W. HILL, J. P.
Cor. Broadway and Washington Sts.

Dr. J. N. VODREY
DENTIST,
Room 4, Porter Building,
DIAMOND.

Money to Loan
IN ANY SUM FROM
$100 TO $10,000,
on easy payment and low rate of interest. Full particulars at the
POTTERS' BUILDING & SAVINGS COMPANY
Corner Fifth and Washington Streets.

IS YOUR HEAD CLEAR? Do you feel a boundless energy in your blood? You can have these and renewed vitality by taking a dose of Paragon Tea before retiring. Constipation Cured. 25 cents for one months treatment. All druggists. Send 2 cent stamp for sample. S. R. FEIL & CO. Cleveland, O.

NEW BUILDING AND LOAN

Was Organized and Is Ready For Operations.

J. M. KELLY IS THE PRESIDENT

And Some of the Best Known Business Men of the City Are Numbered Among the Directors—Offices Will Be Opened at Once.

For sometime a number of prominent business men have been considering the advisability of organizing a local building and loan association, believing there was room for a concern of this kind in the city, and as a result the Union Building, Loan and Trust company was organized last evening with an authorized capital of $300,000.

A meeting was held last evening in the office of G. Y. Travis, and the following officers elected: President, J. M. Kelly; vice president, George W. Burford; secretary, S. T. Herbert; treasurer, N. G. Macrum; attorney, G. Y. Travis; directors, Cornelius Cronin, J. T. Smith, T. V. Milligan, Jr., and H. A. Keffer.

The company is a local concern, and is not a branch of any loan association with headquarters in another city. It will commence business at once, and starts with very flattering prospects. The officers above named are among the most prominent and successful business men of the city, and their names insure success to any enterprise which they undertake.

The work of selling shares will commence at once, and the company have received several applications for loans which will be accepted as they are prepared to do business.

A room in a prominent building will be rented, and suitable office quarters will be opened within a few days.

A Poet, Too.

Fred B. Sankey, traveling passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, was in the city yesterday afternoon looking after some business. While here he booked several people for the far west.

The fact that Mr. Sankey is somewhat of a poet is evidenced by a piece that appeared in a Pittsburg paper some weeks ago, telling of the benefits passengers received who traveled over his road. The first line reads: "Tell me not in mournful numbers.

Special Services.

Special services are being conducted at the Second U. P. church, and the attendance each evening is large. Reverend Greene delivered the sermon Monday evening, and Rev. John I. Stewart, of Stewart's station, has since been preaching.

The services will be conducted through the week, and communion will be administered on Sunday.

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

To Be Buried Tomorrow.

The funeral of the late John Ross, of the West End, will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Stephen's Episcopal church. Interment will be in Riverview.

Friends desiring to view the remains can do so at the late home from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening, and from 10 o'clock until noon Friday. The casket will not be opened at the church.

Are You Saving Your Money

And depositing it in a TIME TRIED INSTITUTION where it will work for you and where you can GET ALL OR ANY PART of it conveniently and quickly if you need it? The POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS COMPANY is such an institution and you can take stock any time. Initiation fee only 25 cents for any number of shares. Now open each evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. *

Low Fare to Cleveland.

Excursion tickets to Cleveland will be sold via Pennsylvania lines Feb. 22 and 23, account the students' volunteer movement in behalf of foreign missions. The low fare may be taken advantage of by the public generally. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Feb. 28 inclusive. Get details of nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent. *

Died at Millport.

Word was received in the city today which announces the death of Adam Williard, at Millport. The funeral will take place tomorrow, leaving the late home at 10 o'clock. He was well known here.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

American Drug Shops.

During the seventeenth century the druggist came to America and closely followed English precedents, modifying them, however, by the practice of the Indians with whom he came in contact. Quack apothecaries began to spring up in the new land, and in 1636 the colony of Virginia passed a law which among other things regulated the prices and fees of the druggist. At this time it was fashionable for the druggists to practice surgery in addition to pharmacy, and the Virginia colony contained a large number of people who were proficient in both professions. In Massachusetts the business was largely in the hands of Indians, schoolmasters, old women and teachers. The Salem witchcraft delusion retarded the spread of the druggist for some time in the Bay State, for the popular impression fastened on the apothecaries a suspicion that they sold the potions that were supposed to produce the spells. Among those who suffered persecution at this time mixers of medicine appear to have been prominent.

The drug shop had not yet become a distinct institution. It was usually a branch of the grocery or spice business. In 1647 one Giles Forman of Boston had, however, firmly established himself as devoting special attention to pharmacy. In 1646 the first distinctive drug store in America was opened in Boston by William Davies. No doubt more reliance was placed on drugs then than now, when people are beginning to recognize the large part that fresh air, dietetics and other hygienic measures play in the successful treatment of disease.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Not His Province.

The New England ministers of early days were expected to preserve an aspect grave to the verge of solemnity on all occasions, not only on Sundays, but week days as well. If they possessed a sense of humor, it sometimes made itself evident even in the midst of devotional exercises.

One New Hampshire parish was guarded and guided by a quaint speaking elderly man, who had a slight lisp. He was fond of outdoor work of almost every sort and was an able farmer as well as preacher, but all domestic matters he relegated to his wife.

One day the old traveling baker seeing the minister at work in the field, drew rein, and when the jingling of his horse's bells had subsided he called out, "Any crackers wanted today, parson?"

The minister raised his head and surveyed the baker from under his shaggy eyebrows. No smile of greeting crossed his solemn face.

"Abraham in the field," he responded gravely. "Tharah (Sarah) in the tent," and without another word he resumed his hoeing and left the baker to digest his Biblical reproof and drive on to the house to find out if "Sarah" would buy any of his wares.—Youth's Companion.

When Longfellow Came to Cambridge.

In 1836, when Lowell was a sophomore, Mr. Longfellow came to Cambridge, a young man, to begin his long and valuable life in the college. His presence there proved a benediction and, I might say, marks an epoch in the history of Harvard. In the first place, he was fresh from Europe, and he gave the best possible stimulus to the budding interest in German literature. In the second place, he came from Bowdoin college, and in those days it was a very good thing for a Harvard undergraduate to know that there were people not bred in Cambridge quite as well read, as intelligent, as elegant and accomplished as any Harvard graduate. In the third place, Longfellow, though he was so young, ranked already distinctly as a man of letters.

This was no broken winded minister who had been made professor. He was not a lawyer without clients or a doctor without patients, for whom "a place" had to be found. He was already known as a poet by all educated people. —Edward Everett Hale in Outlook.

The Water Lily.

Almost everybody has observed the strange characteristic of the water lily bud opening its petals at sunrise and closing them again at sunset. It was for this reason mainly that the ancients held the water lily sacred to the sun. Pliny says: "It is reported that in the Euphrates the flower of the lotus plunges into the water at night, remaining there till midnight, and to such a depth that it cannot be reached with the hand. After midnight it begins gradually to rise, and as the sun rises above the horizon the flower also rises above the water, expands and raises itself some distance above the element in which it grows." It was also through this peculiarity that Hancarville proved that the Egyptians considered the lily an emblem of the world as it rose from the waters of the deep.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Epitaph of Pope's.

The following epitaph was highly commended by Johnson. It was written to keep alive the memory of Elizabeth Corbett, who sleeps now in St. Margaret's, Westminster:

Here rests a woman, good without pretense.
Blest with plain reason and with sober sense;
No conquest she but o'er herself desired;
No arts essayed, but not to be admired.
Passion and pride were to her soul unknown,
Convinced that virtue only is our own;
So unaffected, so composed a mind,
So firm, yet soft; so strong, yet so refined,
Heaven, as its purest gold, by tortures tried;
The saint sustained it, but the woman died.

MONEY FREE TO ALL.

REMARKABLE BILL INTRODUCED BY MR. HOWARD OF ALABAMA.

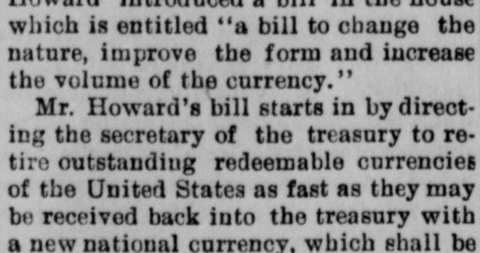

His New Style of Paper Currency — All Government Debts and Claims to Be Paid In It — Yearly Pension of $1,000 For Each Citizen Over 21 Years of Age

Some very remarkable bills are introduced in congress, and none this session is more remarkable than one fired into the hopper by Mr. M. W. Howard of Alabama. Mr. Howard is the author of a book entitled "If Christ Came to Congress," that made its appearance a few years ago, but it is not with that this story has to deal. One day recently Mr. Howard introduced a bill in the house which is entitled "a bill to change the nature, improve the form and increase the volume of the currency."

Mr. Howard's bill starts in by directing the secretary of the treasury to retire outstanding redeemable currencies of the United States as fast as they may be received back into the treasury with a new national currency, which shall be receivable for all public revenues and a full legal tender at its face value for all debts payable within the limits of its maker, but not redeemable or exchangeable in any other kind of money.

Next Mr. Howard's bill provides that the money of account of the United States shall be mills, cents, dimes, dollars, eagles, condors and talents, a condor to be ten eagles, or $100, and the talent ten condors, or $1,000. All is to be paper. The mill is to be 5 inches by 3 inches and each denomination increasing in value to be one-half inch longer, so that the talent would be about two inches longer than the present paper currency in circulation. There are to be ones, twos, threes and fives of each denomination.

Then follow the usual provisions as to counterfeiting, circulation of any other currency and all that sort of thing, punishable by a fine not exceeding one talent and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

M. W. HOWARD.

Now follow the most remarkable provisions of this most remarkable bill. The secretary of the treasury is directed to pay forthwith all the debts of the United States in this new currency, and all claims against the government when adjudicated by the district courts of the United States, when not overruled by the circuit and supreme courts, shall be paid forthwith, any act of limitation or restriction to the contrary notwithstanding.

The secretary of the treasury is directed to distribute to the treasurer of each domestic public authority, such as states, counties and municipalities, including the territories and District of Columbia, $40 per capita per annum according to the next preceding national census, until otherwise ordered by congress, in order that the said domestic authorities may pay their debts and current expenses without any local taxation.

Now comes the most extraordinary of all the provisions of this bill. The secretary of the treasury "is hereby authorized and directed to pay a national dividend of one talent to each citizen of the United States over 21 years of age who claims it after the passage of the law authorizing its payment."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

THE HUMAN BRAIN.

A Cornell Professor Says but a Small Part of It Does the Thinking.

A Cornell professor makes an interesting announcement about brains. The main portion of the human brain is composed of the cerebrum, and the portion anterior to it, devoted to smell, and known as the olfactory bulbs, is sometimes treated as a mere appendix to the cerebrum.

But this professor, after comparing brains from all grades of lower animals, declares that the human brain is an anatomical monstrosity, and that, in a historical view of the brain, the portion devoted to thinking is more properly to be styled a mere appendix to the part devoted to smelling. In some creatures the olfactory portion is much the largest part of the brain.—Philadelphia Press.

Loosing the Leash.

When there's discussion of the dogs of war being slipped, warships might be regarded as the barks in the case.—Philadelphia Times.

SEE

CRESTON CLARKE

At the . . .

Grand Opera House,

E as Liverpool,

Friday Night, Feb. 18,

In . . .

"The Last of His Race."

CRESTON CLARKE is the nephew of that famous actor, Edwin Booth, and the mantle of the uncle has fallen upon the shoulders of his talented nephew. East Liverpool will have a rare treat. Secure your seats at once. Now on sale at

Will Reed's Pharmacy

Prices: $1, 75, 50, 35, 25c

THE NEWS REVIEW PRESS.

Finest Print Shop IN EASTERN OHIO

We Print Everything From an Election Sticker to a 3-Sheet Poster.

HIGH GRADE
COLOR PRINTING,
ART CATALOGUES,
EMBOSSING,
HALF TONE WORK
IM. LITHOGRAPHY
IM. TYPE WRITER,
&c, &c, &c.

WE AIM TO DO CAREFUL, CORRECT PRINTING; TO MAKE SOMETHING ATTRACTIVE.

OUR WORK EMBRACES
CARDS,
LETTER HEADS,
INVOICE SHEETS,
INVITATIONS,
FOLDERS,
CIRCULARS,
BILLS, &c.

Book Work.

No matter what the size or class of job, with our facilities we can compete with the world in quality of work and price.

Our Type.

Customers may have the benefit of a large assortment of borders, ornaments, initials, etc. Every new face of type patented always finds room in our job department. None but first-class printers are employed, which means the best possible results obtainable from the material.

Our Presses.

The "Century" Pony for high grade book and half tone work (finest machine manufactured). Improved Gordons for commercial work, and a large Babcock for poster printing; presided over by a pressman late in charge of the finest presses in one of the largest printing houses in the world.

In a Nut Shell

High Wages,
Fine Equipment,
Artistic Workmen.

Tells the Story.

THE NEWS REVIEW PRESS.

NEW BUILDING AND LOAN

Was Organized and Is Ready For Operations.

J. M. KELLY IS THE PRESIDENT

And Some of the Best Known Business Men of the City Are Numbered Among the Directors—Offices Will Be Opened at Once.

For sometime a number of prominent business men have been considering the advisability of organizing a local building and loan association, believing there was room for a concern of this kind in the city, and as a result the Union Building, Loan and Trust company was organized last evening with an authorized capital of $300,000.

A meeting was held last evening in the office of G. Y. Travis, and the following officers elected: President, J. M. Kelly; vice president, George W. Burford; secretary, S. T. Herbert; treasurer, N. G. Macrum; attorney, G. Y. Travis; directors, Cornelius Cronin, J. T. Smith, T. V. Milligan, Jr., and H. A. Keffer.

The company is a local concern, and is not a branch of any loan association with headquarters in another city. It will commence business at once, and starts with very flattering prospects. The officers above named are among the most prominent and successful business men of the city, and their names insure success to any enterprise which they undertake.

The work of selling shares will commence at once, and the company have received several applications for loans which will be accepted as they are prepared to do business.

A room in a prominent building will be rented, and suitable office quarters will be opened within a few days.

A Poet, Too.

Fred B. Sankey, traveling passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, was in the city yesterday afternoon looking after some business. While here he booked several people for the far west.

The fact that Mr. Sankey is somewhat of a poet is evidenced by a piece that appeared in a Pittsburg paper some weeks ago, telling of the benefits passengers received who traveled over his road. The first line reads: "Tell me not in mournful numbers.

Special Services.

Special services are being conducted at the Second U. P. church, and the attendance each evening is large. Reverend Greene delivered the sermon Monday evening, and Rev. John I. Stewart, of Stewart's station, has since been preaching.

The services will be conducted through the week, and communion will be administered on Sunday.

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

To Be Buried Tomorrow.

The funeral of the late John Ross, of the West End, will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Stephen's Episcopal church. Interment will be in Riverview.

Friends desiring to view the remains can do so at the late home from 7 to 9 o'clock this evening, and from 10 o'clock until noon Friday. The casket will not be opened at the church.

Are You Saving Your Money

And depositing it in a TIME TRIED INSTITUTION where it will work for you and where you can GET ALL OR ANY PART of it conveniently and quickly if you need it? The POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS COMPANY is such an institution and you can take stock any time. Initiation fee only 25 cents for any number of shares. Now open each evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. *

Low Fare to Cleveland.

Excursion tickets to Cleveland will be sold via Pennsylvania lines Feb. 22 and 23, account the students' volunteer movement in behalf of foreign missions. The low fare may be taken advantage of by the public generally. Excursion tickets will be good returning until Feb. 28 inclusive. Get details of nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent. *

Died at Millport.

Word was received in the city today which announces the death of Adam Williard, at Millport. The funeral will take place tomorrow, leaving the late home at 10 o'clock. He was well known here.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

American Drug Shops.

During the seventeenth century the druggist came to America and closely followed English precedents, modifying them, however, by the practice of the Indians with whom he came in contact. Quack apothecaries began to spring up in the new land, and in 1636 the colony of Virginia passed a law which among other things regulated the prices and fees of the druggist. At this time it was fashionable for the druggists to practice surgery in addition to pharmacy, and the Virginia colony contained a large number of people who were proficient in both professions. In Massachusetts the business was largely in the hands of Indians, schoolmasters, old women and teachers. The Salem witchcraft delusion retarded the spread of the druggist for some time in the Bay State, for the popular impression fastened on the apothecaries a suspicion that they sold the potions that were supposed to produce the spells. Among those who suffered persecution at this time mixers of medicine appear to have been prominent.

The drug shop had not yet become a distinct institution. It was usually a branch of the grocery or spice business. In 1647 one Giles Forman of Boston had, however, firmly established himself as devoting special attention to pharmacy. In 1646 the first distinctive drug store in America was opened in Boston by William Davies. No doubt more reliance was placed on drugs then than now, when people are beginning to recognize the large part that fresh air, dietetics and other hygienic measures play in the successful treatment of disease.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Not His Province.

The New England ministers of early days were expected to preserve an aspect grave to the verge of solemnity on all occasions, not only on Sundays, but week days as well. If they possessed a sense of humor, it sometimes made itself evident even in the midst of devotional exercises.

One New Hampshire parish was guarded and guided by a quaint speaking elderly man, who had a slight lisp. He was fond of outdoor work of almost every sort and was an able farmer as well as preacher, but all domestic matters he relegated to his wife.

One day the old traveling baker seeing the minister at work in the field, drew rein, and when the jingling of his horse's bells had subsided he called out, "Any crackers wanted today, parson?"

The minister raised his head and surveyed the baker from under his shaggy eyebrows. No smile of greeting crossed his solemn face.

"Abraham in the field," he responded gravely. "Tharah (Sarah) in the tent," and without another word he resumed his hoeing and left the baker to digest his Biblical reproof and drive on to the house to find out if "Sarah" would buy any of his wares.—Youth's Companion.

When Longfellow Came to Cambridge.

In 1836, when Lowell was a sophomore, Mr. Longfellow came to Cambridge, a young man, to begin his long and valuable life in the college. His presence there proved a benediction and, I might say, marks an epoch in the history of Harvard. In the first place, he was fresh from Europe, and he gave the best possible stimulus to the budding interest in German literature. In the second place, he came from Bowdoin college, and in those days it was a very good thing for a Harvard undergraduate to know that there were people not bred in Cambridge quite as well read, as intelligent, as elegant and accomplished as any Harvard graduate. In the third place, Longfellow, though he was so young, ranked already distinctly as a man of letters.

This was no broken winded minister who had been made professor. He was not a lawyer without clients or a doctor without patients, for whom "a place" had to be found. He was already known as a poet by all educated people. —Edward Everett Hale in Outlook.

The Water Lily.

Almost everybody has observed the strange characteristic of the water lily bud opening its petals at sunrise and closing them again at sunset. It was for this reason mainly that the ancients held the water lily sacred to the sun. Pliny says: "It is reported that in the Euphrates the flower of the lotus plunges into the water at night, remaining there till midnight, and to such a depth that it cannot be reached with the hand. After midnight it begins gradually to rise, and as the sun rises above the horizon the flower also rises above the water, expands and raises itself some distance above the element in which it grows." It was also through this peculiarity that Hancarville proved that the Egyptians considered the lily an emblem of the world as it rose from the waters of the deep.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

An Epitaph of Pope's.

The following epitaph was highly commended by Johnson. It was written to keep alive the memory of Elizabeth Corbett, who sleeps now in St. Margaret's, Westminster:

Here rests a woman, good without pretense.
Blest with plain reason and with sober sense;
No conquest she but o'er herself desired;
No arts essayed, but not to be admired.
Passion and pride were to her soul unknown,
Convinced that virtue only is our own;
So unaffected, so composed a mind,
So firm, yet soft; so strong, yet so refined,
Heaven, as its purest gold, by tortures tried;
The saint sustained it, but the woman died.

MONEY FREE TO ALL.

REMARKABLE BILL INTRODUCED BY MR. HOWARD OF ALABAMA.

His New Style of Paper Currency — All Government Debts and Claims to Be Paid In It — Yearly Pension of $1,000 For Each Citizen Over 21 Years of Age

Some very remarkable bills are introduced in congress, and none this session is more remarkable than one fired into the hopper by Mr. M. W. Howard of Alabama. Mr. Howard is the author of a book entitled "If Christ Came to Congress," that made its appearance a few years ago, but it is not with that this story has to deal. One day recently Mr. Howard introduced a bill in the house which is entitled "a bill to change the nature, improve the form and increase the volume of the currency."

Mr. Howard's bill starts in by directing the secretary of the treasury to retire outstanding redeemable currencies of the United States as fast as they may be received back into the treasury with a new national currency, which shall be receivable for all public revenues and a full legal tender at its face value for all debts payable within the limits of its maker, but not redeemable or exchangeable in any other kind of money.

Next Mr. Howard's bill provides that the money of account of the United States shall be mills, cents, dimes, dollars, eagles, condors and talents, a condor to be ten eagles, or $100, and the talent ten condors, or $1,000. All is to be paper. The mill is to be 5 inches by 3 inches and each denomination increasing in value to be one-half inch longer, so that the talent would be about two inches longer than the present paper currency in circulation. There are to be ones, twos, threes and fives of each denomination.

Then follow the usual provisions as to counterfeiting, circulation of any other currency and all that sort of thing, punishable by a fine not exceeding one talent and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

M. W. HOWARD.

Now follow the most remarkable provisions of this most remarkable bill. The secretary of the treasury is directed to pay forthwith all the debts of the United States in this new currency, and all claims against the government when adjudicated by the district courts of the United States, when not overruled by the circuit and supreme courts, shall be paid forthwith, any act of limitation or restriction to the contrary notwithstanding.

The secretary of the treasury is directed to distribute to the treasurer of each domestic public authority, such as states, counties and municipalities, including the territories and District of Columbia, $40 per capita per annum according to the next preceding national census, until otherwise ordered by congress, in order that the said domestic authorities may pay their debts and current expenses without any local taxation.

Now comes the most extraordinary of all the provisions of this bill. The secretary of the treasury "is hereby authorized and directed to pay a national dividend of one talent to each citizen of the United States over 21 years of age who claims it after the passage of the law authorizing its payment."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

THE HUMAN BRAIN.

A Cornell Professor Says but a Small Part of It Does the Thinking.

A Cornell professor makes an interesting announcement about brains. The main portion of the human brain is composed of the cerebrum, and the portion anterior to it, devoted to smell, and known as the olfactory bulbs, is sometimes treated as a mere appendix to the cerebrum.

But this professor, after comparing brains from all grades of lower animals, declares that the human brain is an anatomical monstrosity, and that, in a historical view of the brain, the portion devoted to thinking is more properly to be styled a mere appendix to the part devoted to smelling. In some creatures the olfactory portion is much the largest part of the brain.—Philadelphia Press.

Loosing the Leash.

When there's discussion of the dogs of war being slipped, warships might be regarded as the barks in the case.—Philadelphia Times.

SEE

CRESTON CLARKE

At the . . .

Grand Opera House,

E as Liverpool,

Friday Night, Feb. 18,

In . . .

"The Last of His Race."

CRESTON CLARKE is the nephew of that famous actor, Edwin Booth, and the mantle of the uncle has fallen upon the shoulders of his talented nephew. East Liverpool will have a rare treat. Secure your seats at once. Now on sale at

Will Reed's Pharmacy

Prices: $1, 75, 50, 35, 25c

THE NEWS REVIEW PRESS.

Finest Print Shop IN EASTERN OHIO

We Print Everything From an Election Sticker to a 3-Sheet Poster.

HIGH GRADE
COLOR PRINTING,
ART CATALOGUES,
EMBOSSING,
HALF TONE WORK
IM. LITHOGRAPHY
IM. TYPE WRITER,
&c, &c, &c.

WE AIM TO DO CAREFUL, CORRECT PRINTING; TO MAKE SOMETHING ATTRACTIVE.

OUR WORK EMBRACES
CARDS,
LETTER HEADS,
INVOICE SHEETS,
INVITATIONS,
FOLDERS,
CIRCULARS,
BILLS, &c.

Book Work.

No matter what the size or class of job, with our facilities we can compete with the world in quality of work and price.

Our Type.

Customers may have the benefit of a large assortment of borders, ornaments, initials, etc. Every new face of type patented always finds room in our job department. None but first-class printers are employed, which means the best possible results obtainable from the material.

Our Presses.

The "Century" Pony for high grade book and half tone work (finest machine manufactured). Improved Gordons for commercial work, and a large Babcock for poster printing; presided over by a pressman late in charge of the finest presses in one of the largest printing houses in the world.

In a Nut Shell

High Wages,
Fine Equipment,
Artistic Workmen.

Tells the Story.

THE NEWS REVIEW PRESS.

FOUR MORE OFFICERS

Should Be Added to the Police Force.

TAXES FROM NEW TERRITORY

Will Help to Pay the Expense—It Is Argued That the Number of Officers Now on Duty Cannot Cover the Territory Allotted to Them.

"What this town needs is not less than four additional policemen, and if we only had the money the number could be made six without creating a surplus;" said Mayor Gilbert last night.

"The town is entirely too big to be guarded by four officers," he continued. "They cannot hope to go into every street and alley in their territory even if they keep moving all the time. Ten would not be too many, but the city can't afford it. The taxes from the territory recently added to Liverpool will pay for four officers, and they should be put on. I am in favor of an increased police force because of the influence on the people. Many men will not break the law if they think there is any chance of detection, and a few more officers scattered through the city would prevent much disorder. I think the ends justify the expenditure of more money for police protection, and I believe the new council will give the next mayor the power to appoint them."

CALLED OFF THE FIGHT.

For a Reason Not Announced It Was Postponed.

A prize fight was scheduled to take place last night in a barn on the Calcutta road. The principals were to battle for a purse and the gate receipts. A number of tickets had been sold, and a lively time was anticipated.

Early in the evening the word was passed around among the parties who had purchased tickets that the fight had been postponed indefinitely. No cause was assigned.

Excursions to the South.

From Feb. 14 to 21, inclusive, special excursion tickets to Mobile and New Orleans, account the Mardi Gras festivities, will be sold via the Pennsylvania lines. Return limit will include March 19, enabling excursionists to spend several weeks in the south. The low rate is open to all. For full particulars about the cost of tickets, time of trains, etc., apply to nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent. *

Reduced Rates to Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., may be visited at low fare via Pennsylvania Lines Feb. 20th and 21st, when special excursion tickets will be sold over that route account the National Educational Association Department of Superintendent, good to return until Feb. 28th. Anybody may purchase the reduced rate tickets of Pennsylvania Lines Ticket Agents, who will answer inquiries on the subject. *

Business Is Improving.

A fair amount of business was handled at the freight depot yesterday, and more cars were loaded than any day so far this week. The platform this morning was well filled with casks ready for shipment, and the rollers were busier than they have been for some time.

A large amount of freight was received, and the business for the day was very satisfactory.

Excursion Rates to Marion.

On Feb. 19th and 21st, excursion tickets to Marion, Ohio, will be sold from ticket stations on the Pennsylvania Lines in Ohio account the State Y. M. C. A. Convention. Tickets will be good to return until Feb. 23d, inclusive, and will be sold to all applicants. For further information apply to Pennsylvania Lines Ticket Agents. *

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

Old English Tea Party

And dance. Ninth anniversary of the Daughters of St. George, at Red Men's hall, Friday evening, February 18th. Admission 35 cents. Supper on the table from 5 until 8 o'clock.

W. D. Mahon, president A. A S. R. E. of A., will speak at Y. M C. A. hall Feb. 17. All invited.

Engaged as Agents.

H. Woodworth, of Pittsburg, and John D. Irwin, of Steubenville, have been engaged as agents of the Union Building, Loan and Trust cempany, and will solicit stock.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

LEFT ON TRAINS.

All Sorts of Articles Are Forgotten by Absentminded Passengers.

Recently a Chicago railroad displayed in its unclaimed parcel room five barrels of rubber overshoes and a box full of false teeth. All this property and more during a period of six months had been left on the suburban and through trains by absent minded passengers. The general baggage agent, upon being asked what was the oddest occurrence of this kind, said that a woman once left on a train a 6-months-old baby, and she did not miss it until a trainman overtook her with the little bundle of humanity before she got outside of the train shed. It was not a case of abandonment. She had forgotten to take up her own offspring.

Only one-half of the articles left on trains are claimed and returned to owners. At all the railroad offices in Chicago there are to be found motley collections of about all the articles which man or woman ever owned. It would be impossible to list them in a whole page of a newspaper.

The article which figures most extensively among the lost and found of the big railroads is the umbrella. An official of the Illinois Central says he received in the baggage department 1,500 umbrellas a year. General Agent Sadd of the Burlington says his records show about 600 a year, and the other lines report large collections of this serviceable article, which are left on trains in all kinds of weather. On a recent fine, sunshiny day the Burlington railroad showed on its record a whole page of abandoned umbrellas.

Next come the overshoes, which are daily found, singly and in pairs and oftentimes odd in size and kind. At all the offices they are accumulated to the extent of barrels and barrels. It is a common occurrence to find upper, lower and partial sets of false teeth. Some give evidence of long service, others have been too new and have been "laid out" to give relief. But they come in all shapes and sizes.

Wearing apparel in large quantities is to be found in the lost parcel rooms. The clerks in the Alton's quarters at the Union station fitted out a dummy figure with every single article that a man is likely to wear from head to foot. The articles were all left piece by piece on the train and gathered up by the employees until the figure was togged out in newest fashion.

The young woman stenographer in Baggage Agent Sadd's office has a pet kitten which was found in an envelope box on a train, and, there being no claimant, young Tom is being taught to earn his board by mousing in the baggage room.

Cripples frequently leave their crutches on trains. There is a collection of them at all the offices. Hanging up in the parcel room of the Illinois Central is a big anchor made of moss gathered from trees in the far south. The maker had taken care of it until Chicago was reached, only to abandon it to the care of the parcel man.—Chicago Tribune.

Free In Spite of Himself.

Under the first French empire the administration of the prison of Sainte-Pelagie was so loose that it was not rare for accused persons to lie there six months without knowing the cause of their incarceration. The following adventure, narrated in "The Dungeons of Old Paris," discloses the fact that release under similar conditions of ignorance was not impossible:

The doctor had given to a prisoner who was slightly ill an order for the baths. Not knowing in what part of the prison the infirmary was situated, he presented his order to a tipsy turnkey, who opened the outer door of the prison.

M. Guillon, a free man without being aware of it, took the narrow street to be a sentry's walk and went a few paces without finding any one to direct him. Returning to the sentry at the door, he inquired where were the baths.

"The baths?" said the sentinel.

"The prison baths."

"The prison baths," said the sentinel, "are probably in the prison, but you can't get in there."

"What—I can't get into the prison? Am I outside it, then?"

"Why, yes, you're in the street. You ought to know that, I should think."

"I did not know it, I assure you," said M. Guillon, "and this won't suit me at all."

He rang the prison bell and was readmitted, and his recital of his adventure restored to sobriety the turnkey who had given him his freedom.

Freddie's Suggestion.

Freddie's father had just been struggling with an old fashioned bureau, and, retiring disheartened from an unsuccessful effort to open one of its compartments, he moved to the window, and looking out upon the lowering sky he exclaimed, "It's mighty strange that the weather bureau can't give us a change of weather."

"Maybe," shyly interposed Freddie, "they can't open the bureau drawers."—Boston Courier.

Hearty Congratulations.

John Damm of Randolph county, who was married at Point Pleasant last week, was congratulated by the old folks, the telegram saying, "Please accept the congratulations of the whole Damm family."—Parkersburg State Journal.

CARNIVAL OF SPORT.

GRAND EXHIBITION OF GYMNASTIC AND ATHLETIC EVENTS.

Professor A. A. Stagg Has Planned It For March 5 — To Be Held at Tattersalls' Western College and School Teams to Compete—All Kinds of Contests.

A carnival of athletic and gymnastic events, the first of its kind among American educational institutions—this is what Professor A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago has planned for the afternoon and evening of March 5 next. Three big meets are to be rolled into one. Gymnastics and athletics among college teams are for the first time to be seen together; college indoor championships are to be determined; high schools and preparatory schools will struggle among themselves for honors. It will be an exhibition of wrestling, tumbling, fencing and other exercises which have never been considered intercollegiate in the west.

The question of holding the gymnastic carnival has been in the air since the instructors of gymnastics in the big western colleges met in Chicago last June. During the football season these men met again and decided that their meet would be in February. While given under their supervision it was decided that the University of Chicago should make all the arrangements and be financially responsible. The affair since then has been in the hands of a special committee of the Chicago board of physical culture.

This committee found when the ground was canvassed that the public interest is not yet up to the point where a meet of gymnastics alone would be appreciated. Then came the idea of uniting with the gymnastics the annual University of Chicago invitation indoor meet. When it was found that Tattersalls', since the destruction of the Coliseum, was the best place to hold such a carnival, it was decided that on the afternoon of the day of the carnival a high school and preparatory school meet would be advisable.

The advantages which Tattersalls' possesses for such a carnival are many, according to Mr. Stagg. The floor is 290 by 110 feet and of the best hard wood, which has been so worked with pumice stone and rosin that it could hardly be better for running purposes. Down the center there is place for a 75 yard straightaway dash, and the track is an eight lap one. The turns which will be used on the track in the meet of March 5 will be made under the special supervision of Mr. Stagg. They will be built on mathematical principles after the manner of the track in the varsity gymnasium. So accurately will the curves be made that the lanes of cord which separate the men in the long dash can be run around them. A string of boxes will be put on the floor and one in the balcony, and the place is so large that every spectator will be able to see the whole floor all the time.

According to the rules of the meet, which are novel in many ways, no college can enter a team of more than ten men in either gymnastics or athletics. It may be that no school will be allowed to enter less than ten in the athletic meet. Medals are to be given for firsts, seconds and thirds and a banner to the winning team in each branch of the tournament.

In gymnastics the list of events numbers nine. In the following five there are two set events and a choice of one—parallel bars, horizontal bar, side horse, long horse and rings. In tumbling and Indian clubs everything is at the choice of the contestant, and of course there are no set events in wrestling and fencing. Six schools will send teams to enter in this tourney—the state universities of Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan, Northwestern university and the University of Chicago.

There are 11 events in the athletic meet—75 yard dash, straightaway; 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, mile run, mile walk, 75 yard high hurdle, shot put, running high jump, pole vault and team race. All the colleges entered in the carnival, with others, will have teams in the athletic meet. The race between such entrants will be the most exciting intercollegiate event the west has known.

The University of Wisconsin has already selected her men for the athletic meet. They are: Maybury, Phil Fox and McGowan in the dashes; E. T. Fox in the quarter, Slocum and Donkle in the runs, O'Dea in the hurdles, Cochems in the shot put and Mason and Frame in the jump.—Chicago Times-Herald.

At Anson's Expense.

One of the stories told about Adrian Anson relates to successive visits to Pittsburg and Louisville. At Pittsburg the Chicago players stopped at the Alleghany House and at Louisville at the Louisville hotel. On arriving at Pittsburg the team insisted on having a bus to the hotel. Anson growled a little, but finally took a seat with the others. "All aboard!" shouted the driver as the platform man closed the door at the rear of the vehicle. Then followed a ride of 60 feet by actual measurement across the street, where the bus was backed up and the attendant shouted: "Alleghany House. All out!" The players thought it was a good joke and laughed at the old man's expense as he reluctantly paid the bill. A few days later, when the team arrived at Louisville, the same performance was gone through with, the only difference being that the distance to the hotel was several hundred feet.—New York Sun.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Some Interesting Chat About Public Men In Washington.

"Dinner giving and dinner going are the mildest and most charming forms of dissipation." This is the opinion of Senator Elkins, and surely there is none better qualified to judge.

Blessed with a goodly portion of this world's wealth, but still more happy in the possession of a genial temperament and a good digestion, Senator Elkins likes nothing better than to gather a congenial company around his table. He is such a clever conversationalist and has such a fund of stories that his company is in constant demand at other people's dinners. Indeed this problem of dining has become a serious one with Senator Elkins. He thinks that as a busy man he ought not to give more than three nights a week to dinners. The invitations, however, are so numerous that the popular senator will have to enlarge his limit.

The handsome, curly locks of Senator McLaurin of South Carolina have disappeared. Instead of Hyperion ringlets clustering on his head there blooms a covering of pompadourian hair, which gives the senator a croppy look. All this is due to the fact that while Mr. McLaurin was ill the ruthless barber plied his shears.

McLaurin, by the way, is one of the most athletic men in the senate. He is young, well built and active. When he was a student at the University of Virginia, he was the leader in athletic sports and was an especially good boxer. It was related the other day that at one time young McLaurin was found by some students thrashing a big bully until the man cried aloud for mercy.

"What's the matter, Mac?" asked his friends.

"Nothing," replied the future senator, "except that this fellow was abusing a little lame boy out here, and I thought I would teach him a lesson."

Some men like to trace their ancestry back to kings. Senator Clark of Wyoming is proud that his father was a blacksmith.

"I was reared in a home of toil," said the senator in a speech a day or two ago. "I was reared in a family where the father day by day, year in and year out for nearly half a century wiped the sweat off his brow over the glowing forge and provided food and clothing and shelter for the family and an ordinary education for the boys and girls by the never ceasing ring of the blacksmith's hammer."

To many visitors at the capitol Senator Davis of Minnesota is pointed out as being the double of the late Ben Butler, and there is no doubt that the likeness is very striking. There are, however, many marked resemblances among the public men in Washington. Interstate Commerce Commissioner Yeomans has features very much like the late George M. Pullman; Lawrence Gardner was frequently taken for Grover Cleveland, and Colonel Nick Smith, Greeley's son-in-law, very much resembles Senator Walthall. The latest prominent instance is Colonel Howard Saxby of Cincinnati, who doubles John Addison Porter, secretary to the president. The resemblance is really marvelous. As Colonel Saxby stepped off his private car at the Pennsylvania depot the other day he was approached by a newspaper reporter, who asked him if the president's relations with Foraker had changed since the culmination of the Hanna episode.

"I am sure I don't know anything about either the president or Senator Foraker," said Colonel Saxby.

"Are you not Mr. Porter?"

"Almost, but not quite," said the Ohio valley magnate. "I wish I were as good a man."

Representative Sperry of Connecticut is probably the last survivor of the gentlemen who were closely associated in the construction of the famous Monitor that fought with the Merrimac in Hampton Roads. The three builders of the "Yankee cheese box" were John Ericsson, a Swede, known the world over as the inventor; Cornelius S. Bushnell of New Haven, and John A. Griswold of Troy, N. Y., the last two being interested with Mr. Ericsson as part owners. Mr. Bushnell and Mr. Sperry were close friends, and the latter went on Mr. Bushnell's bond for $200,000. It should be borne in mind—what is not generally known by students of American history—that the Monitor was owned by private parties and not by the government when she fought the historic battle.

The three gentlemen named were authorized by the government to build the Monitor, and if she was able to do what was promised the government had agreed to purchase her. There was a great deal of skepticism about the craft, but the government advanced some money for her construction, and for that reason the builders were required to give bond for the return of the money if the boat was a failure.

Mr. Sperry remembers vividly the day of the battle, for the failure of the Monitor meant more to him than disaster to the Federals. It would have taken every dollar of his property to satisfy the government bond.—Washington Post.

The Society Girl.

She sighed a little nervous sigh,
She said, "I'll rest me by and by,"
And then she girded up her stays
And sought again those devious ways
That mark to such a large extent
The hours that lead us on to Lent.

She went to luncheon at the B's,
She played at euchre at the C's,
She sipped the "tea" at Mrs. A's,
She dined in state at Mrs. J's,
She joined the "box" of Mrs. I,
And then she lunched with Mrs. Y,
And when the dainty feast was o'er
She staid and danced till after four.

"Another day," she gasped, "is blent
With these that down the highway went.
I hope I will survive till Lent!"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div. Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time.

Through Coaches on Trains 336, 359, 337 and 360 between Cleveland and Bellaire.

Westward.	335	337	339	341	359
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM
Pittsburgh ...lv.	†5 45	†1 30	†4 30	*11 00	†7 30
Rochester.....“	6 40	2 15	5 25	11 50	8 17
Beaver.....“	6 45	2 20	5 33	11 55	8 24
Vanport.....“	6 50	.....	5 38	11 59	8 29
Industry.....“	7 00	.....	5 50	12 10	8 41
Cooks Ferry.....“	7 03	.....	5 55	12 11	†8 45
Smiths Ferry.....“	7 11	2 40	6 04	12 20	8 54
East Liverpool...“	7 20	2 49	6 14	12 30	9 05
Wellsville.....ar.	7 33	3 00	†6 28	12 40	9 15
Wellsville.....lv.	7 42	3 05		12 45
Wellsville Shop.“	7 46	.....		12 50
Yellow Creek.....“	7 52	.....		12 55
Hammondsville“	8 00	.....		†1 03
Irondale.....“	8 04	3 22		†1 06
Sallneville.....“	8 19	3 38		1 27
Bayard.....“	8 57	4 10		2 05
Alliance.....{ar.	9 30	4 33		2 30
Alliance.....{lv.	10 05	4 38		2 35
Ravenna.....“	10 40	5 06		3 10
Hudson.....“	11 02	5 25		3 30
Cleveland.....ar.	12 10	6 25		4 30
Wellsville.....lv.	7 47	3 10	6 55	†5 55	†11 02
Wellsville Shop.“	7 52	3 13	6 58	5 59	11 05
Yellow Creek.....“	7 57	3 18	7 04	6 05	11 10
Port Homer.....“	†8 03	†3 23	†7 09	†6 09
Empire.....“	8 10	3 28	7 14	6 17	11 21
Elliottsville.....“	†8 17	3 33	7 18	6 21	11 25
Toronto.....“	8 21	3 38	7 23	6 30	11 28
Costonia.....“	†8 28	†3 43	7 30	6 37
Steubenville.....{ar.	8 44	4 00	7 45	6 55	11 45
Steubenville.....{lv.	8 44	4 00	7 45	6 55	11 45
Mingo Jc.....“	8 51	4 10	7 53	7 05	11 53
Brilliant.....“	8 58	4 20	8 00	7 14	12 01
Rush Run.....“	9 07	4 32	8 09	7 24	12 10
Portland.....“	9 14	4 39	8 15	7 30	12 16
Yorkville.....“	†9 19	†4 46	8 20	7 37	12 21
Martins Ferry.....“	9 32	5 01	8 28	7 52	12 28
Bridgeport.....“	9 40	5 10	8 35	7 58	12 35
Bellaire.....ar.	9 50	5 20	8 45	8 10	12 45
	AM	PM	PM	AM	PM

Eastward.	340	336		338	360	48
	AM	AM		PM	PM	PM
Bellaire.....lv.	†4 45	†9 00		†4 45	†1 00	†2 45
Bridgeport.....“	4 53	9 09		4 54	1 10	3 05
Martins Ferry.....“	5 01	9 15		5 02	1 16	3 12
Yorkville.....“	†5 10	.....		5 12	.....	†3 22
Portland.....“	5 15	9 28		5 19	1 28	3 27
Rush Run.....“	5 20	9 33		5 24	.....	3 30
Brilliant.....“	5 28	9 41		5 34	1 42	3 42
Mingo Jc.....“	5 35	9 48		5 41	1 50	3 51
Steubenville...{ar.	5 44	9 55		5 50	1 58	4 00
Steubenville...{lv.	5 44	9 56		5 50	1 58	4 00
Costonia.....“	†6 00	10 12				†4 15
Toronto.....“	6 07	10 19		6 11	2 19	4 20
Elliottsville.....“	6 11	10 20				†4 24
Empire.....“	6 13	10 30		6 21	2 27	4 27
Port Homer.....“	†6 20	10 33				4 37
Yellow Creek.....“	6 25	10 40		6 33	.....	4 44
Wellsville Shop.“	6 31	10 45		6 38	.....	4 50
Wellsville.....ar.	†6 35	10 50		†6 41	2 45	4 55
Wellsville.....lv.	7 42				3 05
Wellsville Shop.“	7 46				.....
Yellow Creek.....“	7 52				.....
Hammondsville“	8 00				.....
Irondale.....“	8 04				3 22
Sallneville.....“	8 19				3 38
Bayard.....“	8 57				4 10
Alliance.....{ar.	9 30				4 33
Alliance.....{lv.	10 05				4 38
Ravenna.....“	10 40				5 05
Hudson.....“	11 02				5 25
Cleveland.....ar.	12 10				6 25
						AM
Wellsville.....lv.	6 45	11 00		6 51	3 10	*3 50
East Liverpool...“	6 57	11 10		7 00	3 20	4 01
Smiths Ferry.....“	7 07	11 20		7 08	3 30	4 12
Cooks Ferry.....“	7 20	11 26			†3 38	†4 20
Industry.....“	7 25	11 31		7 22	3 42	4 26
Vanport.....“	7 34	11 40			3 53	†4 38
Beaver.....“	7 40	11 45		7 36	3 58	4 43
Rochester.....“	7 50	11 50		7 42	4 12	4 50
Pittsburgh...ar.	8 50	12 40		8 30	5 10	5 40
	AM	PM		PM	PM	AM

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Nos. 338 and 342 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with thro' trains East.

†Daily Except Sunday. *Daily. |Meals.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 341 and 342, and Parlor Cars on Nos 337 and 338 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations.

Nos. 335 and 337 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 337 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-28-97.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

Exclusive Agency for the Celebrated Air Cushion Rubber Stamps.

THE NEWS REVIEW

WANTED

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Inquire 345 West Market street.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—THREE LOTS IN BRADSHAW addition fronting Chester street. Charles McGregor, real estate agent, Wellsville.

FOR SALE:—LOT 30x100, FOUR ROOMED house and stable, situated in Hellana. Price $800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln Avenue.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—A FINE OFFICE ROOM IN the Blackmore block, corner of Sixth and East Market streets. Room now occupied by Robert Foutts. Rent reasonable. Apply to Mrs. Blackmore, East Market street.

FOR RENT—TWO VERY DESIRABLE furnished rooms, in splendid location. For full particulars, apply at this office. References required and insisted upon.

FOUR MORE OFFICERS

Should Be Added to the Police Force.

TAXES FROM NEW TERRITORY

Will Help to Pay the Expense—It Is Argued That the Number of Officers Now on Duty Cannot Cover the Territory Allotted to Them.

"What this town needs is not less than four additional policemen, and if we only had the money the number could be made six without creating a surplus;" said Mayor Gilbert last night.

"The town is entirely too big to be guarded by four officers," he continued. "They cannot hope to go into every street and alley in their territory even if they keep moving all the time. Ten would not be too many, but the city can't afford it. The taxes from the territory recently added to Liverpool will pay for four officers, and they should be put on. I am in favor of an increased police force because of the influence on the people. Many men will not break the law if they think there is any chance of detection, and a few more officers scattered through the city would prevent much disorder. I think the ends justify the expenditure of more money for police protection, and I believe the new council will give the next mayor the power to appoint them."

CALLED OFF THE FIGHT.

For a Reason Not Announced It Was Postponed.

A prize fight was scheduled to take place last night in a barn on the Calcutta road. The principals were to battle for a purse and the gate receipts. A number of tickets had been sold, and a lively time was anticipated.

Early in the evening the word was passed around among the parties who had purchased tickets that the fight had been postponed indefinitely. No cause was assigned.

Excursions to the South.

From Feb. 14 to 21, inclusive, special excursion tickets to Mobile and New Orleans, account the Mardi Gras festivities, will be sold via the Pennsylvania lines. Return limit will include March 19, enabling excursionists to spend several weeks in the south. The low rate is open to all. For full particulars about the cost of tickets, time of trains, etc., apply to nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent. *

Reduced Rates to Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., may be visited at low fare via Pennsylvania Lines Feb. 20th and 21st, when special excursion tickets will be sold over that route account the National Educational Association Department of Superintendent, good to return until Feb. 28th. Anybody may purchase the reduced rate tickets of Pennsylvania Lines Ticket Agents, who will answer inquiries on the subject. *

Business Is Improving.

A fair amount of business was handled at the freight depot yesterday, and more cars were loaded than any day so far this week. The platform this morning was well filled with casks ready for shipment, and the rollers were busier than they have been for some time.

A large amount of freight was received, and the business for the day was very satisfactory.

Excursion Rates to Marion.

On Feb. 19th and 21st, excursion tickets to Marion, Ohio, will be sold from ticket stations on the Pennsylvania Lines in Ohio account the State Y. M. C. A. Convention. Tickets will be good to return until Feb. 23d, inclusive, and will be sold to all applicants. For further information apply to Pennsylvania Lines Ticket Agents. *

Creston Clarke, Booth's nephew, and a worthy descendant of his famous uncle, at the Grand Friday night.

Old English Tea Party

And dance. Ninth anniversary of the Daughters of St. George, at Red Men's hall, Friday evening, February 18th. Admission 35 cents. Supper on the table from 5 until 8 o'clock.

W. D. Mahon, president A. A S. R. E. of A., will speak at Y. M C. A. hall Feb. 17. All invited.

Engaged as Agents.

H. Woodworth, of Pittsburg, and John D. Irwin, of Steubenville, have been engaged as agents of the Union Building, Loan and Trust cempany, and will solicit stock.

Creston Clarke at the Grand tomorrow night.

LEFT ON TRAINS.

All Sorts of Articles Are Forgotten by Absentminded Passengers.

Recently a Chicago railroad displayed in its unclaimed parcel room five barrels of rubber overshoes and a box full of false teeth. All this property and more during a period of six months had been left on the suburban and through trains by absent minded passengers. The general baggage agent, upon being asked what was the oddest occurrence of this kind, said that a woman once left on a train a 6-months-old baby, and she did not miss it until a trainman overtook her with the little bundle of humanity before she got outside of the train shed. It was not a case of abandonment. She had forgotten to take up her own offspring.

Only one-half of the articles left on trains are claimed and returned to owners. At all the railroad offices in Chicago there are to be found motley collections of about all the articles which man or woman ever owned. It would be impossible to list them in a whole page of a newspaper.

The article which figures most extensively among the lost and found of the big railroads is the umbrella. An official of the Illinois Central says he received in the baggage department 1,500 umbrellas a year. General Agent Sadd of the Burlington says his records show about 600 a year, and the other lines report large collections of this serviceable article, which are left on trains in all kinds of weather. On a recent fine, sunshiny day the Burlington railroad showed on its record a whole page of abandoned umbrellas.

Next come the overshoes, which are daily found, singly and in pairs and oftentimes odd in size and kind. At all the offices they are accumulated to the extent of barrels and barrels. It is a common occurrence to find upper, lower and partial sets of false teeth. Some give evidence of long service, others have been too new and have been "laid out" to give relief. But they come in all shapes and sizes.

Wearing apparel in large quantities is to be found in the lost parcel rooms. The clerks in the Alton's quarters at the Union station fitted out a dummy figure with every single article that a man is likely to wear from head to foot. The articles were all left piece by piece on the train and gathered up by the employees until the figure was togged out in newest fashion.

The young woman stenographer in Baggage Agent Sadd's office has a pet kitten which was found in an envelope box on a train, and, there being no claimant, young Tom is being taught to earn his board by mousing in the baggage room.

Cripples frequently leave their crutches on trains. There is a collection of them at all the offices. Hanging up in the parcel room of the Illinois Central is a big anchor made of moss gathered from trees in the far south. The maker had taken care of it until Chicago was reached, only to abandon it to the care of the parcel man.—Chicago Tribune.

Free In Spite of Himself.

Under the first French empire the administration of the prison of Sainte-Pelagie was so loose that it was not rare for accused persons to lie there six months without knowing the cause of their incarceration. The following adventure, narrated in "The Dungeons of Old Paris," discloses the fact that release under similar conditions of ignorance was not impossible:

The doctor had given to a prisoner who was slightly ill an order for the baths. Not knowing in what part of the prison the infirmary was situated, he presented his order to a tipsy turnkey, who opened the outer door of the prison.

M. Guillon, a free man without being aware of it, took the narrow street to be a sentry's walk and went a few paces without finding any one to direct him. Returning to the sentry at the door, he inquired where were the baths.

"The baths?" said the sentinel.

"The prison baths."

"The prison baths," said the sentinel, "are probably in the prison, but you can't get in there."

"What—I can't get into the prison? Am I outside it, then?"

"Why, yes, you're in the street. You ought to know that, I should think."

"I did not know it, I assure you," said M. Guillon, "and this won't suit me at all."

He rang the prison bell and was readmitted, and his recital of his adventure restored to sobriety the turnkey who had given him his freedom.

Freddie's Suggestion.

Freddie's father had just been struggling with an old fashioned bureau, and, retiring disheartened from an unsuccessful effort to open one of its compartments, he moved to the window, and looking out upon the lowering sky he exclaimed, "It's mighty strange that the weather bureau can't give us a change of weather."

"Maybe," shyly interposed Freddie, "they can't open the bureau drawers."—Boston Courier.

Hearty Congratulations.

John Damm of Randolph county, who was married at Point Pleasant last week, was congratulated by the old folks, the telegram saying, "Please accept the congratulations of the whole Damm family."—Parkersburg State Journal.

CARNIVAL OF SPORT.

GRAND EXHIBITION OF GYMNASTIC AND ATHLETIC EVENTS.

Professor A. A. Stagg Has Planned It For March 5 — To Be Held at Tattersalls' Western College and School Teams to Compete—All Kinds of Contests.

A carnival of athletic and gymnastic events, the first of its kind among American educational institutions—this is what Professor A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago has planned for the afternoon and evening of March 5 next. Three big meets are to be rolled into one. Gymnastics and athletics among college teams are for the first time to be seen together; college indoor championships are to be determined; high schools and preparatory schools will struggle among themselves for honors. It will be an exhibition of wrestling, tumbling, fencing and other exercises which have never been considered intercollegiate in the west.

The question of holding the gymnastic carnival has been in the air since the instructors of gymnastics in the big western colleges met in Chicago last June. During the football season these men met again and decided that their meet would be in February. While given under their supervision it was decided that the University of Chicago should make all the arrangements and be financially responsible. The affair since then has been in the hands of a special committee of the Chicago board of physical culture.

This committee found when the ground was canvassed that the public interest is not yet up to the point where a meet of gymnastics alone would be appreciated. Then came the idea of uniting with the gymnastics the annual University of Chicago invitation indoor meet. When it was found that Tattersalls', since the destruction of the Coliseum, was the best place to hold such a carnival, it was decided that on the afternoon of the day of the carnival a high school and preparatory school meet would be advisable.

The advantages which Tattersalls' possesses for such a carnival are many, according to Mr. Stagg. The floor is 290 by 110 feet and of the best hard wood, which has been so worked with pumice stone and rosin that it could hardly be better for running purposes. Down the center there is place for a 75 yard straightaway dash, and the track is an eight lap one. The turns which will be used on the track in the meet of March 5 will be made under the special supervision of Mr. Stagg. They will be built on mathematical principles after the manner of the track in the varsity gymnasium. So accurately will the curves be made that the lanes of cord which separate the men in the long dash can be run around them. A string of boxes will be put on the floor and one in the balcony, and the place is so large that every spectator will be able to see the whole floor all the time.

According to the rules of the meet, which are novel in many ways, no college can enter a team of more than ten men in either gymnastics or athletics. It may be that no school will be allowed to enter less than ten in the athletic meet. Medals are to be given for firsts, seconds and thirds and a banner to the winning team in each branch of the tournament.

In gymnastics the list of events numbers nine. In the following five there are two set events and a choice of one—parallel bars, horizontal bar, side horse, long horse and rings. In tumbling and Indian clubs everything is at the choice of the contestant, and of course there are no set events in wrestling and fencing. Six schools will send teams to enter in this tourney—the state universities of Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan, Northwestern university and the University of Chicago.

There are 11 events in the athletic meet—75 yard dash, straightaway; 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, mile run, mile walk, 75 yard high hurdle, shot put, running high jump, pole vault and team race. All the colleges entered in the carnival, with others, will have teams in the athletic meet. The race between such entrants will be the most exciting intercollegiate event the west has known.

The University of Wisconsin has already selected her men for the athletic meet. They are: Maybury, Phil Fox and McGowan in the dashes; E. T. Fox in the quarter, Slocum and Donkle in the runs, O'Dea in the hurdles, Cochems in the shot put and Mason and Frame in the jump.—Chicago Times-Herald.

At Anson's Expense.

One of the stories told about Adrian Anson relates to successive visits to Pittsburg and Louisville. At Pittsburg the Chicago players stopped at the Alleghany House and at Louisville at the Louisville hotel. On arriving at Pittsburg the team insisted on having a bus to the hotel. Anson growled a little, but finally took a seat with the others. "All aboard!" shouted the driver as the platform man closed the door at the rear of the vehicle. Then followed a ride of 60 feet by actual measurement across the street, where the bus was backed up and the attendant shouted: "Alleghany House. All out!" The players thought it was a good joke and laughed at the old man's expense as he reluctantly paid the bill. A few days later, when the team arrived at Louisville, the same performance was gone through with, the only difference being that the distance to the hotel was several hundred feet.—New York Sun.

STORIES OF THE DAY.

Some Interesting Chat About Public Men In Washington.

"Dinner giving and dinner going are the mildest and most charming forms of dissipation." This is the opinion of Senator Elkins, and surely there is none better qualified to judge.

Blessed with a goodly portion of this world's wealth, but still more happy in the possession of a genial temperament and a good digestion, Senator Elkins likes nothing better than to gather a congenial company around his table. He is such a clever conversationalist and has such a fund of stories that his company is in constant demand at other people's dinners. Indeed this problem of dining has become a serious one with Senator Elkins. He thinks that as a busy man he ought not to give more than three nights a week to dinners. The invitations, however, are so numerous that the popular senator will have to enlarge his limit.

The handsome, curly locks of Senator McLaurin of South Carolina have disappeared. Instead of Hyperion ringlets clustering on his head there blooms a covering of pompadourian hair, which gives the senator a croppy look. All this is due to the fact that while Mr. McLaurin was ill the ruthless barber plied his shears.

McLaurin, by the way, is one of the most athletic men in the senate. He is young, well built and active. When he was a student at the University of Virginia, he was the leader in athletic sports and was an especially good boxer. It was related the other day that at one time young McLaurin was found by some students thrashing a big bully until the man cried aloud for mercy.

"What's the matter, Mac?" asked his friends.

"Nothing," replied the future senator, "except that this fellow was abusing a little lame boy out here, and I thought I would teach him a lesson."

Some men like to trace their ancestry back to kings. Senator Clark of Wyoming is proud that his father was a blacksmith.

"I was reared in a home of toil," said the senator in a speech a day or two ago. "I was reared in a family where the father day by day, year in and year out for nearly half a century wiped the sweat off his brow over the glowing forge and provided food and clothing and shelter for the family and an ordinary education for the boys and girls by the never ceasing ring of the blacksmith's hammer."

To many visitors at the capitol Senator Davis of Minnesota is pointed out as being the double of the late Ben Butler, and there is no doubt that the likeness is very striking. There are, however, many marked resemblances among the public men in Washington. Interstate Commerce Commissioner Yeomans has features very much like the late George M. Pullman; Lawrence Gardner was frequently taken for Grover Cleveland, and Colonel Nick Smith, Greeley's son-in-law, very much resembles Senator Walthall. The latest prominent instance is Colonel Howard Saxby of Cincinnati, who doubles John Addison Porter, secretary to the president. The resemblance is really marvelous. As Colonel Saxby stepped off his private car at the Pennsylvania depot the other day he was approached by a newspaper reporter, who asked him if the president's relations with Foraker had changed since the culmination of the Hanna episode.

"I am sure I don't know anything about either the president or Senator Foraker," said Colonel Saxby.

"Are you not Mr. Porter?"

"Almost, but not quite," said the Ohio valley magnate. "I wish I were as good a man."

Representative Sperry of Connecticut is probably the last survivor of the gentlemen who were closely associated in the construction of the famous Monitor that fought with the Merrimac in Hampton Roads. The three builders of the "Yankee cheese box" were John Ericsson, a Swede, known the world over as the inventor; Cornelius S. Bushnell of New Haven, and John A. Griswold of Troy, N. Y., the last two being interested with Mr. Ericsson as part owners. Mr. Bushnell and Mr. Sperry were close friends, and the latter went on Mr. Bushnell's bond for $200,000. It should be borne in mind—what is not generally known by students of American history—that the Monitor was owned by private parties and not by the government when she fought the historic battle.

The three gentlemen named were authorized by the government to build the Monitor, and if she was able to do what was promised the government had agreed to purchase her. There was a great deal of skepticism about the craft, but the government advanced some money for her construction, and for that reason the builders were required to give bond for the return of the money if the boat was a failure.

Mr. Sperry remembers vividly the day of the battle, for the failure of the Monitor meant more to him than disaster to the Federals. It would have taken every dollar of his property to satisfy the government bond.—Washington Post.

The Society Girl.

She sighed a little nervous sigh,
She said, "I'll rest me by and by,"
And then she girded up her stays
And sought again those devious ways
That mark to such a large extent
The hours that lead us on to Lent.

She went to luncheon at the B's,
She played at euchre at the C's,
She sipped the "tea" at Mrs. A's,
She dined in state at Mrs. J's,
She joined the "box" of Mrs. I,
And then she lunched with Mrs. Y,
And when the dainty feast was o'er
She staid and danced till after four.

"Another day," she gasped, "is blent
With these that down the highway went.
I hope I will survive till Lent!"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div.

Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time.

Through Coaches on Trains 336, 359, 337 and 360 between Cleveland and Bellaire.

Westward.	335	337	339	341	359
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM
Pittsburgh lv.	†5 45	†1 30	†4 30	*11 00	†7 30
Rochester "	6 40	2 15	5 25	11 50	8 17
Beaver "	6 45	2 20	5 33	11 55	8 24
Vanport "	6 50	.....	5 38	11 59	8 29
Industry "	7 00	.....	5 50	12 10	8 41
Cooks Ferry "	7 03	.....	5 55	12 11	8 45
Smiths Ferry "	7 11	2 40	6 04	12 20	8 54
East Liverpool "	7 20	2 49	6 14	12 30	9 05
Wellsville ar.	7 33	3 00	6 28	12 40	9 15
Wellsville lv.	7 42	3 05		12 45
Wellsville Shop "	7 46	.....		12 50
Yellow Creek "	7 52	.....		12 55
Hammondsville "	8 00	.....		†1 03
Irondale "	8 04	3 22		†1 06
Salineville "	8 19	3 38		1 27
Bayard "	8 57	4 10		2 05
Alliance ar.	9 30	4 33		2 30
Alliance lv.	10 05	4 38		2 35
Ravenna "	10 40	5 06		3 10
Hudson "	11 02	5 25		3 30
Cleveland ar.	12 10	6 25		4 30
Wellsville lv.	7 47	3 10	6 55	†5 55	†11 02
Wellsville Shop "	7 52	3 13	6 58	5 59	11 05
Yellow Creek "	7 57	3 18	7 04	6 05	11 10
Port Homer "	†9 03	†3 23	†7 09	†6 09
Empire "	8 10	3 28	7 14	6 17	11 21
Elliottsville "	†8 17	3 33	7 18	6 21	11 25
Toronto "	8 21	3 38	7 23	6 30	11 28
Costonia "	†8 28	†3 43	7 30	6 37
Steubenville ar.	8 44	4 00	7 45	6 55	11 45
Steubenville lv.	8 44	4 00	7 45	6 55	11 45
Mingo Jc "	8 51	4 10	7 53	7 05	†1 3
Brilliant "	8 58	4 20	8 00	7 14	12 01
Rush Run "	9 07	4 32	8 09	7 24	12 10
Portland "	9 14	4 39	8 15	7 30	12 16
Yorkville "	†9 19	†4 46	†8 20	7 37	12 21
Martins Ferry "	9 32	5 01	8 33	7 52	12 28
Bridgeport "	9 40	5 10	8 35	7 58	12 35
Bellaire ar.	9 50	5 20	8 45	8 10	12 45
	AM	PM	PM	AM	PM

Eastward.	340	336	338	360	48
	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM
Bellaire lv.	†4 45	†9 00	†4 45	†11 00	†2 45
Bridgeport "	4 53	9 09	4 54	1 10	2 55
Martins Ferry "	5 01	9 15	5 02	1 16	3 05
Yorkville "	†5 10	.....	5 12	.....	†3 15
Portland "	5 15	9 28	5 19	1 23	3 22
Rush Run "	5 20	9 33	5 24	.....	3 30
Brilliant "	5 28	9 41	5 34	1 42	3 42
Mingo Jc "	5 35	9 48	5 41	1 50	3 51
Steubenville ar.	5 44	9 55	5 50	1 58	4 00
Steubenville lv.	5 44	9 56	5 50	1 58	4 00
Costonia "	†6 00	10 12			†4 15
Toronto "	6 07	10 19	6 11	2 19	4 20
Elliottsville "	6 11	10 20			†4 24
Empire "	6 13	10 30	6 21	2 27	4 27
Port Homer "	†6 20	10 33			4 37
Yellow Creek "	6 26	10 40	6 33		4 44
Wellsville Shop "	6 31	10 45	6 33		4 50
Wellsville ar.	†6 35	10 50	†6 41	2 45	4 55
Wellsville lv.	7 42			3 05
Wellsville Shop "	7 46
Yellow Creek "	7 52
Hammondsville "	8 00
Irondale "	8 04			3 22
Salineville "	8 19			3 38
Bayard "	8 57			4 10
Alliance ar.	9 30			4 33
Alliance lv.	10 05			4 38
Ravenna "	10 40			5 06
Hudson "	11 02			5 25	342
Cleveland ar.	12 10			6 25	AM
Wellsville lv.	6 45	11 00	6 51	3 10	*3 50
East Liverpool "	6 57	11 10	7 00	3 20	4 01
Smiths Ferry "	7 07	11 20	7 08	3 30	4 12
Cooks Ferry "	7 20	11 26		†3 38	†4 20
Industry "	7 25	11 31	7 22	3 42	4 26
Vanport "	7 34	11 40		3 53	†4 38
Beaver "	7 40	11 45	7 36	3 58	4 43
Rochester "	7 50	11 50	7 42	4 12	4 50
Pittsburgh ar.	8 50	12 40	8 30	5 10	5 40
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Nos. 338 and 342 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with thro' trains East.

†Daily Except Sunday. *Daily. |Meals.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 341 and 342, and Parlor Cars on Nos 337 and 338 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations.

Nos. 335 and 337 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 337 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-28-97.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

Exclusive Agency for the Celebrated Air Cushion Rubber Stamps.

THE NEWS REVIEW

WANTED

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. Inquire 345 West Market street.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE--THREE LOTS IN BRADSHAW addition fronting Chester street. Charles McGregor, real estate agent, Wellsville.

FOR SALE:--LOT 30x100, FOUR ROOMED house and stable, situated in Hellana. Price $800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln Avenue.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—A FINE OFFICE ROOM IN the Blackmore block, corner of Sixth and East Market streets. Room now occupied by Robert Foutts. Rent reasonable. Apply to Mrs. Blackmore, East Market street.

FOR RENT—TWO VERY DESIRABLE furnished rooms, in splendid location. For full particulars, apply at this office. References required and insisted upon.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bonafide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The cold weather caused a slight increase in business at the office of the township trustees.

W. E. Wells, who is very ill at his home in the Thompson place, is somewhat improved today.

John Daily, of Gardendale, purchased a fast driving horse yesterday afternoon from a farmer living near Chester.

Rev. C. E. Stephenson, of Wellsville, will preach at the Methodist Protestant church in this city tonight and tomorrow night.

The senior mechanics will not celebrate Washington's birthday, but will attend the meeting given by the Daughters of Liberty.

John Banks, for several years agent of the Pan Handle company at Penrith was in the city today on business. He came from Steubenville.

Yesterday was payday at Irondale, and as usual a number of agents left for that place this morning. Most of them will return home this evening.

During the last ten days very few representatives of foreign railroads have been in the city. Local railroad men are expecting them soon in a bunch.

Elsie Boice, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time, left this morning for a few weeks' stay with friends in the country near Salineville.

Conductor Vallin Scott, who runs on the early Pittsburg train from Bellaire, is off duty on account of illness. Conductor J. Duffy was on the run this morning.

The Samuel Clark and the Mount Clare passed the city at noon today, having in tow many barges of coal. They are two of the largest tows to go south on the present rise.

Another successful revival service was held in the Christian church last night. Reverend Reed and Reverend Pike gave interesting talks, and several converts were the result.

The plans for the new Citizens' National bank are expected in this city not later than next Wednesday. As soon as the weather opens the work of building will be commenced.

A. T. Ward, representing a large manufacturing concern in Detroit, Mich., was in the city today and let the contract for the erection of a storage building. Work will be commenced at once.

As soon as the river falls several feet Edwin Schneider will begin the work of raising a sunken sand barge a short distance below the wharfboat. It has been under water for several months.

The Twin City Football club will meet in city hall in the near future to organize for next season. Several new players will no doubt be secured, and some games with Wellsville will be arranged at a later date.

A one-sided fight occurred last evening in an uptown pool room. Two well-known young men engaged in an argument which ended by one of them being knocked down, and before the argument could be continued spectators interferred.

Senator Dodge has introduced a bill amending the game laws. It fixes the time for killing snipe, plover and killder plover from Aug. 15 to May 15, doves from Aug. 15 to Dec. 15, and partridge and ruffled grouse from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15.

The police are still on the lookout for the thieves who stole a lot of wire from the street railroad company. Enough evidence has been secured against several who were under suspicion, and an arrest or so, it is thought, will be made within a few days.

The remains of Mrs. Richard Robertson, who died at her home in Avondale street last night, from the effects of typhoid fever, will be taken to Georgetown for burial tomorrow. Deceased was 21 years old and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cornell.

A prominent business man, who has been interested in a number of projects for the advancement of East Liverpool, stated today that an announcement of the greatest importance to the city would soon be made. He was not prepared to say what it was, but was very positive that the project would be carried out.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO.

The Yearly Sale of Muslin Underwear

Saturday, February 19th,

CONTINUES ONE WEEK.

NIGHT ROBES.

WHITE SKIRTS.

CORSET COVERS.

DRAWERS.

CHILDREN'S DRAWERS AND GOWNS.

WE invite you to attend this sale whether ready to buy or not. We believe we have the most complete and cheapest line of Muslin Underwear ever offered in East Liverpool.

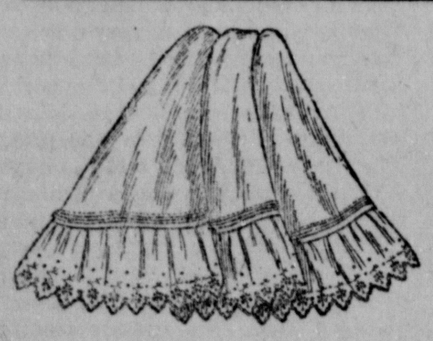

Night Robes.

ONE of the strongest features of the sale will be the Night Robe offerings. It's easy to prove the bargains. Suppose you get a full, generous pattern, figure out the cost of material, trimmings, time and sewing worry, then compare your total with any similar garment in this stock, you'll be astonished at the saving there is in the ready to wear garments as we sell them. Night Robes of cambric, muslin, or long cloth, any price from 39c up to $3.50 each. Especially strong lines at 59c, 69c, 75c and $1 each, there being ten styles to select from at the one price, $1.

CORSET COVERS.

WE think you'll agree that these corset covers are excellent values when you see them and consider the good workmanship, good materials and small prices. Some of these will hardly last the sale out. Plain cambric corset covers at 17c and 25c each. Corset covers, cambric, pearl buttons, lace trimmed, good fitting, well made, 25c each. Other priced corsets covers, 39c, 50c, 69c, 75c and $1 each.

Long White Skirts.

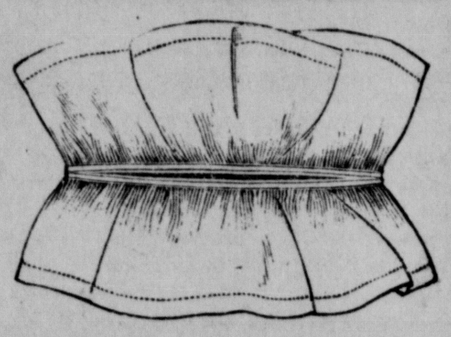

ALL made of good cotton or fine cambric, trimmed as you would order them made by your own home seamstress; price at about cost of bare material. A good plain muslin skirt at 42c. Skirt, good quality muslin, with 9 inch lawn ruffle, good width, at 75c each. Skirt of cambric, 18 inch lawn flounce, two rows lace insertion, one of the best values in the line, $1.25 each. Other priced skirts, $1.50, $2, $2.25, $3 and $5 each. Short white skirts, 39, 50, 75 and 90c each.

DRAWERS.

ALL styles and qualities, at the following prices: 25, 39, 45, 50, 75 and $1 per pair.

The above is a cut of one of our leaders, cambric finish, umbrella style,

25c Per Pair.

No. 2801 is made of cambric, wide hemstitched lawn ruffle.

Price, 45c Per Pair.

Children's drawers, 12½ and 25c per pair. Children's gowns cheaper than you can make them.

Sale Begins Saturday Feb. 19

and continues one week.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

To Suit All Eyes.

That's the way we have glasses. There are no two eyes alike. Even your eyes are not alike. That's why you should get your glasses here, because we are so particular. Glasses fitted here, look good, feel good and make you see good. They are good because we sell only good glasses. "Cash or credit."

WADE, The Jeweler.

The First National Bank
Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE, W. L. THOMPSON.
J. M. KELLY. O. C. VODREY.
B. C. SIMMS. JNO. C. THOMPSON.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 50,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Accounts

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK,
of East Liverpool, Ohio.

Office Fourth Street,
Near Smith & Phillips Music House.

Capital Stock, $100,000

Discount Days, Monday, Wednesday & Friday.

BUSINESS AND PERSONAL ACCOUNTS Respectfully Solicited.

Bank open: Daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Saturdays open from 8 to 10 p. m.

ROBERT HALL, President.
JOSEPH G. LEE, Vice President.
HEBER H. BLYTH, Cashier.

Board of Directors:--Robert Hall, Joseph G. Lee, Wm. Erlanger, Dr. W. N. Bailey, Robert Burford, Dr. W. A. Hobbs, John W. Vodrey, A. J. Witzeman, John M. Steel.

SEE FRANK FOUTTS

For Loose Olives by the quart or pint. Splendid goods.

Large stock of very choicest oranges.

Maple Syrup 10c a bottle. Fine celery. Revier coffee. Canned lambs' tongue. Pilgrim's canned goods in heavy syrup. Big apples.

Telephone 117-3.

Dr. Geo. D. Arnum,
Surgeon Dentist,
Specialties: Crown and Bridge Work, and Preservation of the Natural Teeth.
Syndicate Bldg., Sixth St.

DYSPEPSIA, Heartburn, Gastritis, and all Stomach Disorders positively cured. Grover Graham's Dyspepsia Remedy is a specific. One dose removes all distress, and a permanent cure of the most chronic and severe cases is guaranteed. Do not suffer! A 50 cent bottle will convince the most skeptical.

BAIRD & SON, Druggists
East End.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bonafide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The cold weather caused a slight increase in business at the office of the township trustees.

W. E. Wells, who is very ill at his home in the Thompson place, is somewhat improved today.

John Daily, of Gardendale, purchased a fast driving horse yesterday afternoon from a farmer living near Chester.

Rev. C. E. Stephenson, of Wellsville, will preach at the Methodist Protestant church in this city tonight and tomorrow night.

The senior mechanics will not celebrate Washington's birthday, but will attend the meeting given by the Daughters of Liberty.

John Banks, for several years agent of the Pan Handle company at Penrith was in the city today on business. He came from Steubenville.

Yesterday was payday at Irondale, and as usual a number of agents left for that place this morning. Most of them will return home this evening.

During the last ten days very few representatives of foreign railroads have been in the city. Local railroad men are expecting them soon in a bunch.

Elsie Boice, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some time, left this morning for a few weeks' stay with friends in the country near Salineville.

Conductor Vallin Scott, who runs on the early Pittsburg train from Bellaire, is off duty on account of illness. Conductor J. Duffy was on the run this morning.

The Samuel Clark and the Mount Clare passed the city at noon today, having in tow many barges of coal. They are two of the largest tows to go south on the present rise.

Another successful revival service was held in the Christian church last night. Reverend Reed and Reverend Pike gave interesting talks, and several converts were the result.

The plans for the new Citizens' National bank are expected in this city not later than next Wednesday. As soon as the weather opens the work of building will be commenced.

A. T. Ward, representing a large manufacturing concern in Detroit, Mich., was in the city today and let the contract for the erection of a storage building. Work will be commenced at once.

As soon as the river falls several feet Edwin Schneider will begin the work of raising a sunken sand barge a short distance below the wharfboat. It has been under water for several months.

The Twin City Football club will meet in city hall in the near future to organize for next season. Several new players will no doubt be secured, and some games with Wellsville will be arranged at a later date.

A one-sided fight occurred last evening in an uptown pool room. Two well-known young men engaged in an argument which ended by one of them being knocked down, and before the argument could be continued spectators interferred.

Senator Dodge has introduced a bill amending the game laws. It fixes the time for killing snipe, plover and killder plover from Aug. 15 to May 15, doves from Aug. 15 to Dec. 15, and partridge and ruffled grouse from Sept. 15 to Dec. 15.

The police are still on the lookout for the thieves who stole a lot of wire from the street railroad company. Enough evidence has been secured against several who were under suspicion, and an arrest or so, it is thought, will be made within a few days.

The remains of Mrs. Richard Robertson, who died at her home in Avondale street last night, from the effects of typhoid fever, will be taken to Georgetown for burial tomorrow. Deceased was 21 years old and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cornell.

A prominent business man, who has been interested in a number of projects for the advancement of East Liverpool, stated today that an announcement of the greatest importance to the city would soon be made. He was not prepared to say what it was, but was very positive that the project would be carried out.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO.

The Yearly Sale of Muslin Underwear

Saturday, February 19th,

CONTINUES ONE WEEK.

NIGHT ROBES.

WHITE SKIRTS.

CORSET COVERS.

DRAWERS.

CHILDREN'S DRAWERS AND GOWNS.

WE invite you to attend this sale whether ready to buy or not. We believe we have the most complete and cheapest line of Muslin Underwear ever offered in East Liverpool.

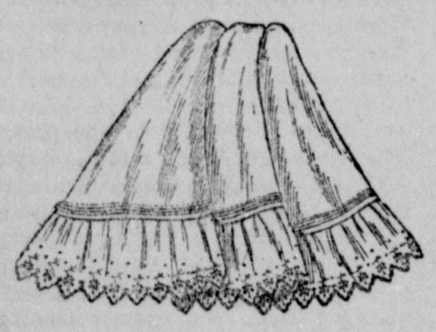

Night Robes.

ONE of the strongest features of the sale will be the Night Robe offerings. It's easy to prove the bargains. Suppose you get a full, generous pattern, figure out the cost of material, trimmings, time and sewing worry, then compare your total with any similar garment in this stock, you'll be astonished at the saving there is in the ready to wear garments as we sell them. Night Robes of cambric, muslin, or long cloth, any price from 39c up to $3.50 each. Especially strong lines at 59c, 69c, 75c and $1 each, there being ten styles to select from at the one price, $1.

CORSET COVERS.

WE think you'll agree that these corset covers are excellent values when you see them and consider the good workmanship, good materials and small prices. Some of these will hardly last the sale out. Plain cambric corset covers at 17c and 25c each. Corset covers, cambric, pearl buttons, lace trimmed, good fitting, well made, 25c each. Other priced corsets covers, 39c, 50c, 69c, 75c and $1 each.

Long White Skirts.

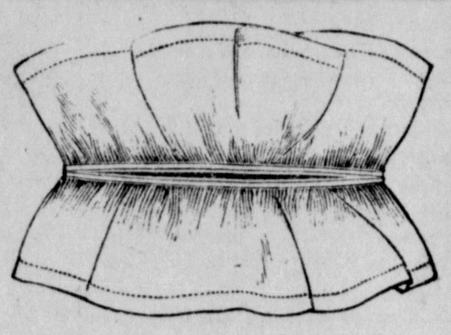

ALL made of good cotton or fine cambric, trimmed as you would order them made by your own home seamstress; price at about cost of bare material. A good plain muslin skirt at 42c. Skirt, good quality muslin, with 9 inch lawn ruffle, good width, at 75c each. Skirt of cambric, 18 inch lawn flounce, two rows lace insertion, one of the best values in the line, $1.25 each. Other priced skirts, $1.50, $2, $2.25, $3 and $5 each. Short white skirts, 39, 50, 75 and 90c each.

DRAWERS.

ALL styles and qualities, at the following prices: 25, 39, 45, 50, 75 and $1 per pair.

The above is a cut of one of our leaders, cambric finish, umbrella style,

25c Per Pair.

No. 2801 is made of cambric, wide hemstitched lawn ruffle.

Price, 45c Per Pair.

Children's drawers, 12½ and 25c per pair. Children's gowns cheaper than you can make them.

Sale Begins Saturday Feb. 19

and continues one week.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

To Suit All Eyes.

That's the way we have glasses. There are no two eyes alike. Even your eyes are not alike. That's why you should get your glasses here, because we are so particular. Glasses fitted here, look good, feel good and make you see good. They are good because we sell only good glasses. "Cash or credit."

WADE, The Jeweler.

The First National Bank

Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE, J. M. KELLY, B. C. SIMMS, W. L. THOMPSON, O. C. VODREY, JNO. C. THOMPSON.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 50,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Accounts

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

CITIZENS' NATIONAL BANK,

of East Liverpool, Ohio.

Office Fourth Street,
Near Smith & Phillips Music House.

Capital Stock, $100,000

Discount Days, Monday, Wednesday & Friday.

BUSINESS AND PERSONAL ACCOUNTS Respectfully Solicited.

Bank open: Daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Saturdays open from 8 to 10 p. m.

ROBERT HALL, President.
JOSEPH G. LEE, Vice President.
HEBER H. BLYTH, Cashier.

Board of Directors:—Robert Hall, Joseph G. Lee, Wm. Erlanger, Dr. W. N. Bailey, Robert Burford, Dr. W. A. Hobbs, John W. Vodrey, A. J. Witzeman, John M. Steel.

SEE FRANK FOUTTS

For Loose Olives by the quart or pint. Splendid goods.

Large stock of very choicest oranges.

Maple Syrup 10c a bottle. Fine celery. Revier coffee. Canned lambs' tongue. Pilgrim's canned goods in heavy syrup. Big apples.

Telephone 117-3.

Dr. Geo. D. Arnum,
Surgeon Dentist,
Specialties: Crown and Bridge Work, and Preservation of the Natural Teeth.
Syndicate Bldg., Sixth St.

DYSPEPSIA, Heartburn, Gastritis, and all Stomach Disorders positively cured. Grover Graham's Dyspepsia Remedy is a specific. One dose removes all distress, and a permanent cure of the most chronic and severe cases is guaranteed. Do not suffer! A 50 cent bottle will convince the most skeptical.

BAIRD & SON, Druggists
East End.